BATTLE SCENES DEPICTED IN "HEARTS OF THE WORLD."

"Hearts of the World," D. W. Griffith's supreme achievement is a love story the many of the episodes were taken in France on the immediate battle fields.

Noyon and Ham, scenes of terrific fighting, were used by the Griffith forces as background for many wonderfully sweet love scenes. The front line trenches around Noyon and Ham, then but eight miles in the rear, are seen in the great production.

The quiet winding main street of Noyon, that peaceful village in Picardy where Griffith starts his romance is now battered and deserted. But when Griffith and his stars, Robert Harron, Dorothy Gish and Lillian Gish, first arrived it had survived two weeks of Hun; one going toward Paris, and the other going toward Berlin. Griffith came after the receding tide. The Germans had not anticipated it and seemed to have prepared to stay all winter and summer. There is something strange about the Germans according to Griffith; they seem to crave anything French, no matter how small its value they will risk their lives for it.

Many scenes were made at Compeigne, France, toward Paris from Noyon, and some on the British line. All, however, were made under the auspices of the British war office.

"Hearts of the World" is announced for Feb. 13-14-15 at the KEITH Theatre.

The glorious musical score specially written for the production and interpreted by a splendid special orchestra will add largely to the charm of the entertainment.

YOU'LL LIKE BARBARA CASLETON IN WORLD-PICTURE "JUST SYLVIA."

It is a Peach of a Picture—Johnny Hines appears as her leading man. You'll like Barbara Castleton in "Just Sylvia," the World-Picture which TONIGHT will be shown at the SUN Theatre. You'll like her because she is pretty and charming and you'll like her because the picture she is in is a peach. And you'll also like this picture because Johnny Hines, who is certainly there as a laugh maker, appears in support of Miss Castleton as her leading man.

The story told in "Just Sylvia" is interesting and different. It tells of the experiences in the east of Zebulon Hicks, his wife an dson, after the discovery of ore on the Hicks farm makes them rich. Henry, the son, meets and falls in love with a young lady known as the Countess "Bonnet." But while Mrs. Hicks is delighted at the prospect of having a title in the family, Father Hicks is much agitated because he had met the girl a few weeks previously when she was employed as a model in a dress-making establishment.

The manner in which the "countess" is exposed and the way in which she exposes some imposters who have been imposing on the Hicks family and the surprising manner in which her own amazing identity is finally established, all go to make a corking good picture.

"Just Sylvia" will please you and entertain you. It is different and delightful. This is a picture you should not miss. See it.

FLU IS DYING OUT SAYS PHYSICIAN REDFIELD.

"With but two cases in the detention hospital, and but ten houses under quarantine, the flu is dying out in North Platte," said City Physician Redfield last evening. "At points both east and west of us," continued Dr. Redfield, "the disease has apparently had its run, and even with the comparatively few cases in this city, I think it safe to say that we will not be troubled with it much longer. Certain it is that not since the disease first developed has there been so few cases in North Platte as at present."

North Platte people will be glad to learn that conditions in town show such marked improvement and that present indications point to a near termination of an epidemic that has caused much suffering and anxiety and many deaths in city and county.
