

Fascinating little bracelet watches

Beauty is the reason why so many women have more than one bracelet watch. Recent models are such exquisite ornaments one can no more be content with a single bracelet watch than with just one ring. Especially so since fashion says the watch must be worn with evening gowns. Even though it is dainty and beautiful, one does not wear the street watch at a social function. Many different models, in solid gold and guaranteed gold filled cases, each a dependable timepiece. In variety and values an uncommonly good stock.

Some changes have been made in the football schedule as announced in the papers some time ago. Cozad is not to have football so that team has been dropped out of the schedule. Lexington is putting on a team so we have arranged for a game at North Platte on October 10 with Lexington High. The Gothenburg game will be played at Gothenburg instead of Lexington. This gives four games at home—Lexington, Kearney, Lincoln and Scotts Bluff, and four games away—at Curtis, Alliance, Gothenburg and Grand Island.

BIG CROWDS ARE ATTENDING LINCOLN COUNTY'S BEST FAIR

The county fair opened Wednesday with the largest crowd present that has ever attended the opening day. The large attendance was partly due to the generosity of the management in admitting school children free, but while the boys and girls were out in full force, the attendance of adults was much larger than usual. Yesterday the crowd was considerably larger than the last day of the horse races, the grandstand and bleachers are expected to be packed and the auto reservations filled.

The west side of agricultural hall has never been filled with a better display of products both from the dry land and the irrigated farms. One of the largest displays is made by Otto Messner, who lives northwest of town, and among his exhibits are five watermelons whose combined weight is 223 pounds. The agricultural exhibit as a whole is the best that has been shown in several years. The east side of the building is taken up by the fancy work household arts section and the school exhibit. The latter is very complete and so arranged as to show what the pupils of the schools—both town and rural—are doing in every-day work.

The poultry building is well filled with pens of the various strains of chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese, the whole making a very creditable display.

An additional cattle barn was built this year, thus doubling the number of stalls, and yet every stall is filled. T. S. McCrone, the north side cattleman and breeder shows two Hereford bulls that are dandies, and Berger and Stryker, of Callaway, also show fine animals of this breed, one bull exhibited by Berger weighing 2300. Dave Lawler of Paxton and Godfrey of Cozad have each a fine showing of Short-horns. Various breeds are shown by Lincoln county owners. There is also a very good showing of animals in the horse barn, and the entries of hogs were so large that outside pens had to be built. Scott Eganer of Maxwell has a number of pens, as has also C. G. Landholm. LeBart, an Overton breeder, has a big showing of Duroc Jerseys.

The exhibits all through are fine and well worth viewing by fair attendants.

South of the grand stand is located the tents of the auto dealers, where the latest models of cars are shown, and these displays are visited by all autoists. In this section is located the concessionaires, numbering nearly fifty, ranging from the doll rack and wienie stand to the merry-go-round and Ferris wheel, the tented dramatic show of the Al. G. Story Co. and a big tent in which wrestling and boxing exhibitions are given. Here is also located an irrigation pumping plant put in by the Derryberry & Forbes Co. the pump-power being furnished by a tractor. The pump has a 2000-gallon per minute capacity, with water drawn from what is known as a "Kelly" well. The DeLoe and the Lalla Light companies have their power plants on exhibition and show to what extent the power can be utilized in the farm household.

All stairways and other passages, and all rooms connected with dance halls must be kept accessible and well lighted.

The gentleman's hand must be placed lightly, not over half way around the lady, and above the waist line. The lady is to merely rest her right hand in her partner's hand and her left hand to rest lightly on her partner's arm or shoulder.

No undue familiarity, exaggerated or suggestive forms of dancing between partners will be tolerated.

All unnecessary shoulder or body motion or shimmy prohibited.

No minor children under the age of 16 years shall frequent, remain in, or patronize dances unless accompanied by their parent or legal guardian.

All dances which come under the supervision of the Board of Public Welfare must close not later than 12:30 a. m. unless given special permission in writing by the mayor of the city of North Platte.

Farmers Make a Protest.

A dispatch from Washington dated last Friday says: The farmers do not intend, if they can help it, to be made the victims of the government's attack on the high cost of living. Prices of grains and farm products should be the last and not the first to go down, according to the national board of farm organizations which today closed its semi-annual meeting here. The first move in the campaign decided upon by delegates of the organizations united under the national board will be an effort to secure the passage of the Capper-Herman bill allowing, within certain limits, collective bargaining among farmers.

The national board, according to Chairman Milo D. Caspell, of Michigan, is no longer satisfied to be merely an educational body, and is going in to politics to make a direct fight on matters affecting the interests of the farmer.

"It will not go into any party politics," Mr. Caspell announced, "but like the AFL-saloon league, will operate through all parties. It will be bipartisan, inter-partisan or non-partisan."

Among the senators who pledged their support to the farmers are Smith (Georgia); Underwood, Alabama; Wadsworth, New York; Sterling, South Dakota; Kenyon, Iowa; Curtis, Kansas; and Swanson, Virginia.

Compulsory Education.

All boys and girls living within the boundaries of the North Platte school district, who are under 16 years of age must enroll and attend the public or private schools of this or some other district unless he or she has completed the eighth grade or is too sick physically or too weak mentally. It is the duty of the officials of the city schools to take steps in the courts to compel obedience to this law. Labor inspectors will check us up and start proceedings against anyone who employs a child under 16 during the hours that school is in session. Notice has been given that the school cannot excuse anyone and the courts have not shown a disposition to let offenders off lightly. The costs are considerable and to avoid these parents had much better see that the children are in school at once. Anyone knowing of a child subject to this law who is not in school will help by notifying the City Superintendent of Schools, whose duty it is to attend to this matter.

Married at High Noon.

A very pretty ceremony was performed at 12 o'clock Monday, September 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Diener, when their daughter Eva E. became the bride of Francis E. Palmer, of Sutherland. Rev. Dr. J. H. Curry officiated in the presence of near relatives of the young couple. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Mack McConnell of Hershey, the latter being a sister of the groom. The bride was very lovely in her traveling dress of brown satin. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white bride's roses and the matron of honor carried white and pink tea roses.

They came to the altar to the strains but a short time after twelve of Ledegrin's Bridal Chorus rendered by Mrs. Floyd Seaburg. Following the ceremony a very dainty luncheon was served by Miss Gladys Diener, sister of the bride, and the Misses Marie and Evelyn Diener, cousins of the bride. The bride is well known here, being a graduate of the North Platte high school of '18. The groom is also well known, having been raised in this vicinity. He has been home only a short time, having twelve months in France. This is an unusual wedding as it celebrates the 22nd anniversary of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Diener, also the fourth anniversary of the groom's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McConnell. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer left that evening on No. 7 for a short visit. They will be at home to their friends after October 1st on their farm seven miles south of North Platte.

Coal Miners Prepared to Strike

United Mine Worker delegates who had been in convention at Cleveland scattered to all parts of the country Wednesday ready to call a strike of all coal miners on November 1, in the event demands made are not met by the operators. Unless a satisfactory agreement is reached between mine operators and workers prior to that time the hundreds of thousands of miners over the entire country are scheduled to strike.

It is understood that demands of the men have been agreed upon and in substance are a flat increase of sixty per cent in pay, and a six hour day with a five day maximum. Time and a half for overtime is also in the demands drawn up.

Those who examined the last week's Literary Digest and read of its trouble with labor can realize the trouble that textbook manufacturers are having in supplying the enlarged needs of the schools this fall. The North Platte Board of Education adopted and ordered a supply of Greg Shorthand in July and the books have not been received yet. Of course the class has been organized but is not reciting until the texts arrive. In other classes a similar condition exists although no other class is entirely without books.

Higher Rates Must Follow Increased Costs

This is what present conditions mean in the telephone business:

- Higher prices for nearly all telephone material—
- Increased cost of all labor that goes into plant and equipment—
- Advanced wages for telephone employees—
- Increased traffic requiring more equipment.

These conditions have made it impossible for us to hold our rates as low as we did before the war.
