

WYOMING CONVICT ESCAPES FROM WARDEN AT DEPOT

Harvey C. Wallace, an escaped convict from the Wyoming penitentiary at Rawlins who was being returned to that institution by acting warden W. K. Brien, made his getaway at the depot in this city Tuesday night and is still at large. Wallace had been sentenced to the penitentiary for burglary for a period of two to five years. He made his escape and was arrested at Boone, Iowa. The warden went to Boone to get his man and on the return trip stopped over in this city to get some rest, placing Wallace in the county jail for safe keeping. At midnight the warden to the jail and getting his man returned to the depot to await train No. 15. While in the depot Wallace asked permission to go to the toilet room and his request was granted. Falling to return in a reasonable length of time, the warden went to look for his man but found he had fled. Though hobbled with a sixteen inch steel shoe, Wallace had gone to an open window on the east side of the screen and crawled through. He was tracked in the snow for several blocks and then the trail was lost. The warden placed $100 in the hand of County Attorney Keeffe to be paid as a reward for the arrest of the escaped man.

Brood Sow Produces $444.
Last May a sow belonging to Chas. Smith who lives a few miles east of town produced a litter of fourteen pigs. Twelve of these were raised and fattened, two of which were killed for family use. This week Mr. Smith sold the remaining ten for $370. Figuring the two butchered, the total value of the litter was $444. Mr. Smith says that even at prevailing prices the farmer who says it does not pay to grow hogs don't know how to raise them.

Mr. Wright Goes Wrong.

On January 21st John W. Wright, of Stapleton, appeared at the county judge's office accompanied by a lady, asked for a marriage license and requested the judge to perform the ceremony. The requests were granted and Wright gave the judge a check for the five dollars, signed "Mrs. F. D. Greeley by J. W. Wright". The check was deposited and returned by the bank on which it was drawn with the notation "signature not authorized," as a result Judge Woodhurst is out the five dollars, as the license and ceremony fees must be accounted for by him. The Judge vows that never again will he accept a check for licenses and ceremonies.

Eleven Horses Burned to Death.

Eleven horses were burned to death Wednesday night in a fire that gutted the interior of the North Side livery barn. The fire, of unknown origin, was discovered about one o'clock, and had gained such a headway that it was being covered with corrugated iron and the outside of the building is covered with corrugated iron and the walls remain intact but the inside wood work was badly burned and charred.

OUR MISTAKE

We beg your pardon, the P. F. E. Company is to erect a 1/2 Million Feing plant instead of a 5 million which we have advertised in our bulletin and elsewhere. Yours truly,

DR. BARTHOLOMEW TALKS ON THE SOCIAL EVIL QUESTION

Dr. Bartholomew, representing the state board of health as well as the federal board of health, met with the city council and heads of various civic societies and churches Tuesday evening and discussed the social evil. The doctor was introduced by Mayor Streltz and gave a talk on venereal diseases, and while he did not quote statistics, he said the prevalence of these diseases was such as to be a menace to the country. Last year the physicians of Nebraska alone reported that they had treated over 5,000 cases; there were probably many more cases not reported. Dr. Bartholomew recited the nature of the diseases, the effect upon the system and some of the ways of contracting them. For instance: A syphilitic street fruit dealer blew his breath on apples and then polished them with a rag. Two small girls each purchased and ate an apple from his stand and contracted syphilis from a germ the fruit dealer had blown on the apple and had not wiped off. This was one of the many ways the diseases might be contracted.

The doctor recommended that a hygienic committee for the city be appointed and that a social worker be employed, this social worker to act in conjunction with the physicians of the city in ascertaining victims of the diseases. He also advocated the establishment of a public clinic for treatment of the diseases.

Acting upon the recommendation of Dr. Bartholomew, a hygienic committee consisting of Leslie Baskins, Mrs. R. F. Cotterell, Miss Annie Kramph, J. H. VanCleave, and D. M. Leybold was appointed by Mayor Streltz.

Dr. Bartholomew recommended that the social worker be employed by and paid from funds of the Red Cross chapter. At a meeting of the Red Cross directors Wednesday evening the employment of this social worker was discussed at length.

The board finally decided to appropriate $600 for a welfare worker, which it was thought would carry on the work for four months. If the move is successful, the expense can afterwards be borne by the city. Efforts will be at once made to secure a suitable person as the welfare worker, though at this time it is not known where such can be secured.

India Pageant at Methodist Church

The India mass movement Pageant, showing how the caste system is being broken down and whole villages under the leadership of their mayors are seeking Christian baptism, will be presented in dramatic form in the M. E. church Sunday morning, February 8th, at 11:00 o'clock. The pageant will be directed by the Rev. C. E. Parker and the Rev. M. D. Ross, both of whom have served as missionaries in India for a number of years right in the midst of the mass movement and are intimately acquainted with exotic features of that country.

The production will be a representation of the astounding movement of the native masses of India toward Christianity, with a setting of the native life, modes of dress, customs and superstitions of the people. The "Raja Ysu Aya Song" which has had a tremendous influence in the Christianizing of India, will be sung in the vernacular by the players in costume grouped about the village Chaudhri and there will be added touches which the directors are able to give because of their intimate knowledge of the mannerisms and habits of the people of India.

Basket ball games between the boys and the girls' teams of the Lexington schools and the local high school teams will be played at the Franklin auditorium tomorrow evening.

It may snow or storm a little, but spring and balmy air and good roads will be soon be here. Good, standard cars are not in storage this winter to deliver to you when you want them in the spring. Production has been held back some, but anyway, the demand has been larger than production, and good cars are short for delivery right today.
