

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of California Syrup of Figs, which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Adv.

BRITISH OUTWIT GERMAN SPIES

Intelligence Office Kept Huns Busy by Supplying Prepared "Facts."

FOOLED KAISER'S ADVISERS

Information Sent to Germany Which Kept Hindenburg's Staff Busy Protecting Themselves Against Peril That Did Not Exist.

London—Not the least of the many ironies of the war has been the outwitting in every direction of the much vaunted and elaborate German spy system by the English directorate of special intelligence, which long ago won the admiration of its American co-workers. Had England been less indifferent to the German spy system which overran the country years and years before the war, she might have saved herself an immense amount of trouble; but what was done during the war in circumventing German treachery and cunning has been amazing. It would seem to have been a gigantic failure. And the explanation of that failure appears to lie in a very real understanding of the German mind on the part of the intelligence department. They realized that the German has not yet been born who can resist a fact. Give a German one little fact to play with and it will keep him busy for hours.

Darkened Hun Counsels. There were occasions when they served an even greater purpose, for they were sent all the way to Germany, or were allowed to go, where they helped to darken the counsels of the Kaiser's adviser and set the German headquarters hard at work protecting themselves against a peril which did not exist. Meanwhile the British intelligence department went cheerily on with their real business, and prepared various little surprises for the Hun, and delivered them in due course, such surprises, for instance, as the tanks, of which the Germans knew nothing until they were upon them.

PLANE FOR TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT

This huge seaplane is being built by the Witterman-Lewis Aircraft company, and is to be piloted by Capt. Hugo Sunstedt, a Swedish aviator, for a transatlantic flight for the $50,000 Lord Northcliffe prize. The plane, when rigged will have a wing span of 100 feet and a boat length of 72 feet. The boat is to be inclosed to protect against the cold and will carry three passengers besides the pilot. Its speed is 80 miles per hour and it is of the pusher type.

War Souvenirs

Bomb U. S. Home

Port Chester, N. Y.—Explosives from the Marne battle-field wrecked the bedroom of Sergt. Joseph Hamilton and Private Ralph Hamilton, returned soldiers of the American expeditionary force, at the home of their uncle, George H. Lowden, here.

The Hamilton brothers brought back as souvenirs from France a number of hand grenades, a German helmet, a pistol and 40 machine gun cartridges. One of the grenades, under a bureau, exploded, tearing a two-foot hole through the bedroom floor and setting off many of the machine gun cartridges. Mr. Lowden and his nephews narrowly escaped death or injury.

TWO DEVOTED WAR WORKERS

Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., son of the late Colonel Roosevelt, with his wife at Romagne, Meuse, France. Mrs. Roosevelt has been doing canvas work for the Y. M. C. A. in France for some time. Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt, as denoted by the service stripes on his sleeve, has been with the American forces in France for a year.

given in the realm of military international law, much trouble has been taken in the selection of intelligence personnel for the field, and investigations demanding technical qualifications of a high order have been conducted.

"As typical examples I may mention the highly skilled work of the staff of the chemical laboratory in connection with secret inks; of the photographic and code experts, and of the professors of uncommon languages. Much of the work has been so secret that no reference to it is as yet permissible."

FLIGHT OVERSEA IS NAVY ORDER

Washington—Navy aviation experts are planning a flight across the Atlantic. Commander John H. Towers was ordered to take charge of "the development of plans and assembly of material and personnel for the proposed transatlantic flight."

Commander Towers has been in charge of the naval reserve flying corps and is considered an expert of the service in this branch.

Much attention has been given to the project by the navy and recent reports of similar plans by the British naval aviation service have lent great impetus to the work on this side.

The navy department during the war developed a monster seaplane equipped with three Liberty motors, giving it about 1,200 horse-power. This machine has as its body a substantially built boat and has carried as high as fifty-one persons in flights of considerable length. It has been tested out along the Atlantic coast with great success within the last few weeks.

Land to Land Trip in 20 Hours. When the project of a transatlantic flight was urged here by Major-Gen. Branker of the British air service last year it was brought out that the shortest distance would be from Newfoundland to the Irish coast. This is approximately 2,000 miles, and given a plane capable of a sustained speed of 100 miles an hour it could be made in twenty hours. So far as known, however, no plane has yet been built which could make the trip without stopping for refueling.

The route most generally favored in naval circles, however, is by way of the Azores, with a stop at these islands for fuel and oil. This would make the first leg 1,300 miles and the final leg 700. Some officers favor a halfway stop at sea to refuel from a destroyer if it is considered impossible to make the trip in a single flight.

In a general way it has been said heretofore that the crew of any plane attempting to cross the Atlantic would be composed of at least five men, two pilots to provide relief at the levers, two mechanics to care for the engines and a navigating officer to chart the course.

Conditions Ripe About June. As to the weather it was said that probably not before June would conditions become stable enough to warrant an attempt. Another quiet period occurs in early fall. It is regarded as doubtful that all preparations could be made by the summer period, although this is one of the things Commander Tower will have to determine by careful study.

TRAPS BANDIT GANG

San Francisco—Miss Alice Herald Lindsay, celebrated English beauty of Johannesburg, South Africa, and famed on three continents as the girl who discovered the cache of the celebrated Foster gang of thieves and desperadoes, is in San Francisco, after a visit through India and China, in which she met with adventures as thrilling as those that first brought her into international prominence.

Miss Lindsay, who is not yet out of her teens, is the daughter of a prominent diamond exporter and commission merchant of Kensington, a suburb of Johannesburg, and it was near her home in that city that she stumbled over the cave in which the Foster band, which had been terrorizing the community for many months, had secreted some of their spoil.

The young girl was out walking with a companion when the spirit of adventure induced them to enter what seemed merely an abandoned cave in the hillside. She tripped over a pair of boots near the entrance of the dug-out, and investigation disclosed that they were splashed with blood. Immediately it dawned upon her that she had unwittingly entered the cave of the Foster gang, and, frightened, she withdrew, not any too quickly, for later it was discovered that two members of the band returned to the cave very shortly afterward. The entire gang eventually was captured.

In India, where she spent the last six months, Miss Lindsay was winner of an international beauty contest, held in the city of Calcutta. She also tells of her experiences elephant hunting. As guest of the party, she was permitted the first shot at the elephant, and succeeded in sending home the shot that ended his career. She also had several exciting experiences hunting tigers in the Indian jungles, and has brought here as a trophy a luxurious tiger skin from an animal which was brought down in one of the hunts in which she was engaged.

DAIRY

BETTER BREEDING HELPS

In dairying large production and profit go hand in hand. Breeding furnishes the most economical way to obtain large-producing cows. The purebred bull, with generations of high-producing ancestors back of him, must be used for breeding, and only the best heifers from the best cows should be chosen to be the dams of the next generation.

CERTAIN BULK IS NECESSARY

Table Gives Classification of Common Feeds as to Bulkiness—Palatability Important.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A certain bulk is necessary in the grain mixture given to the dairy cow to obtain the best results. When heavy feeds are used, some bulky ones should be included to lighten the mixture, since it is probable that a certain degree of bulkiness aids digestion. Some of the common feeds are classified as to bulk in the following table:

Classification of Common Feeds as to Bulkiness. Table with 2 columns: Bulky, Palatable.

Palatability is of great importance in successful feeding. The best results can not be obtained with any feed which is not well relished by the cow; consequently any unpalatable feed to be used should be mixed with those that are appetizing.

In making the grain mixture care should be exercised that too large a quantity of either constipating or laxative feed is not included. Cottonseed meal, for example, is decidedly constipating and should be fed with laxative grains or succulents, such as silage or roots. For ordinary feeding in most parts of the United States not more than one-third of the grain should be cottonseed meal. In some sections larger quantities have been fed, but this practice is not recommended. On the other hand, linseed-oil meal, because of its distinctly laxative action, should not be fed ordinarily in greater quantities than 1 1/2 pounds a day.

MAKE TEST OF YOUNG BULLS

Some of Best Breeders Loan Animals to Dairymen in Community to Try Them Out.

Some of the best breeders follow the practice of lending out a number of the young bulls to dairymen in the community merely for the purpose of trying them out. Of course, many of these bulls prove to be mediocre, but when a valuable one is found he is the property of the lender and will repay any expense involved in his discovery.

A sire that has proved his worth all ways is in demand and can be sold readily if the public knows of his whereabouts. The purchaser can be found by advertising.

FATAL WEAKNESS OF DAIRY

Use of Sires Whose Ability to Improve Production is Unknown Cause of Trouble.

A fatal weakness in the dairy business is haphazard breeding, that is the use of sires whose ability to improve dairy production is unknown. Of course this cannot be known until some of his daughters come into production. And it cannot then be known with any degree of accuracy unless performance records are kept upon the cows and their daughters. Up to this time reliance has been placed upon the ancestry of a bull almost entirely, with the stress laid upon the fact of registration.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever.
