School Opens Earlier.

The Board of Education has decided that the best way for the Junior and Senior High Schools to make up the time lost by the P. M. closing is to extend the day. This has proven more satisfactory than holding school on Saturday or running over into the summer. Beginning with Monday, Jan. 20, the morning session will begin at 8:40 and close at noon. The afternoon session will open at 1:15 and close at 4. This adds 35 minutes to the school day and a great deal of work can be done in this time. Some difficulties in adjusting to this new schedule will no doubt come up and they will be worked out as best they can. This whole matter applies only to the Junior and Senior High Schools and not to the Ward Schools.

Notice to Railroad Men.

HARRY DIXON is the U. P. watch inspector. Arrangements with him can be made so that you can buy your R. R. watch on time at the cash price.

School Not Dismissed.

When the Artillery Band from the Sunset Division and the soldiers accompanying it, paraded in front of the High Schools Wednesday, the pupils were dismissed to see the men and hear the music. When the contingent started for the depot a large part of the student body returned to the school and took up their work. Quite a number were carried away by a report that school had been dismissed and followed to the depot. The report was a fake and school was not dismissed.

NO TIME TO WASTE ENERGY
Western Post Offers Good Advice
When He Says, Forget That Bald Patch for the Present.

Lives there a man with soul so dead that never to himself he's said, when the hair on his pate, once thick, began a-looking thin and sick: "I'll put some dope on that there hair and soon have foliage to spare." Lives there a man who has not spent his last red solitary cent for dope the baldhead druggist said would bring more hair upon his head. Nay. Man seeks the far solitude and rubs his shining pate with crude, or rubs a pint of vaseline each night onto his polished bean, rubs all the dope he can afford on to the thing he calls his gourd then to the druggist doth avoirt, and buyeth mange cure by the quart; but all his labor is in vain, he never grows another mane. Man that is born of woman is of few hairs and a funny phiz. He thinketh in his bosom he would look young as he used to be if he could on his poll grown bare contrive another crop of hair. Oh man! O bifurcated gent! don't chase the hair that lofz has went. That biz is playunish biz. Use all the energy that is, and all of your hair money for the winning of this dreadful war. In this here war game don't you know you should be in the baldhead row.—Judd Mortimer Lewis, in Houston Post.

OFFICER HOAGLAND'S PRISONER GIVES HIM THE SLIP.

The Tribune was a little premature in stating that Officer Hoagland had arrived from Illinois with his prisoner Haynes. Hoagland did arrive, but he was minus the man, for the latter gave him the slip. Haynes was taken in custody at Galesburg, Ill., and Hoagland led him from jail handcuffed, to the hotel where Haynes' wife and two children were stopping, as it was the intention of Mrs. Haynes to accompany her husband back to this city and "clear him of the charge." The worldly possessions of the Haynes were packed in five suit cases, and upon promise of Haynes to "be good," the handcuffs were removed in order that he might assist in carrying the suit cases across the street to the depot and into the car. Believing that Haynes would not attempt to jump from a moving train Hoagland allowed him to sit in a seat with his family without being handcuffed, and he, Hoagland, took a seat a short distance away with his back to the family. All went well until near Burlington, Ia., when the train slowed down to about twenty miles an hour. Hoagland looked around and casually noticed Haynes hat and coat and thought his prisoner still in the seat. A moment later he had a "bunch" to investigate and upon doing so found Haynes gone. His wife professed innocence of his get-a-way, the train was searched but no Haynes could be found; he had jumped from the train while it was in motion hatless and coatless. Upon reaching the first stop Hoagland wired back to the last town passed to watch for Haynes, which was about all he could do under the circumstances. When the train reached Lincoln Mrs. Haynes concluded she would remain in Lincoln instead of coming to North Platte, but later it was found she had purchased a ticket for Springfield, Mo. It is probable Haynes will join her there, and the officers of that city have been wired to watch for him.

A White Man Sold to the Highest Bidder for One Dollar.

J. Warren Kerrigan will be seen on the screen of the SUN Theatre in his latest Paralta Play, "One Dollar Bid," which is a screen adaptation of Crede Harris' romantic novel of the Kentucky hills which was published a few years ago under the title of "Toby."

The story offers exceptional opportunity for the kind of work in which Mr. Kerrigan has achieved his foremost successes. Early in the action of the play, he is seen as the young man of refinement who has sunk to the lowest ebb, cast aside by the whites, he lives in a negro hut, no one knowing or caring who he is or from whence he came. As the story develops, he rises under the influence of a girl of high ideals until at last he becomes one of the dominating factors of the town which had shunned him as an outcast.

The entire theme is interwoven with strong situations and romantic moments, to all of which Mr. Kerrigan brings with that charm of manner which has been responsible for his phenomenal success as a delineator of screen types.

The production was made at the Brunton studios in Hollywood, California, under the direction of Ernest C. Wardo, who has surrounded Mr. Kerrigan with a capable supporting cast, including Miss Lois Wilson, who has captivated the hearts of her audiences, appearing as leading lady opposite Mr. Kerrigan in his many former successes. Among others in the cast are Joseph J. Dowling, Clifford Alexander, Arthur Allardt, Leatrice Joy and Elvira Well.

The Tried Sows are mostly sired by Orphan Bob 90173 by the Big Orphan 63348, some of them sired by Jumbo Chief 80512 by Moaws Double Chief 77098. The Fall Gilts are sired by Star Victor 84409 by Nebraska Ben Amazon 74110. The Spring Gilts are sired by Extra Wonder 88380, by Extra Long 69044. I have bought my breeding stock out of such herds as J. E. Smatlan, Schuyler; Phil Dawson, Endicott; and La Vern A. Ball, Albion. They are bred to Fancy Big Bone by Giant Big Bone Prospect, others are bred by Long Boy by Nebraska Boy. Others are bred to Timms Prospect owned by La Vern A. Ball. All of our hogs will be catalogued. Bids may be mailed to Jesse Johnson Lincoln, or A. W. Thompson, York, Nebr., in our care.

General Remarks:

Will say that we are offering as good a bunch of Brood Sows as a map will look at. Some of our tried sows will come into the ring weighing 600 pounds or better. We are offering some exceptional good Fall Gilts that will go out, make good, bred right and good in every way. Our Spring Gilts coming just fine, they are late farrow but in good thrifty condition, growing like weeds. Our hogs are not loaded down with flesh, just in a pink growing condition. All of our hogs are cholera immune, double treatment.
