IN A FINISHED FIGHT WITH BOMB PLOTTERS.

Congress and government departments are preparing to go into a "fish fight" with anarchy which will make forever impossible bomb outrages such as those of this week. The department of justice, under the direction of Attorney General Palmer, is combing the country in an effort to locate the anarchist leaders.

Wm. J. Flynn, formerly chief of the U. S. secret service, has been put in charge of the campaign. He will be assisted by Francis Paul Garvan, acting alien property custodian who has gained a national reputation in the discovery of criminals and John F. Creighton, of Springfield, Ill., of the war intelligence bureau.

With the assistance of these brilliant men and their corps of secret service workers, Palmer feels confident that he can ferret out the instigators of the bomb plots.

EIGHTEEN TRAINS OF SILVER PASSED THROUGH THIS CITY

Cheyenne—That thousands of tons of silver—the precious metal that is now selling for approximately $23,000 a ton—was transported through Nebraska during the war without the knowledge of the people of that state or of other states or towns through which it passed, is a war time secret that has been made public by the treasury department. The silver—melted down American dollars consigned to Asia—was sent from the United States mint at Philadelphia to the mint at San Francisco, and from the latter was shipped to India. It was hauled in special trains guarded by armed men and so thorough was the guard over it that not an ounce of the precious metal was lost.

Eighteen of these treasure trains made the trip across the continent in the twelve months ended last April 23, with the silver like big bricks, piled high in each of the five express cars composing a special train. Two men, with automatic pistols at their hips, and sawed-off shotguns on their laps, sat in each car, and later guarded the secret transfer of the white bars from train to ship at San Francisco.

Each silver brick weighed about sixty-two pounds and was worth 1,000 and each train carried between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 of the bricks. Guarded shipments of silver dollars also are made from the United States treasury in Washington and from the New Orleans subtreasury to Philadelphia. More than 265,000,000 silver dollars were melted and shipped to India during the year to meet urgent war demands for coinage.

NORTH PLATTE ONLY STOP IN OCEAN-TO-OCEAN FLIGHT.

A Washington dispatch says: A transcontinental flight from New York to San Francisco, with one stop, is planned by the army air service, within a few days. The route for the flight, which will be made in a United States Martin bomber plane, is laid out over thirteen states and 132 cities and towns. It is planned to start the flight from Mineola field, L. I., at 3:30 o'clock on the morning of the day chosen and to complete the flight in two successive days with only one stop of a few hours at North Platte, Neb. According to the carefully worked out schedule of army air service experts the cross-country flier, if it leaves Mineola at 3:30 in the morning should reach Chicago at 11:42 the same morning and arrive at North Platte, the only scheduled stopping place, at 8:09 in the evening of the same day, less than seventeen hours from the starting time.

The plans contemplate a rest in North Platte until 3:30 the following morning, San Francisco to be reached at 5:58 in the evening of the second day, a flying distance of 2,750 miles in 38 hours and 25 minutes, with seven hours for rest and repairs at North Platte, if repairs are necessary. The plane will be piloted in its long flight by Captain Roy N. Francis and First Lieut. Edmund A. Clune, both of the army air service, and they will be assisted by two or three mechanics whose names have not been announced. The exact day of the flight cannot be announced because it is uncertain, dependent upon weather and general flying conditions.

The route passes over thirteen states in a nearly direct air line from New York to San Francisco. It passes from New York over the northern part of New Jersey, central Pennsylvania, northern Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, southern Iowa, central Nebraska, southern Wyoming, northern Utah, Nevada and California. The large cities enroute are Cleveland, Toledo, Chicago, Des Moines, Omaha (North Platte) Cheyenne, Salt Lake and Sacramento. The southern end of Lake Michigan is to be crossed, the Mississippi at Rock Island and Davenport, and the Missouri at Omaha. The highest land elevation enroute is about eight thousand feet.

NUTS MILLION YEARS OLD

Interesting Fossils Recently Found by the United States Geological Survey.

Among the fossils recently discovered by the United States geological survey are remarkably well-preserved impressions or casts of leaves of several extinct varieties of ash, oak, beech and hickory, which were found, with three present-day species, in states bordering the Gulf of Mexico, according to the Youth's Companion. Although the leaves themselves have rotted and decayed, here and there some were buried in soft clay by sediment in such a manner as to leave perfectly preserved impressions.

The nuts, on the other hand, neither decayed nor petrified, but fell into pools of water, which is one of the best preservatives in nature, and sooner or later were also buried under silt and clay. Owing to their hard shells, those that fell into places favorable to their preservation are today in excellent condition, although slightly flattened by the long soaking and the gentle pressure of the clay. The deposit in which the leaves and nuts were found is not less than a million years old.

Architecture and Life Are One.

There is another result of good teaching of art history that is important. A good teacher of art history cannot fail to impress upon his students how intimately the history of art and the history of the race are connected; how every great change in style is only a symptom of some great change in ways of thinking and living. The history of architecture ought to teach that life and art are one and that falseness of ideal is mirrored inevitably by a false architecture. It ought to go far toward removing that destructive viewpoint of the present day that sees architecture as something far off and esoteric and unimportant instead of the very stuff of our contemporary civilization. It ought, in a word, to open the draftsman's eyes to the social implications and the social responsibilities of his art.—Talbot F. Franklin in Architecture.

Helgoland.
Helgoland lies in the North sea, 40 miles northwest from the mouth of the Elbe. It consists of a steep, rocky plateau, 184 feet high, with a strip of firm sand at its southeasterly foot. Its area is about 123 acres. Kaiser William is said to have expended $50,000,000 on the practical reconstruction of the island; it is fortified against sea and cannon alike with great granite buttresses 16 feet thick and 240 feet high on all sides. Even the fissures in its cliffs have been filled up and bound together with ferro-concrete—tousands of tons of it. The little island is wholly incased with a cemented belt of armor, fortified with modern ordnance.

TESTED AND PROVEN

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months North Platte readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

M. C. Rogers, Prop. of harness store, 514 Locust St., North Platte, says: "Once in a while my kidneys have become disordered and if I didn't attend to them right away I would get in bad shape. My back would become lame and there would be a steady ache in it. When I tried to straighten up after sitting down, a sharp pain would catch me. I knew my kidneys were the cause of it, for at such times they acted too often especially at night. Doan's Kidney Pills have always relieved any signs of such trouble, putting my kidneys in a good condition. I know Doan's can be depended upon and I am glad to recommend them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rogers had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
