When a great writer produces a new masterpiece the whole reading world rushes to get copies of it. It is the talk of every book reading center. A like feeling comes when we speak of William Farnum's latest photoplay masterpiece "The Rainbow Trail." It is the sequel to "The Riders of the Purple Sage" which pleased people so greatly when it was shown here. "The Rainbow Trail" goes on with the life of little Fay and while those who saw the "Purple Sage" will enjoy this picture yet it is so built that any one will enjoy it. "The Rainbow Trail" will be shown at the Keith Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 29-30.

Would Try the Guilty.

Paris.—American delegates to the peace conference are considering the matter of bringing to justice those men who were responsible for bringing about the world war. The delegates favor such action, one that will make none immune, from the Kaiser down.

It is understood that President Wilson is in sympathy with the movement and that he feels something must be done in this direction.

The plan proposed is that a careful investigation be made of pre-war conditions and it be definitely determined if any man or group of men deliberately brought about the war then to bring such men up for military trial.

SOLDIERS WELCOME ARCH IS FORMALLY DEDICATED.

The soldiers' welcome arch erected to the boys who are returning from service and as a temporary monument to those who made the supreme sacrifice, was dedicated Tuesday evening in the presence of a large crowd of spectators. With the columns inscribed with the names of nearly nine hundred Lincoln county boys who entered the service, with a life size buffalo surmounting the arch, with eagles prominently displayed, lavishly decorated with the national colors, lighted with a myriad of electric bulbs and "Welcome Home" emphasized, the arch presented a very pretty appearance and reflected credit on the designer C. C. Hupfer. Members of the G. A. R., returned soldiers and sailors, high school cadets, the band and drum corps and others assembled at the court house and marched north on Dewey street to the arch. After selections by the band and drum corps, Leigh Carroll, chairman of the soldiers' home welcome committee, told of the purpose of this committee appointed by the Red Cross, the work it had done and what it hoped could be accomplished in the future. At the close of his remarks, he introduced Rev. Franklin Koch who welcomed home the boys who have so far returned, spoke of the splendid accomplishments of the American troops overseas, what we owe the men and the need of loyalty to our government. J. T. Keefe, a returned soldier, spoke in behalf of the boys who have returned, and expressed appreciation of the work the women and men at home performed. He told of camp experience to the amusement of the crowd.

The names of the soldiers and sailors on the arch are not quite complete, and those who know of omissions will confer a favor by communicating with C. C. Hupfer.

Fire Big Damaged Case.

Attorneys John Grant and Wm. E. Shuman, of this city, have just filed a damage suit against the Union Pacific Railroad Company for $50,000 on behalf of Luella Gammill, as administratrix of the estate of her husband, Albert J. Gammill. The suit was filed in Buffalo county where the widow resides. The deceased was formerly a resident of Lincoln county and was employed by the Union Pacific at Kearney, Nebraska, and was working about the coal-chute when a string of cars was pushed against an empty car in the chute causing it to be set in motion and to run over and kill Mr. Gammill. This occurred on April 25, 1918.

VanNatta Found Guilty.

Wm. VanNatta, charged with violating the chastity of his fourteen year old daughter, was found guilty by a district court jury Wednesday. The case is one of the most revolting in the history of the county, the evidence showing that VanNatta began his illicit relationship with his daughter a short time after the death of VanNatta's wife and continued regularly. The penalty for the crime is from one to twenty years, in the penitentiary. Sentence has not yet been pronounced by Judge Grimes.

Pantry Special, Friday and Saturday 25c Cocoa 19c. REXALL STORE.

The Tribune man does not remember a year when farm sales were as numerous in the section tributary to North Platte as this year. As a general rule these sales are for the purpose of "cleaning up," the parties holding the sales having accumulated more stock than they care to handle.

Miss Vera Warrington will return from Long Beach, Cal., early in February and re-open her art store.

If the name of your relative or friend does not appear on the welcome arch, don't fault the committee who labored for two or three months in attempting to secure a correct list of the boys in service; just give the name to C. C. Hupfer and it will be added.
