

1—The surrendered German submarines lying at anchor in the harbor of Harwich. 2—Doughboys who returned on the Leviathan showing how the Huns met them with cries of "Kamerad." 3—Former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo congratulating his successor, Carter Glass.

FRENCH CHASSEURS ADVANCING IN BULGARIA

This is one of the first photographs to be received in this country of the Bulgarian defeat. Victorious French Chasseurs have taken off their trousers and are fording the Vardar river in pursuit of the fleeing Bulgarians.

TRANSPORT SIERRA BRINGS WOUNDED SOLDIERS

One of the severely wounded American soldiers that were brought home on the transport Sierra is shown being transferred to the steamer Shinnecock in New York harbor.

WHERE DISABLED YANKEES ARE RECUPERATING

Entrance to the West Baden hotel, West Baden, Ind., which has been taken over by the United States government at an annual rental of $150,000 to be used for the treatment of disabled soldiers. Thousands of wounded fighters will be nursed back to health at this hotel, famous for its mineral springs and baths.

FORMER KAISER IN HOLLAND

This is the first picture received in this country of the arrival of the ex-kaiser at the little railroad station of Eysden in Holland on his way to Count Bentinck's castle at Amerongen, Holland. Wilhelm, marked with a cross, appears in rather a jocular mood.

"LONG LIVE THE ALLIES"

A remarkable photograph of the United States transport Ophir just before she settled beneath the waves in the harbor of Gibraltar, her signal flags saying "Long live the allies." The Ophir, known as the hoodoo ship, because of her numerous encounters with submarines, was on fire for two days while carrying a cargo of TNT and gasoline, and though she sent up signal rockets for help they were not answered, as the ships near by thought that she was celebrating the signing of the armistice, which happened on the day she arrived off the harbor of Gibraltar. Two of her crew lost their lives.

Before the Battle.

Private Corrigan (in dugout, looking up from letter)—It's from me little niece in Cork, Jawm, an' she says she do be stidn' me a pair iv military brushes. Now, what th' divil are them?

Private Costigan (grinning)—Hoot, mon! Sure, they do be thin things the brow highlanders wear danglin' in front iv their kitties.—Buffalo Express.

Unwelcome Informant.

"Do you think children should be told there is no Santa Claus?" "Not in my home," replied Mr. Meekton. "I ventured to advance the myth theory and they gave me such an argument that I wish I had known enough to keep quiet."

FRANCE IN NEED OF AMERICAN COAL

The scarcity of coal is so great throughout France that the French people have appealed to America to send all coal that this country can spare. The children of Paris as soon as they are out of school run to the coal depots and follow the carts through the streets waiting for a piece to roll off.

IN RED CROSS TOY SHOP

In the Jewelry department of the Red Cross Toy Shop, an establishment which has been organized by well-known society people for the sale of various kinds of articles, the proceeds of which will be for the benefit of the American soldiers in this country, many rare articles of jewelry are on sale. The two women in the photograph are Mrs. Joseph Duveen, the well-known opera singer (on the left), and Mrs. Louise Beggs Spoul, a prominent society woman.

Food Value of Fish.

Further evidence that fish deserves a place in every diet was obtained from a recent series of digestion experiments by the United States department of agriculture. These tests furnished scientific proof that fish, which has always been considered a valuable food, is very completely utilized in the body.

In the experiments Boston mackerel, butterfish, salmon and grayfish were made into "fish loaves" and served as a basis of a simple mixed diet to young men of healthy appetites.

Both the protein and the fat of the fish were well utilized. Following are the percentages of protein digested: Boston mackerel, 93.1 per cent; butterfish, 91.9 per cent; grayfish, 92.8 per cent, and salmon, 93.2 per cent. The percentages of fat digested were found to be: Boston mackerel, 95.2 per cent; butterfish, 86.4 per cent; grayfish, 94.3 per cent; salmon, 93.7 per cent.

WHERE YOUR RED CROSS MONEY MAY GO

Returning from Holland to their homes in northern France are these peasants who fled their country when the ravaging German hordes overran their sacred soil. That they may once more have decent places to live in is one of the reasons the American Red Cross is asking everyone to join it.

TO FILL UP OLD GERMAN TRENCHES

This interesting photograph shows a phase in the reconstruction of the territory that has been devastated by the war. These American engineers, in order to fill up old Boche trenches, are pulling down walls that have been battered by shell fire.