T. M. Cohagen will soon begin the erection of a two story brick warehouse 22x64 feet on his premises in the First ward. This building will be used for the storage of carload lots of merchandise shipped in by wholesale grocers and later distributed by Mr. Cohagen to retail dealers. This building will be in addition to the present big warehouse which he uses.

He came from a small town and landed on a big league baseball team and then he got a case of enlarged cranium and went blooey! Just like any youngster might do under parallel circumstances—but he came back with the biggest wallop of them all! See Charles Ray in "The Busher" at the Crystal theatre Thursday and Friday.

'Clinton & Son' will take care of your Eye Glass trouble; we guarantee to give you satisfaction. Sign of the Big Ring. Son is with Uncle Sam in Germany, will be home soon.

Dr. Geo. E. Dent returned Sunday from Rochester Minn., where he had gone a week before to be with T. C. Patterson following the latter's operation. For a week following the operation Mr. Patterson's condition was critical, but last Friday he began growing stronger and when Dr. Dent left the crisis was considered passed. The customary lunch will be served at the Elks' home Thursday noon.

Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Mackintosh returned Friday from a two weeks visit at St. Joe and in Lead. Rev. Mackintosh reports conditions in the Dakotas Montana and Wyoming to be terrible, the dry weather has ruined the hay and dried up the creeks so that cattle men must either sell their stock or ship to other states, where the grass is still good. Hay in these states is already selling for from $20 to $30 per ton.

We drove up to Sarben Sunday afternoon, crossed the south river at Paxton and came down the south side to the state farm. The trip was somewhat of an eye-opener as to the extent of crops grown, and especially was this true of the section south of the river between Paxton and Hershey, where one sees hundreds of acres of wheat and oats in the stack and hundreds and hundreds of acres of corn that was in the pink of condition Sunday.

TOO WILD IN CELEBRATION
Americans in Paris, Released From the Horrors of Trenches, Somewhat Astonish the French.
 Not the least of our pride in the expeditionary force was its good behavior. For general morals we were the prize winners. But, of course, soldiers in a nonprohibition country will get drunk now and then. One reason for our prohibition wave is the fact that many Americans have no moderation in their use of alcohol, and that they sometimes tend, when drunk, to tear up the sidewalks, writes Will Irwin, in the Saturday Evening Post.
 Your French polu, who, in his reaction from the trenches took to liquor, got a blissful and genial jag, which expressed itself in talkativeness and in flirtation. The American whooped it up.
 As two coyotes on a moonlight night can give the impression of a whole wolf pack, so two drunken Americans could give the appearance of a drunken army. They might be surrounded by fifty polus, all half seas over; it was the Americans whom one noticed.
 This tendency brought its most deplorable effects in Paris. The capital of the world was not a leave center. Nevertheless all sorts of commissions and activities centered there; soldiers were constantly coming and going on military errands; moreover, though Paris was officially barred, men nevertheless got Paris leave by pull or cajolery. In spite of the provost marshal and the military police we always had the American drunk with us; and when present he always announced himself. The French, who, as I have said, grow merely genially expansive with liquor, did not like this.

LEARNED MUCH IN FRANCE
Doughboys, Back in America, Are Not Quite the Same as When They Left.
 "The boy just back from France is a mighty different chap from the lad who went over there," says William Howard Taft, adding, with a laugh: "He's learned a lot he didn't know before. Take two instances that came to my notice recently."
 "One was the case of a doughboy who before the war had been a hotel clerk. On his return to America he applied in New York for a place.
 "What references have you?" demanded the manager.
 "Been over in France a year, and before that—"
 "Never mind the 'before that,'" said the manager. "If you've been in France a year you know all about domestic work. I'll make you head chambermaid."

"The other one," continued Mr. Taft, "was quite different. He, too, had come back from France, and he, too, had learned a lot.
 "Do you think you could ever learn to love me?" he asked the girl of his choice, and she answered:
 "I don't know. Anyhow, you might continue your course of instruction. Gee! it's so different!"

Cause of the Query.
 As soon as women have the vote and the league of nations becomes a reality, says Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, she is going to be a "gay young girl." As it is, no one would suspect her of being past seventy. And she likes to tell stories on herself. This is one she told in Indianapolis to a group of friends:

"When I was in California recently, folks kept coming up to me and saying, 'How young you look,' in most surprised tones. Well, it began to wear on me. Why shouldn't I look young? So when a young girl came up and said it for the 'steenth time, I said, 'So do you look young.'"
 "And then I learned the reason for all the surprise. The newspapers had been told that I was in California in '96 with Miss Anthony. It had somehow got twisted to read: 'Dr. Shaw was ninety-six when she was here with Miss Anthony.' That would have made me about 120 years old."

Caught at Last.
 A father said to his pretty daughter one morning:
 "What time did you send that young Simpson home last night?"
 "Oh," replied the girl, "I don't think it was very late."
 "It must have been close to midnight!"
 "Why, father?"
 "Didn't you send him out the back door and hurry off to bed when you heard me coming in?"
 "Why, father, I had been in bed for hours."
 "You heard me, then?"
 "Yes, you woke me up."
 "And you had been in bed for hours?"
 "Ur huh!"
 "That certainly is funny!"
 "Why?"
 "Because when I went to light the lamp I nearly burned my hands off on the hot chimney."—Youngstown Telegram.

No More Insects or Plant Diseases.
 Now that plant quarantine No. 37 of the Agricultural department is in effect, prohibiting the importation of plants without a permit, there will be no more garden insects or plant diseases. If there are it will be the fault of the federal horticultural board, for no insects or diseases can enter now except with the permission of the board. Do not discard the sprayers and insecticides, however, as they will still be useful to combat the old and new troubles that are bound to appear.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL
 Mrs. Joe Sullivan, of Brady, spent Saturday with friends in town.
 Mrs. Ray Thornton and children of Callaway are expected to arrive this evening for a visit with Mrs. Jack Palmer.
 Ralph Adams, who recently came here from Minnesota, has accepted a position in the dental office of Dr. Brock. Mr. Adams pursued dental laboratory work in Chicago.
 Did you ever see Charles Ray in a baseball picture? He hasn't played one since "The Pinch Hitter" until now, "The Busher" and oh Boy! the day it is shown ought to be a holiday. See it at the Crystal Thursday and Friday.
 Frank Dubarencfeld, of the Penney store, was badly bruised on the face Saturday night when he jumped from train No 12 while in motion. He had escorted a friend into a car, remained until the train was in motion and in stepping off was thrown to the ground, narrowly escaping falling under the wheels.

The police were hot on the trail of the housebreaking gang Sunday night, but failed to catch them in the act of entering a house. The gang stalked several houses in the east-end where they were shot at by Mr. Phillips, a barber, as they entered his yard. The gang then vanished to the south part of town, where they were followed until five o'clock in the morning. Housebreakings occurred Sunday night.
 Harvey Sorenson and John Cohagen left Saturday on an auto trip through Colorado and Wyoming.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jos Stackhouse, of Wallace, were the guests of friends in town Saturday.
 John O'Neil, of Marysville, Kans., is visiting friends in town.

Ford
 THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford One Ton Truck may well be classed as an agricultural necessity, it fits into and fills so many wants on the farm. It is a reliable bearer of farm burdens; not only doing the work of several horses quicker and better than the horse, and does not "eat its head off" when not working. The aggressive farmer has only to consider the possibilities of the Ford truck and he is ready to buy one. We judge this to be so from the way farmers are buying them. Truck Chassis $550 f. o. b. Detroit.
