SNAILS RETURNING TO PARIS

That Is, They Are Again to Be Served in Smart Restaurants of the Gay City.

For the first time for years the Paris restaurants are now sending orders to the snall farms in the provinces, as well as to Italy and Switzerland. The snalls are collected during June and July by women and children, and must be as tenderly handled as eggs, for on no account must the shell be cracked. At the farm they are placed one by one on grass in fine wire enclosures, and are fed on lettuce and cabbage. A large cabbage in an enclosure with two hundred snails will disappear in an hour, A large business is done in "runners" (as the snalls are called when they run about) all the year round to meet the tastes of less fastidious diners. and the largest gray-shelled snallthe best of the edible ones-is in danger of being exterminated by being collected during the breeding season. "Runners" must not be packed with fresh grass or they will overeat themselves, have indigestion and so spoil their flavor. There are people who collect the larger gray shells to sell to the smaller restaurats that an Inferior order of snail, or even the humble mussel, may be substituted. The spall which is to tempt the palate of the epicure must not be eaten before the last week in September. The snails are usually packed in flat boxes. or baskets containing from 1,000 to 1,500 each. Their storage is not an easy matter, for they must be kept at a carefully regulated temperature. for a degree too much heat will deceive them into the belief that spring has arrived, and they will wake and crawl about.

SECOND TIME WAS THE LAST

Impulsive Youngster Gave Promise Not to Disturb Neighbor, Through Thoughtlessness, Again.

Mother and I had just moved to a new flat in a row where the entrances were all similar. The first evening when I came home I passed our entrance without observing the number. Finding the outside door open I ran up to the second floor, tried my key. and could not unlock the door. Then I knocked and, bearing no response, shook the door violently. When a amber was a specific for deafness, and strange man in a dressing gown ground with honey a remedy for deopened the door I apologized pro- fective sight.

Easy to Trace Appellations That Have Been Given to Distinctive Makes of Automobiles.

The first sedans were portable enclosed chairs carried on poles by two men. They were extremely popular in England and are still used in China and India. The modern sedan has an enclosed body and accommodates seven nussengers,

"Linousine" was originally the name of a cloak worn in France, and probably originated from Limousin, the name of an old province in central France. Today it is applied to the chauffeur-driven car with an enclosed compartment. The driver's sent is outside, but covered by a roof. "Rondster" was first applied to vessels that worked their way by means of the fides. Later it was used for bicycles. The modern roudster has an open body and was designed primarily for two persons, but of recent years the four-door roadster, accommodating four passengers, has met with popular favor.

The "touring car," which is the most familiar type of car, takes its name from the fact that it is used by motorists on lengthy tours. It is an open car also, with a tonneau and four doors, seating seven passengers.

Edible Fish Found at Great Depths. While there are many varieties and great quantities of curious fish in the abysmal depths (some have been trawled up from depths of three miles and more), none of these are eatable. The limit to which fish fit for food are found is 1,600 feet. Even so, the discovery that valuable food fishes live in far deeper water opens up amazing possibilities, and will have a most important bearing on the future food supply of the world.

The North sea, which has for ages supplied most of the fish markets of western Europe, is so shallow that, except in a very few places, a building as high as St. Paul's cathedral, placed on the bottom, would stick out above the surface. It has generally been considered useless to fish in greater

Amber was the first precious stone made use of for the purposes of personal adornments, Homer mentions "the gold necklace hung with bits of amber" which was offered by the Phoenician trader to the queen of Syria, and Nero, in one of his badlycomposed verses to Poppaea's hair, described it as of an "amber" shade. The Romans valued amber highly, not alone for its beauty, but also for the medicinal qualities which they believed it to contain. In their opinion, an amulet of amber, worn round the neck, was an infallible cure for ague or chills; ground up with honey and rose oil,

NEW STYLE OF ARCHITECTURE

Long Sought and Made Possible Only Through the Employment of Modern Reinforced Concrete.

Planning a memorial church to be built entirely of concrete, an American architect introduces a novel mode of construction and claims to have found what architects for centuries have failed to produce-an entirely new and pure style of architecture. Pure, because it conforms to all the essential ideas of architecture; new, because only modern reinforced concrete has made it possible." The structure takes advantage of the plasticity of reinforced concrete, and the building. which would be practically monolithic when finished, would have its external and internal forms identical to a degree new to architecture; its vaults would spring direct from the floor level and there would be no separating distinction between walls and roof. In fact, one might say that the building would be "all roof, and have no structural walls whatever." Architectural opinion may fail of unanimous approval; yet it must be admitted that the plan seems to adapt Itself logically to the medium in which It is to be worked out, which is an Important point in its favor .- Exchange.

The next evening when I ran up the stairs, tried my key, and heard a man's heavy tread approaching I had sense enough to realize my mistake and made a dive for the outside door. Just then the man's voice called

Undecisive Character.

A person of undecisive character wonders how ait the embarrassments in the world happened to meet exactly in his way, to place him just in that one situation for which he is peculiarly unadapted, but in which he is also willing to think no other man could have acted with facility or confidence. Incapable of setting up a firm purpose on the basis of things as they are, he is often employed in vain speculations on some different supposable state of things, which would have saved him from all this perplexity and irresolution. He thinks what a determined course he could have pursued if his talents, his health, his age had been different; if he had been acquainted with some one person sooner, if his friends were, in this or the other point, different from what they are; or if fortune had showered her favors on him. And he gives himself as much license to complain as if all these advantages had been among the rights of his nativity, but refused, by a malignant or capricious ton. fate, to his life .- Rev. John Foster.

Bees Took Carload of Sugar. Near the station of Fontainebleau, France, a carload of crystallized sugar was held up and within four days the entire load had disappeared in spite of the guards.

Not far from the station of Avon there are large bee farms, and while the bees covered the car in swarms no one supposed that they could carry away the crystallized sugar. Nor could they. But industriously and ingeniously they betook themselves to nearby basins and fountains and carried drops of water to melt the sugar! The dampened sugar formed a sirup that was 32, located 12 miles south of Tryon, easily transported to the hives.

Admonishing Them.

"Looky here now !" sternly said the snow is oc, as it will be sold upon doubtable sleuth of Petunia. "This diabolical practice of matching pennies on the sidewalk has got to stop! Why, dod-blast it, every few days when I come along walking my beat, with my head high like an officer of the law ort to carry his'n, I fall over a bunch of you infernal young cusses and get my uniform all dusty !"-Kansas City Star.

Eighteenth-Century Amusements, In the eighteenth century dancing and card playing were the two chief amusements of the court and the fash ionable world. Cheating at cards was not only tolerated, but admired as clever and smart.

Fancy dress balls were very popular in the olden days, but they do not appear to have been carried out with as much propriety as in our times. Every effort was made to confine the audience to "the quality," and to prevent drunkenness and disorder, but without success. As for dancing, it was like cards, "a diversion for grave and gay alike." Men did not stand out half the program in those days; they were as keen for the dance as their fair partners.
