The Boy Scouts' council held a meeting Tuesday, adopted a constitution and by-laws for the government of the Scouts and decided to start a campaign for funds with which to establish a camp for the scouts on the Mrs. George Roberts farm near Maxwell.
On the last page of today's Tribune will be found the dance ordinance passed by the council Tuesday evening. People who dance should read this ordinance for it plainly states just how you shall hold the lady when dancing and some things you must not do.
E. T. Whelan spent a day or two at Chappell this week going over the state aid road which he has received the contract to grade. This stretch of a road is ten miles in length running east from Chappell. Eventually the other ten or twelve miles between Chappell and Big Springs will be graded.
He vowed to protect with his life those giants of the forest—those massive redwoods. But when he returned he found that the hoary giant that guarded his mother's grave had been desecrated; his mother's grave had been destroyed. Then it was man against man. See the story, "The Valley of the Giants", with Wallie Reid, at the Keith Monday and Tuesday.

High School Entertainment.
This evening the high and junior high school students will give an entertainment at the Franklin auditorium, giving a varied program of stunts that will both interest and please. There will be selections by the high school band, a one-act play, readings by Mildred Skinner and May Browning, feats of legerdemain and a minstrel stunt by thirteen boys who will sing and crack a number of new jokes. The admission is placed at fifty cents and the proceeds will be used to pay certain deficits which exist in the athletic department.
Will Soon Play Ball.
This weather which Observer Shilling has been giving us this week has not been conducive to base ball enthusiasm, but Shilling now promises us better things, and as soon as the grounds dry and are put in shape practice on the diamond will begin. Having secured the services of two pitchers and a catcher for a season of four months, and with a plenty of local talent to fill the other positions, the North Platte team will have a line up that is likely to put a good taste in mouths of the fans. While the financial backing of the team is not just as strong as the management would like to have at the start of the season, the Chamber of Commerce has promised to help out as far as possible. By the middle of next month the season will open and The Tribune suggests that the opening game be made a big event and that everybody be urged to attend.
The Municipal Band.
The Municipal Band has begun rehearsals for the summer work and starts out with a membership of twenty-six and with a possibility of an increase in the number of members. Beginning this year the band is promised the proper support; a support that heretofore has never been given it. In addition to being the beneficiary of a one mill levy on city property—which will create a revenue of $800 or $900—the organization has been promised financial support from the Chamber of Commerce. One thing that is really needed for the band is new uniforms; those which have been in service are somewhat shabby, and not all members are even thus provided. To uniform the band will cost in the neighborhood of $800. It is hoped that some means can be devised for securing these funds.
There is no discounting the ability of the organization, it has always been regarded as one of the best in the state, and with the support it is assured, it will become even better.

Discuss Water Questions.
At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening much of the time was devoted to the water question—the extension of water mains and plans for getting rid of the flood waters which flow through the streets. As to the extension of water mains, the preliminary work is being pushed along as rapidly as possible and it is hoped that at the first meeting in May the council will be ready to submit a bona fide proposition to the voters. Under the law only $50,000 can be voted, whereas under the plans outlined by Water Commissioner Welch, at least $150,000 would be needed. However, the mayor and council will go as far as possible with the funds available and complete the work when the law is changed so that bonds in a greater amount can be voted. The pumping plant must be rejuvenated and additions to the capacity made, a new pump being an imperative necessity.
The mayor and council renewed the discussion of the west end drainage ditch which had been pretty well threshed out a meeting and the preceding evening. This ditch will not cost less than $15,000, and where the money is to come from is not altogether clear. The matter was put up to the city attorney who will digest the statutes and see how the funds can legally be obtained.

Twentieth Century Club Meeting.
The Twentieth Century Club was entertained at the spacious home of Mrs. D. M. Leybold on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Harry Porter and Mrs. Frank Yearsley assisting hostesses.
The report of the Clean Up campaign was given, and plans for the annual Dandelion Dig were discussed. All children who dig a certain number of bushels of dandelions will be the guests of the Club at a picnic, and the child who digs the most will be given an additional prize.
The program consisted of the Community Sing with Mrs. Gilfoy as leader, a piano solo by Miss Leota Schramm; Mrs. Ethel Cotterell conducted the Household Economics and Americanization in a very pleasing manner; Mrs. I. L. Stebbins conducted a display of needle work and handicraft of different foreign countries which was of interest. These things all help us to appreciate what we are receiving unconsciously from the foreigner, and help us towards mutual appreciation so needful in true Americanization.
The afternoon closed with delicious refreshments and all hurried to the polling places to exercise their new political rights.
Mrs. C. F. Spencer, Press Cor.

Carl Brodbeck Passes Away.
Carl Brodbeck, aged fifty-seven, and a resident of North Platte since 1889, died at the Wise Memorial Hospital in Omaha Tuesday evening following an operation for abscess on a lung performed ten days previously. For a week following the operation his condition was considered satisfactory and physicians and relatives were hopeful of recovery, but a turn for the worse ensued and death came Tuesday.
The remains were brought home Wednesday night and the funeral held from the residence at 219 east Ninth street at ten o'clock this forenoon.
Carl Brodbeck was born in Germany in 1863 and came direct from that country to North Platte in 1889, and for this period of thirty years was employed as a butcher by his brother Chris Brodbeck. He attended very closely to his work, his home was his pleasure and his recreation and he lived the life of a good citizen. He leaves a wife, one son and a daughter.
