

1—Women managers of the government dormitories for war workers in Washington, left to right: Misses Mary E. Rust, Doris Burchard, Mary Linsley, Harlean James and Olive Davis. 2—Men of Admiral Kolchak's Siberian army repairing telegraph lines torn down by bolsheviks. 3—Admiral Sims and his aid, Lieutenant Commander William Edwards, at Yale, where the admiral had been awarded the degree of LL. D.

"PRESIDENT" DE VALERA OF IRELAND IN AMERICA

Eamonn De Valera, "president of the Irish republic," is in the United States carrying on an active propaganda for "free Ireland." The photograph shows him with some of his warm supporters in New York. Left to right: Diarmuid Lynch, Peter Hendrick, Judge Goff, Judge Cahalan; Eamonn De Valera, John Devoy, Justice Garrigan, J. D. Moore, Rev. Patrick O'Donnell.

FERGUS FALLS, MINN., DEVASTATED BY A TORNADO

Ruins of business buildings on Union Avenue, Fergus Falls, Minn., destroyed by a tornado that killed several hundred persons and wrecked much of the town.

IN A RE-EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FOR FIGHTERS

A typical scene at the New York re-employment bureau for soldiers, sailors and marines organized at the request of Col. Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, and conducted co-operatively by the army and navy, the Merchants' Association of New York and all war-time welfare organizations.

GOBS GET READY TO CELEBRATE FOURTH

Gobs boarding the superdreadnaught New York, one of the mightiest of the Atlantic fleet, which had arrived in New York for the Fourth of July celebration.

WITH HER WAR ORPHAN

Miss Verm Snell and Franc Yoons at Ellis Island, N. Y. Franc is a war orphan, born at Huwer, Belgium, who arrived on the Rochambeau with his adopted mother, Miss Snell, who returns from active duty abroad for the Red Cross. Governmental regulations hold little Franc a prisoner at Ellis Island while Miss Snell seeks to cut the tape and keep the little Belgian here. Franc had a bitter war experience. He wandered from town to town until the Three Hundred and Forty-second artillery adopted him as mascot. When the outfit left Treves, Franc was again alone until he got a home in the Q. M. department, where Miss Snell met him.

When the Gas Gave Out.

Living in a small town the loan of our automobile was requested for use at a funeral. It so happened that all the members of the family who drive were away for the day and a friend came to the rescue and drove it for me. Being a good housewife, I saw to it that the car was immaculately clean, but being a poor autoist didn't look at the gasoline supply. The moment when the gasoline gave out and the car stopped and along with it the whole procession—for this one carried the ministers and preceded the hearse—is too harrowing to recall.—Exchange.

RAID ON A SCHOOL OF RADICALS

Officers under direction of a legislative committee raided the Rand school, a radical institution in New York city, opened the safe and took away a quantity of documents.

RHODE ISLAND'S SENATOR

Senator LeBaron B. Colt of Rhode Island was a distinguished lawyer and just prior to his election to the senate in 1913. Since that time he has made a place for himself in the national legislature in a quiet, unassuming way. He is a Republican.

NOVELTY AT A WEDDING IN ENGLAND

English women indulge in smoking more openly than do those of America. The photograph shows Capt. G. C. Martin and his bride both enjoying the weed as they left the church at Stoke Pogis, where the wedding ceremony was performed.

FRENCH SOLDIERS IN BULGARIAN TOWN

French soldiers having their shoes shined in Kustondel, a typical Bulgarian city. Most of the children have no shoes, while others have them so badly worn that they are practically useless. Their clothes are literally hanging from their bodies in rags.

Unqualified Disapproval.

Margaret had lived in the city all of her life. Her grandmother lived in a little town out in the country nearby. One day the grandmother came in to spend the day with Margaret and her mother, and told many things about the people and the little town where she lived. Margaret, becoming intensely interested, decided to find out about the place, so she said: "Grandma, is there a nickel show there?" "No, Margaret." "Is there a 10-cent store?" "No, Margaret." "Is there an ice-cream parlor?" "Oh, no, Margaret." This was too much for Margaret, and she became much disgusted, and said: "Well, good-night on such a place!"

Sun Baths Prolong Life.

Cleopatra was right when she took those sun baths on the Nile. Speaking before the National Society of Therapeutics in convention, Prof. Ralph Bernstein of Philadelphia said modern science has vindicated the ancient Egyptians and Romans and has proven that sun baths not only bring curative results but promote long life.