

SCENES OF WARFARE AND PEACE IN GERMANY

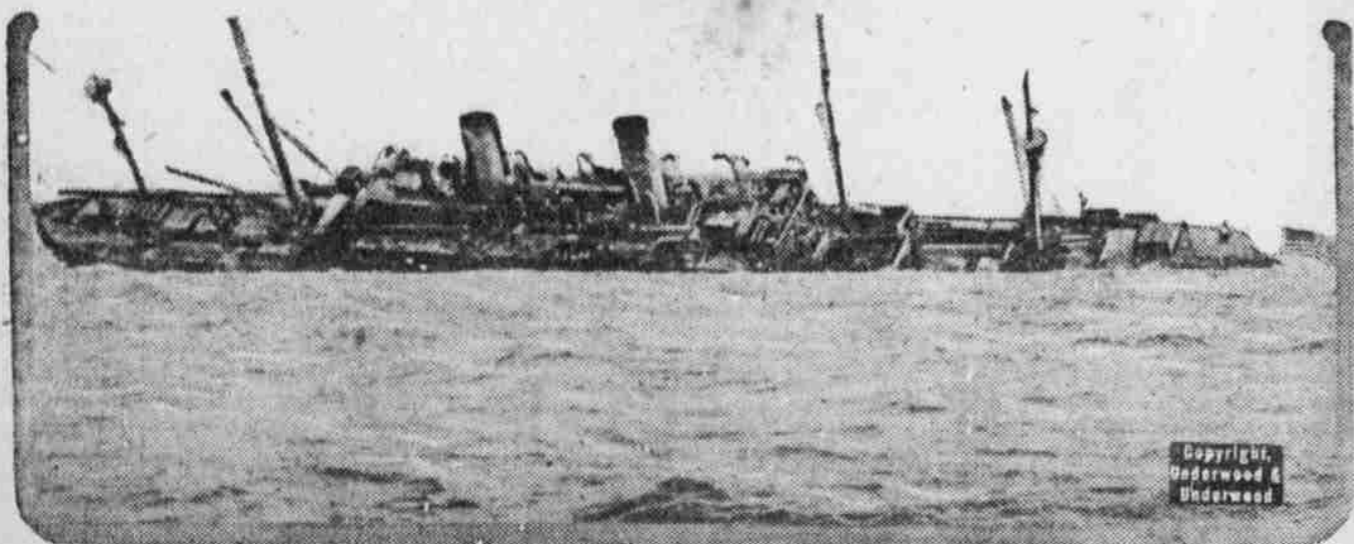

1—Civilians in Berlin being searched by soldiers for concealed weapons. 2—Crowds in the street fleeing to escape the rain of bullets during the fighting with the Spartacists. 3—Government soldiers firing from behind a barricade. 4—Scene at a polling station in Landau, Bavaria, during the recent election.

PRESIDENT WILSON LEADS A PARADE IN WASHINGTON

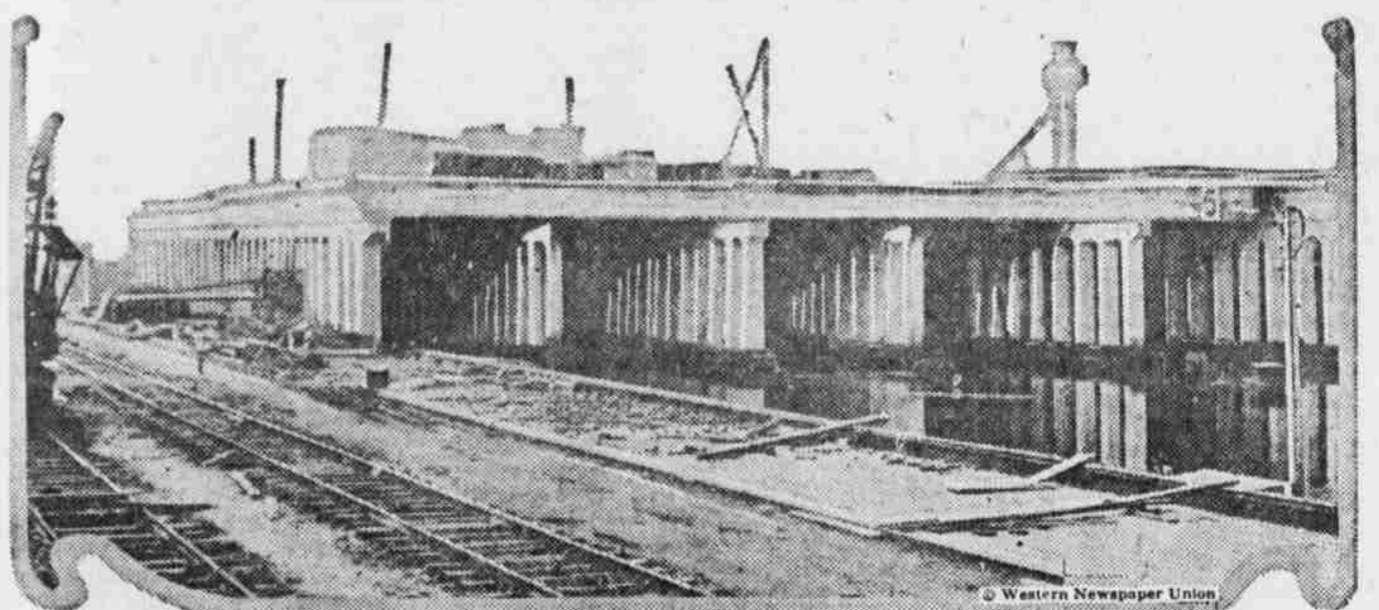

The commander in chief of the army and navy personally led the parade in Washington in honor of the returned heroes of the District of Columbia. The president, indicated by arrow, is carrying a flag.

TORPEDOED TRANSPORT COVINGTON SINKING

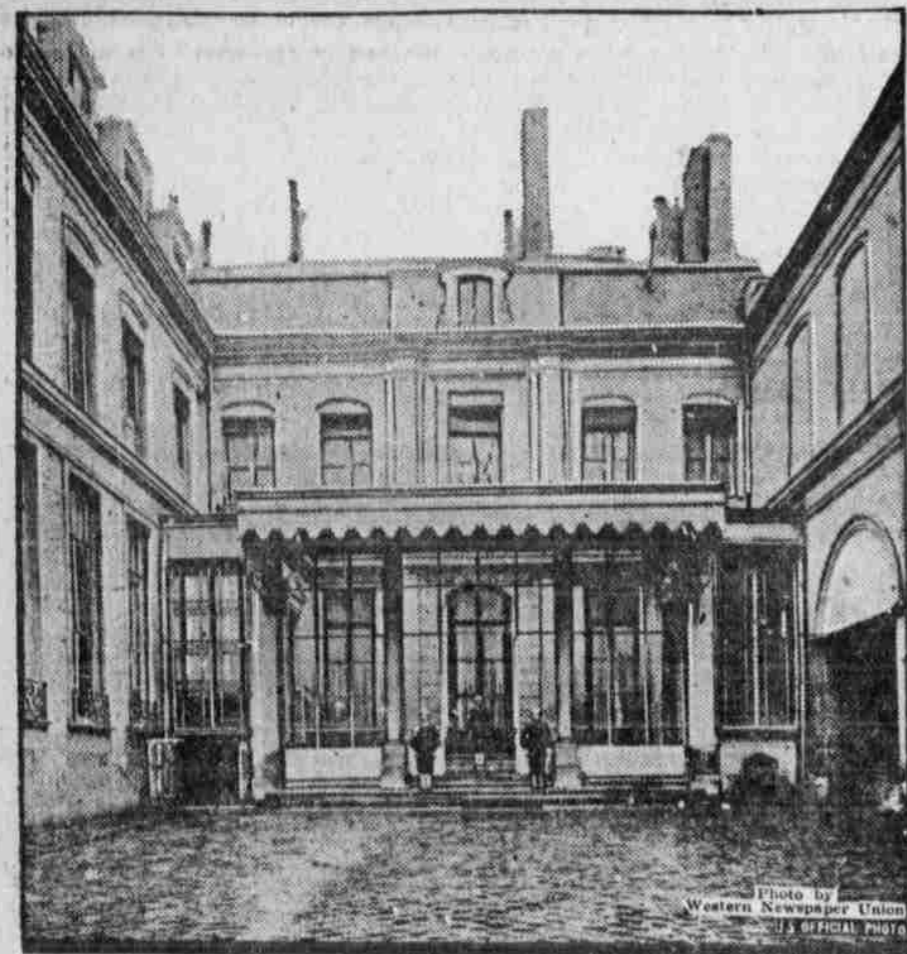

Torpedoed by a Hun submarine July 2, while she was about 100 miles off Brest bound for the United States, the transport Covington immediately began to sink. This unusual photograph, taken the next day, shows the Covington listing heavily, a short time before the end came.

U-BOAT SHELTERS AT THE DOCKS OF BRUGES

German U-boat shelters built of concrete and steel, with roofs of enormous thickness for protection against allied airmen, at the docks of Bruges.

WHERE COLONEL HOUSE LIVES IN PARIS

Entrance to the residence of Col. E. M. House of the American peace delegation at 78 Rue de l'Université, Paris.

CAPT. JOHN JACOB ASTOR

Capt. John Jacob Astor, second son of Baron William Waldorf Astor, on arrival in New York for a visit to America. Captain Astor was accompanied by his wife, Lady Violet, daughter of the late Earl Minto, former governor general of Canada. He lost his left leg while serving with the British Royal Garrison artillery last September, and is here to recuperate at Palm Beach.

Birds in New Zealand.

In New Zealand there are now 20 acclimation societies, organized for the purpose of protecting the native wild life of the country and introducing and protecting new game birds and animals, says an exchange. The societies are all chartered by the government and are under government supervision. They have introduced into the colony a large number of pheasants of different varieties, California quail, Australian opossums, woodcock, rainbow trout, salmon, etc. The societies pay bounties for the destruction of hawks and other enemies of useful birds and mammals.

GEORGE P. HAMPTON

George P. Hampton, national director of farmers' national headquarters, heads a delegation selected by the farmers' national conference to attend the peace conference. The purpose of the trip, according to a resolution adopted by the conference, is to support President Wilson in his efforts to form a league of nations for the prevention of future wars.

Town Little Changed by Time.

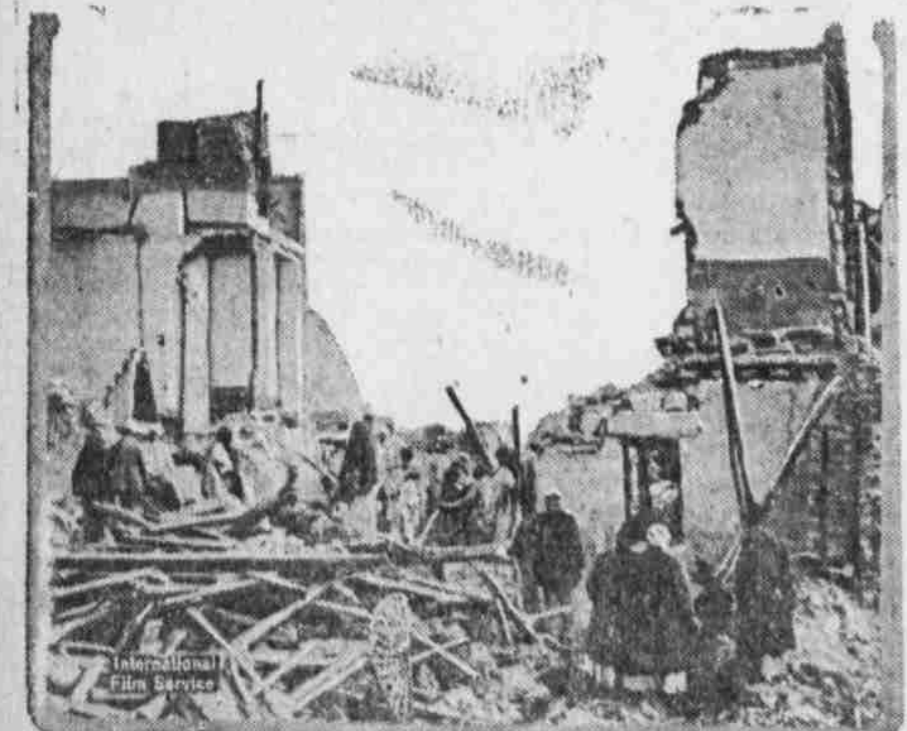

Of all the cities in the Turkish empire, as one writer has well said of it, perhaps Mosul is the one that has been least touched by western civilization. Built on ground that once was a suburb of Nineveh, it stands on the western bank of the Tigris, looking across at the mounds which are all that remain of the glories of the capital of ancient Assyria. Nineveh has a history that stretches throughout a period nearly 2,000 years long, ending with the fall of the empire of Sennacherib about the year 600 B. C. From that time until Layard unveiled the palaces of Ashurbanipal and Sennacherib, and unearthed the literary chamber containing the famous deluge tablet, the ruins of Nineveh for 2,500 long years slept undisturbed.

GRAVE OF ONE VICTIM OF THE HUNS

Two Canadian soldiers at the grave of Mme. Delabre Celmie, ruthlessly murdered by the invading Germans in 1914.

CAIRO, EGYPT, DEVASTATED BY FLOOD

A flood, the like of which has never before been witnessed in Cairo, swept that ancient city and wrought hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage. The photograph shows the ruins resembling those left after an earthquake.

DANIELS USING WIRELESS TELEPHONE

Secretary Daniels talking over the wireless telephone to the president, who was on the George Washington.