PAUL J. THOMSEN WEDS MISS ALTA DERRYBERRY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening, October 7th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Derryberry, when their elder daughter Alta, was united in marriage to Paul J. Thomsen, Rev. H. E. Hess officiating.

Promptly at 8:30 Miss Helen Koontz took her place at the piano and Miss Caryl, sister of the bride, sang "The End of a Perfect Day," after which the bridal party marched to an altar prepared for the occasion, and decorated with U. S. flags and potted ferns. The ring service was used.

Miss Caryl, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Alfred Thomsen, brother of the groom, best man.

The bride was attired in white georgette crepe with veil, and carried white roses. The maid wore pink georgette and carried pink roses. After the ceremony an elaborate dinner was served to the guests, which consisted of the relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride is a graduate of the North Platte high school and has taught one year in the public school, also attended the Kearney normal one year. She is a sweet and accomplished little lady and one her companion may well be proud of. The groom is a graduate of the agricultural school in Lincoln, and has served twenty-one months in the army as a member of the 89th Division. He is a fine young man and worthy the sweet bride he has taken.

The happy young couple received many beautiful gifts. They will be at home to their many friends at the Experimental farm in a house all ready and waiting for them.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomsen, father and mother of the groom, his brother and sister and uncle and aunt from Denmark, Nebraska.

Dance Privilege Arouses Criticisms.

At a meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening the high school students were given the privilege of holding a dancing party in the Franklin auditorium, this being granted upon a request from the students. When it became known that the request had been granted, there were quite a few who criticized the board's action. While dancing in a school building has never before been permitted in North Platte and does not seem to be tolerated elsewhere, there are many who believe there is nothing particularly harmful in the board's action if the dance is supervised or chaperoned by mothers of the students. Whether the privilege will be extended beyond the one dance depends upon the conduct of the initial dance and the opposition which may be aroused among school patrons. It is distinctly understood that this dance is to be confined to students of the high school and none others—a high school girl cannot invite an outside boy or a high school boy, an outside girl, and that one high school student has just as much right to attend as another; that the dance is not to be conducted by any clique or faction of the school.

Extend Courtesies to Aviators.

Chas. B. Goddard, of St. Louis, representing the war camp community service, spent Wednesday in town. He came here to see if the people of North Platte were, or would extend the "glad hand" to the boys who are stationed here as the detail on the aviation field. He expressed himself as well pleased with the reception the boys had received and was glad to learn of the action of the canteen ladies in furnishing lunches to the boys, that the Samy Girls will give them a dance, that the Elks had extended them the courtesies of their home, and that citizens will entertain them at their homes.

School Attendance.

A report submitted by Supt. Tout to the board of education Monday evening showed on October 4th an enrollment of 1,531 in the city schools and thirty in the Baker school.

The enrollment in the several buildings at that time was as follows:

Central	154
Franklin	350
Jefferson	309
Washington	377
Lincoln	341

Forty-eight teachers are now employed and under a re-alignment of city school boundary lines and arrangements for two or three more rooms three additional teachers will be needed.

FIVE ARMY PLANES REACH NORTH PLATTE YESTERDAY

Five airplanes of the sixty which are participating in the trans-continental endurance test reached North Platte yesterday afternoon. Four of these came from the west, having left San Francisco Wednesday morning at sunrise, and one from the east which left the Minsola field near New York at about 9:15 Wednesday morning. This plane from the east was the first to arrive, its arrival time being 4:14 in the plane were Lieut. R. W. Maynard and electrician M. E. Kline. It was the intention to remain but thirty minutes at this control station, but in landing a tire blew out, which occasioned a delay of nineteen minutes and they did not again get in the air until 5:03. This plane expected to reach Cheyenne by sunset—the flying time constituting the period between sunrise and sunset. The time made by Lieut. Maynard between the St. Paul and North Platte stations, 118 miles was 59 1/2 minutes or at the rate of nearly two miles a minute. Wednesday night was spent in Chicago.

The second plane to land was from the west and contained Capt. L. W. Smith and Lieut. Ruggles, who reached here at 4:19 and left at 4:53. This plane would easily reach St. Paul and possibly Omaha before the end of the flying day.

The third plane with Lieut. E. C. Kiel and Sergeant McKee arrived at 4:45 and left at 5:15, and the fourth with Major Carl Spatz and Sergeant Tanner arrived at 4:54 and left at 5:24. The last to arrive was Lieut. R. S. Worthington who came in at 7:14 remained over night and left at 7:12 this morning.

Major Spatz, in speaking of his trip from Frisco to this city said he ran into a snow storm Wednesday west of Salt Lake and battled it for an hour and a half while at an elevation of fifteen thousand feet. From Salt Lake to this city there was a quartering wind practically all the distance that made traveling hard and tiresome, and the other men from the west had the same experience. Cutting out the time lost at control stations the planes averaged somewhat over a hundred miles an hour. Planes must spend not less than thirty minutes at each control station, and can if necessary demands remain forty-eight hours at a station, but if they remain longer than the latter period they are disqualified in the race.

The plane driven by Lieut. Worthington was an SE-5 type, the other four were De Havillands equipped with Liberty motors.

Lieut. Trunk, who has charge of the North Platte control station, stated last night that he expected that not less than ten planes will arrive today. He had not, however, been advised last night as to how many planes were spending the night at Sidney or St. Paul, the nearest station west and east respectively.

The planes are making much better time than was expected, for it was not thought probable that any of them would reach North Platte before this afternoon. The canteen ladies were therefore not in position to serve the fliers with hot coffee and lunches upon arrival here, and the men in at least two of the machines had not had anything to eat during the entire day. The canteen, however, had a tent erected early this morning and will serve coffee and lunches to all fliers who arrive.

Two days after the last plane arrives at its destination, the plane first arriving will start on its return trip, the war department having decided that the first shall include the round trip, a distance of nearly six thousand miles.

The men arriving yesterday gave evidence of the strenuous trip, their faces were reddened by the buffeting wind, they were numbed by the cold, and had to exercise to get up circulation.

Each plane has a 200-gallon gasoline tank, and at this station from twenty to forty gallons was supplied each plane. Two thousand gallons of gasoline had been shipped here for the planes, and about 250 gallons of castor oil for lubrication, this oil costing the government about four dollars a gallon. Lubrication oil such as we use in auto engines will not stand the heat produced by the high speed plane engines.

Round-up Attendance Light.

The attendance at the opening day of the Round-up yesterday was, on account of the blustery and cold weather, rather small. However, the full program of sports was gone through with and the spectators pronounced them good.

There are a large number of good riders on the grounds, many of the horses are real outlaws and the steeplechase could not be more wild and frisky. The management of the Round-up has provided excellent entertainment for the public and it is regretted that the weather conditions are so unfavorable.

Cincinnati Wins Pennant.

By defeating Chicago yesterday by a score of ten to five, Cincinnati won the pennant in the world's series ball games. Cincinnati won five games out of eight. When Chicago won Tuesday and Wednesday games, the backers of that team perked up and were confident of a victory yesterday, but when the first inning showing four runs for Cincinnati was bulletined, they lost heart. More local money was bet on yesterday's game than on any of the preceding games, the Chicago supporters backing their talk with the coin.

LAST CALL!

During the Lincoln County Fair week dozens of visitors and their families took advantage of my scheduled last week here. Many couldn't get into the single room to get waited on. Many have phoned in that due to the harvesting of their crops they were unable to come in during that week.

ROUND-UP SPECIAL.

To accommodate the many farmers and others who were unable to come in during the past week but who will be here for the Round-up, I have decided to stay here one more week.

HERE'S YOUR LAST CHANCE.

If you are one of those who intended to come in and see our line of merchandise, but were unable to do so, don't miss this last chance. It will pay you to come in as it paid hundreds of North Platte residents and outsiders who have already taken advantage of my past 12 weeks in this town.

AND THIS IS WHY:

- 1. LOW COST.
By selling our goods direct from our mills direct to you we eliminate the profits made by the wholesalers, jobbers and retailers. Then again the goods are made in Utah where the wool is grown in abundance.
