

The Chaff

is always left until the last, after the wheat and good grain has all been taken.

So today in the business world, and especially in the automobile market with the present serious shortage of good cars, there are new, unknown or makes of previous poor repute, which can now offer you as their chief inducement, an immediate delivery.

I appeal to you that now, more than in ordinary times, you will do well to consider carefully the car you buy. I am making deliveries on good Dodge Brothers and Chandler cars, to those who have ordered them in advance.

If you need a light, good, car for your service, I would advise you to wait until you see the new 1920 Dodge models, which are now being shipped to all dealers. My first new models will be in this week.

A little patience now will repay you many times in the future service from the car you buy. And if you do buy from me, you may expect to be taken care of; for, from now on, my place will be solely a sales and service station for my own cars exclusively.

COMPANIES ARE MERGED AND NEW CORPORATION FORMED

A new corporation known as the Leopoldt & Pennington Company has filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The new corporation is a consolidation of what is known as Leopoldt & Pennington of North Platte and the D. M. Leopoldt Company, a corporation of Hershey. The articles disclose that the corporation has an authorized capital stock of $200,000, of which $115,000 is fully paid and it is now understood that no further stock will be issued at this time. The stockholders and original incorporators of the new company are as follows: Wm. Simants, Francis Montague, Henry P. Hansen, F. E. Krongquest, A. P. Kelly, M. P. Rasmussen, W. C. Dolan, Frank Turple, Leo Mustard, Butler Buchanan, Geo. N. Gibbs, E. S. Davis, C. H. Walter, Samuel M. Souder, J. H. Stone, A. J. Sallsbury, A. C. Wright, E. J. Vanderhoof, Thomas Cox, W. H. Cramer, John S. Twinem, Broadbeck & Son, E. B. Yeppoldt, Loy H. Eyerly, E. R. York, Harry B. York, M. Pennington.

The growth of the business of Leopoldt & Pennington necessitated the re-organization and plans have been made for the company to branch out and take over a number of elevators and establish offices at various points along the Union Pacific railroad and on the Northwestern road in the Elkhorn valley. In the three years that Leopoldt & Pennington have been doing business in North Platte, the records of the National Hay Association disclose that they are the largest shippers of prairie hay of any company in the world and are rated as one of the largest shippers of all kinds of hay in the central states. The officers of the new corporation are: D. M. Leopoldt, president; H. L. Pennington, vice president; W. E. Starr, secretary and treasurer, and the board of directors consists of the above officers together with W. M. Simants and Henry Hansen.

Chautauqua Next Week.

The North Platte Chautauqua will open next Monday and continue for six days, closing Saturday night. In looking over the program, the talent seems to be good and the attractions sufficiently varied as to get away from sameness. Committees have been selling season tickets, but with what success we have not learned. However, it is probable that the patronage given the Chautauqua will be up to the normal.

Jim Halaras was bound over to the district court Wednesday on the charge of assaulting Bill Pappas. The assault occurred ten days ago. The men are Greeks employed at the round house.

Major J. R. Longley, son of the late Dr. Longley of this city, has returned to his home at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin after having been for the past year stationed at Archangel, Russia, where he was in command of the medical corps at that post. He entered the army as a lieutenant, but was quickly promoted to the rank of major, in recognition of his ability as a doctor. He will resume his practice at Fond du Lac, where his wife and two children have been residing during his absence.

Hiking from Los Angeles to the Atlantic coast, Mrs. Myra Collins passed through town the early part of the week. She is not a professional hiker, but is making the trip for the novelty of it. She is helped along more or less by auto drivers, who give her a "lift." She left her Los Angeles home May 16th, and carries about forty pounds of luggage. She is costumed in a khaki walking suit, has close cropped hair and wears a broad toed walking shoe.

The high cost of living is responsible for many conflicting statements. Here in North Platte many of our people insist that the necessities cost more than elsewhere. The other evening a railroad man told us meals of the same goodness were ten cents higher in Sidney than in North Platte. Yesterday a Grand Island business man was in town and unsolicited said things were as cheap, if not cheaper, here than in Grand Island—so there you go; one fellow says one thing and the other fellow contradicts—and we don't know whether we are or are not. In the meantime smile and be glad you're alive. It costs you just as much to be a pessimist as an optimist, and the latter is always the happier.

DOUBLE WEDDING SOLEMNIZED LAST WEDNESDAY EVENING

Wednesday evening at the home of M. N. Johnston, 14 south Elm street, was solemnized the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Johnstons two daughters, Miss Frances becoming the bride of William Siebold, and Miss Florence the bride of Julius Forstedt.

As Miss Florence McKay played "The End of a Perfect Day," Mrs. Lehniger sang, Miss Evelyn Chamberlin stretched the white ribbon forming the aisle through which the two couples marched while the strains of the wedding march were softly played. The contracting parties were preceded by the flower girls, little Florence Hinman and Lucille Fletcher, who carried the rings in little baskets. The parties were attended by Ben Johnston and Margaret Johnston, brother and sister of the brides. The decorations were pink and white with a profusion of cut flowers and a bank of ferns, backed by the U. S. flag, formed the very pretty bower in which Mr. Curry, the officiating minister, met the couples.

Both brides were gowned in white georgette and carried white roses, and the maid's gown was of pink georgette and she carried pink roses. About seventy guests were present.

The two brides are well and favorably known, both having been in the past employed by local business firms. Messrs. Siebold and Forstedt are in the employ of the Union Pacific and both have lately returned from army service. Mr. Forstedt was in the radio service and Mr. Siebold saw twelve months' service overseas. These young people are among the most popular in the city.

The newly weds left Wednesday night on a trip to Denver and other western points and after September first will "at home" to their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Forstedt will reside at 14 south Elm and Mr. and Mrs. Siebold at 518 south Chestnut.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mrs. Lowell, Mrs. Tansley and Mrs. Decker of Overton, and Mrs. John Witt, son and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Witt of Stapleton.

Traffic is Heavy.

Freight traffic on the Union Pacific is heavy and crews are getting only about the lawful lay-over hours at terminal points. Fruit, stock and coal shipments have been running freely east, and this business has been increased with east bound wheat shipments from elevators in Lincoln, Keith, Deuel and Cheyenne counties. West bound empties, in trains each nearly a mile long, are passing through daily.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our many friends for their kindness and sympathy during the suffering, death and laying a way of our darling boy Ivan, and for the many beautiful floral offerings. MR. AND MRS. C. C. CLARK, DONOVAN, HUGH AND GLEN.

Miss Helen Koontz returned Wednesday evening from a month's visit with Mrs. C. A. Lowell in Chicago.
