LIFE INSURANCE OFFICER COMMENDS SEBASTIAN AGENCY

In a personal letter to The Tribune, E. S. Albritton, second vice-president and in charge of agencies of the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Co., highly commends the J. E. Sebastian general agency in this city, saying in part:

"Last January, in view of the fact that Mr. Sebastian had associated Mr. Temple with him—a very strong man—we gave the North Platte agency a quota for 1919 business which we thought was exceedingly large. At the end of August, with only two-thirds of the year gone, the Sebastian Agency has exceeded that quota by a very large amount having produced almost a half million of business so far this year. The Agency will produce between three-quarters of a million and a million dollars for the year 1919. This, I believe, you will agree with me, is some record. In addition to their managerial duties, Mr. Sebastian and Mr. Temple have each produced $200,000 of net personal business, which gives them membership in the Randall Club, the highest honor with the Company. The North Platte Agency is growing. On top of this we have found, after many long years of experience, that Mr. Sebastian's business is A. No. 1 and very high grade. He is a sterling young man, a successful business man and The Minnesota Mutual is proud of him, his associates and his agency."

RELIABILITY OF LALLY LIGHT PROVED BY THE USERS

Eight Years of Trial Shows that Electric Light and Power Plants are Practical for Homes.

It is a fact, too well known to be questioned, that every piece of moving machinery must be tested by owners in every kind of circumstance before its absolute reliability is assured. The biggest engineers, with the biggest reputation, with millions of dollars behind them, may design what appears to be a wonderfully fine piece of machinery on paper, but when the ultimate consumer gets hold of it, he brings out the "bugs" in a manner the skilled engineer never thought of. This is one of the reasons why C. M. Trotter, dealer at North Platte, experiences no trouble these days in selling Lally Light plants to progressive farmers. The farmers of this section are discriminating judges of quality and they know that among the thousands of Lally Light plants in daily use, many of them have been operated from four to eight years and are giving as good, or better service, today than they did when installed.

Not only in the United States are Lally Light plants used; they are installed by the hundreds in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, in every country of South America, in Europe and even as far north as Iceland. And they have stood the test in all of these countries.

It certainly pays, when purchasing an electric light and power plant, to get one that has been tried out for many years, and is giving satisfactory use in so many different kinds of climate all over the world that there can be no question as to their serviceability.

Cure for Poison Ivy.
Mrs. Evelyn S. Trenbath, wife of the Rev. Robert W. Trenbath, rector of St. James's Episcopal church of Montclair, N. J., has conferred a boon on sufferers from poison ivy by announcing a remedy which those who have tried it say is a most efficacious remedy. It is simply the green leaves of common catnip rubbed on the affected parts until the juice runs.

This never fails, Mrs. Trenbath says, no matter how advanced the case may be, and is simple to use, especially in the case of children. The plant grows usually in great abundance behind old barns, and is said to be so antagonistic to the ivy that if planted near it the ivy disappears.

Volcano That Emits Lava.
The following is reported by an observer in Hawaii: Tremendous changes are in progress at Kilauea, and there is no indication whatsoever of any cessation of the monumental rising of the entire vast lava column. Over the southwest brink a wide stream of glistening lava is sluggishly flowing in the direction of the Kalu desert, not with the spectacular cascading torrents of the southeastern flows of last March, but with a steady, stealthy gliding, which gains ground slowly at its base, but which piles up into tremendous masses from its source forward.
