

What Do Folks Think When You Squint?

The little ones ask their mother, "What makes Mr. Jones look so funny?"

Older folks think, "He will ruin his eyes. He ought to get glasses."

If you only realized how much comfort and satisfaction properly fitted glasses bring—how much they benefit sight and health—you would come to Clinton's today to have your eyes examined, and have the proper glasses made for you to preserve and protect vision.

BIG SALE WILL END SATURDAY.

The Leader Co's Big Store—Wide Clearance Sale Sale Will End.

THOUSANDS ATTEND SALE.

Last Days Expected To Fill Store To Capacity With People From All Over This Section of Nebraska

"Just as all good things come to an end, so does this store-wide clearance sale," said J. E. Nelson, manager of The Leader Mercantile Co.

"In some ways its a matter of regret to us," went on Mr. Nelson. "While we anticipated a big sale because of the values offered, it has proven far larger than expectations."

"People have come from all over this section of Nebraska. Mail orders have poured in from all over this section of the state from those not being able to come on account of conditions of roads. We have received orders from as far out as Wyoming and there is just one reason for this: The Buying Public has put this sale and our advertised work to the test and proven the sincerity of both."

"For this reason we expect the last days and Saturday, the last big day to be exceptional, because Monday morning following prices will resume their proper levels on nearly all goods now on sale."

"It never happened in the Mercantile History of North Platte, a sale of so broad a scope," concluded Mr. Nelson, "and I don't know when conditions will be such as to make it possible for another. For that reason every family who can come to North Platte any of the last days or Saturday should be here and take advantage of the really unusual opportunity offered."

Tells of Brother's Death.
Thos. E. Burgner is in receipt of the following letter:

"In reply to your letter of Nov. 26th, will say that your brother joined my company after I left for France last August and died before I returned to it early in November. Upon inquiry I find that you have every reason to be proud of him. My lieutenant reports that he was always a loyal and true soldier and was really loved by his comrades. He died of pneumonia October 29th, at the army hospital at Montfort, France. To the best of my knowledge he is also buried there. You will be notified of the exact number and location of his grave later. I am extremely sorry that I can give you no more definite information than this and extend to you my heartfelt sympathy in your bereavement."

Yours truly,
M. W. RICHARDS,
Captain U. S. Infantry.

Change Date of Meetings.
An arrangement has been perfected whereby the Evangelistic meetings to be conducted by Mr. H. G. Knowles at the Christian church have been changed from the month of March to May. Under the arrangement Mr. Knowles goes to Phoenix, Ariz., for March. The church has called Mr. Wallace Tuttle as choir director. Mr. Tuttle is a man of rare qualifications as song leader and specialist.

PARIS CREATIONS WORN BY STOREY IN NEW PLAY.

The radical change from the rough and ready clothes of a logging camp to the filmy and dainty creations from a Paris atelier, was the experience of Nan McDonald, played by Edith Storey in "The Silent Woman," which will be the attraction at the SUN Theatre Wednesday.

The story opens in a Hudson Bay trading post in the Great Northwest with the heroine an out-door girl, fond of all athletic sports and whose best dress consist of a simple blouse and skirt. Fate draws her into the life of a family from the east and through them she goes to New York. Here she is transformed into a woman of the latest mode and charm and her clothes are of the most expensive that money can buy. Entering into the character of the play Miss Storey is equally attractive as the breezy little backwoods girl and the transformed woman of fashion.

The play is one which gives this charming actress full scope for her noted emotional powers and the romance which runs through the plot furnishes a delightful vein of sentiment which is beautifully brought out by this clever player.

This camp-fire has been organized since last October and most of the girls have almost fulfilled all the requirements to become wood-gatherers, the first honor to be acquired in campfire. The campfire is planning to camp out for a week or two next summer, and in order to defray expenses, will hold candy sale, from time to time.

Battles in the air, on the earth and under the waters will be waged between Boreas, master of storms, and Annette Kellerman, "Queen of the Sea," at the SUN Theatre for TWO days, beginning Thursday. Sensational swimming and high-diving feats, for which Miss Kellerman is internationally famous, are combined with the genuinely dramatic story, which brings fairy-lore right up to date with the latest destructive appliances on land and sea. In the big scene Miss Kellerman dives 85 feet from a high wire.
