An extra pair of glasses

A reserve pair of glasses is common sense. Such foresight prevents distress when an accident happens. Secure a reserve pair of glasses today. Come into Clinton's and try on the new styles in shell frames. You will be delighted with the way they become you.

The rims keep the lenses from breaking easily, and their firmness adds much to your comfort by maintaining proper adjustment of the glasses.

EVERYBODY WELL PLEASED WITH THE AUTO SHOW

The auto show closed Saturday evening with a large attendance of interested visitors, many of whom were out-of-town people, and the show created a favorable impression with everybody during the three days of its existence. In fact this writer did not hear a word of criticism or complaint, or even a suggestion where an improvement might have been made. The decorations were more lavish than any one expected, the display of cars was large and limited only by the exhibit space, good entertainment was provided and the dealers and salesmen were courteous and obliging.

At this writing the number of cars and trucks sold is not obtainable, but the sales were as large, we understand, as was expected and the number of prospective buyers created by the show is announced as particularly large. All North Platte dealers participated in the show, and they were so well pleased that they favor making the show an annual event. The success of the initial show makes possible greater successes in the future.

The Tribune congratulates the North Platte Automobile Dealers Association upon the successful results of its efforts; it was a show creditable not only to the association but to North Platte, and their future efforts in this line we are confident will be backed very heartily by our citizens.

Delaney in Trouble.

A special wire received this morning from Hot Springs, Ark., states that Claude Delaney who went there for treatment two weeks ago is suffering from a badly injured leg, the result of a kick from an ostrich. Delaney with others went out to an ostrich farm and while attempting to herd the big birds together in order that a lady friend might take a picture of them one big fellow gave him a kick that sent him spinning and when he recovered he found himself possessed of a badly injured leg. The report that Mr. Delaney had accidentally shot himself in an arm is denied by the wire received but that the account of his 300-pound landlady getting the best of him in a wrestling match and that she pulled all the kinks out of his hair, was by no means overdrawn.

Storm Does Some Damage.

During the storm Sunday afternoon the barn of L. C. Applegate was blown down with the result that one of his horses and two cows were killed. His automobile, a mowing machine and other machinery were badly damaged. Mr. Applegate said that when the storm hit his place it was in the form of a twister.

Several buildings on the Gus Dringman and Bert McGregor places were blown down.

In Sutherland several small buildings were turned over.—Sutherland Courier

Nellis Loses Match.

In the wrestling match at the Firemen's hall Friday evening Art Nellis, of this city, suffered defeat at the hands of "Dynamite" Fay, the latter taking two straight falls out of Nellis, the first in thirteen minutes and the second in less than two minutes. While Fay is supposedly a resident of Chappell, he is evidently a "ringer" who is travelling through the country taking on all wrestlers in the amateur class. Those who saw the match pronounce Fay a real wrestler.

Big Crowd at Entertainment.

An audience that taxed the seating capacity of the Franklin auditorium was present at the school entertainment given therein Friday evening. The program, in which a number of the schools participated, was varied, excellently rendered and pleased the audience. Admission was free but a collection was taken and the proceeds will be used in defraying the expense of promoting community organizations for the boys and girls.

AT THE SUN THEATRE TONIGHT.

Patrons of the Sun theatre will welcome magnificent Kitty Gordon in the big United Superpicture "Adele," will be seen here tonight. The famous stage and screen beauty will be seen as the brave and lovable American Red Cross nurse who in the path of duty meets her life's romance as she ministers to the wounded in France. The story is that of a Louisiana girl and is believed to present the actual adventures of the author, Adele Bleneau, from whose widely read book, "The Nurse's Story," the play is pictured. The story fascinates with its thrill swift action and suspense and presents Kitty Gordon in a novel phase of artistry.

A nurse's charming costume serves as a refreshing counterpart to the richness of dress which adorns the fashion-setting star in the earlier part of the play and reveals this popular actress in unusual and appealing attire. Mablon Hamilton, artiste and popular leading man, plays opposite to Miss Gordon.

In his staging of "Adele," Wallace Worsley is said to have caught the author's remarkable inspiration, and to have blended the thrilling action with finished artistic direction in this production of one of the most compelling screen dramas of the year.
