North Platte is promised a real show January 22d when "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" will be presented by a very excellent company. As the title would naturally suggest, the play is one big continuous laugh. The company is enroute to the Pacific coast and North Platte is fortunate in getting the production.

Every hat in the Millinery Department selling at one-half of marked price. THE LEADER MERCANTILE CO.

It is said that on the first of this month there were on the Union Pacific pay-roll at this terminal or associated with the allied interests, a total of nine hundred and seventy persons. Of these probably nine hundred are men of voting age, which means that about half our voting strength derive their support from the railroad. No, Platte can therefore be well termed a "railroad town."

Special—Kettle rendered lard. Brodbeck's Meat Market. 86tf

A colony of beavers have made their home on the banks of the river a few miles east of the city, and their work is watched with interest by a number of people. It is unlawful to kill the animals, but a land owner can secure permit to kill them upon showing that they are proving destructive to trees on his land. We understand that A. C. Burton, who owns land on Medicine creek and upon which there is a beaver colony will make application to exterminate them as they are cutting down many of his trees.

Special—Home cured bacon 35c per pound. Brodbeck's Meat Market. 774f

Bids for the construction of the proposed Twinem building will be received and opened about January 25th. It is hoped that the bids will not be too high for acceptance, as North Platte needs just such a building as Dr. Twinem contemplates erecting.

One of our oldest railroad employes says that from what he learns not over thirty per cent of the employes at North Platte are opposed to the Union Pacific going back to private control. Very few of the older men, he says, favors a continuance of government control or government ownership.

The Tribune's article on "Looking Backward" aroused considerable interest among the older residents especially, and there has arisen considerable speculation as to who is the oldest continuous resident in the city. No one questions W. H. McDonald as having lived the longest period in the county, but his earlier years were spent at Ft. McPherson. Probably T. C. Patterson has been a resident of North Platte for a longer period than any other person, and probably P. J. Gilman is next on the list. There are six or eight others who follow closely. John E. Evans, Charley Ell, George Austin, John Hinman, Joe Pillion, John Ottenstein and several others came here the early part of the 70's.

A Safe Place to Buy

In buying your car for the season of 1920, it might be well for you to consider the advantage of buying from this agency.

First-- Stability of the dealer. I have always handled nothing but good cars, have now sold Dodge Brothers cars for almost 5 years, and the Chandler line for over 2 1-2 years. I know these cars are good, as I have personally put them to all tests. Knowing they are good, I will back them to the limit in the hands of my purchasers.

Second--Responsibility and Stability of the Manufacturer.

I am proud to say that I represent two cars in which there has been no great mechanical change in the past five years. They were good products of the best engineering genius in the country and they have kept good. Dodge Brothers plant is the second largest in the industry and employs over 18,000 men. Their capital and genius seems unlimited. The Chandler factory goes into its seventh year with the largest production behind them in 1919 that they ever experienced and have increased their factory for an 80 per cent larger production for 1920. Such makers have always built for quality first, and the result has been that the buying public have put their products in a class by itself. Never have they been forced by small production or inadequate resources to raise their prices unduly as has been most common this past year. Try comparing Dodge and Chandler prices with those of any other line of car you know.

Third-- Local and dependable Service for the buyer.

I have always believed that local service meant more to the buyer and more to me in continued business with the same buyers, than anything else. I carry repair parts in stock for my two cars, and have limited our repair department to work on only those cars we have sold. We know these two cars, we can give you better and more intelligent service at less expense, than if we were trying to take care of every make. A permanent business must mean continued business with your old customers, and as they are satisfied, with their friends and acquaintances. Our chief aim is to satisfy all our owners as long as they have our cars. Such service makes this a safe place to buy both your passenger car and your truck transportation.

I invite you to come in and talk over your particular needs in the motor car line for next year, and would advise that you do not wait too long. The good standard cars are going to be much more in demand this year and production will be far short of filling the spring demand—I predict a much greater shortage than last spring. By the 10th of March, there will not be a standard car on the floor of any North Platte dealer which you can buy for immediate delivery. If you can get your order in now, we will protect you on a delivery date, those who wait will take their turn in waiting for delivery, when the cars are available. Today is not a day too soon to get your order filed. Buy when you can buy at the fair prices now on Dodge Brothers and Chandler cars, they may be forced upwards any day.

J. V. ROMIGH, Dealer.
