Huge Irrigation District.

A Washington special to the World-Herald says: Five hundred thousand acres of land between North Platte and Kearney, Nebraska, will become part of a mammoth irrigated section if a survey being urged by John Neff, of Lexington, is approved by the government and finds favor at congressional hands, so that appropriation would be made for it.

Mr. Neff represents the Chambers of Commerce of North Platte and Kearney, and a citizens' organization in the towns between those two points. He had a conference today with the reclamation service and says he is hopeful that approval of the survey will be forthcoming soon.

Some idea of the magnitude of the project may be gained when it is known that the total of all lands in irrigable projects west of Bridgeport is about 94,000 acres. The great benefits resulting to that section would be greatly multiplied, it is asserted, in the territory between North Platte and Kearney.

Irrigation projects that exist between these cities now are comparatively small and are dependent upon purchase of water from the Pathfinder dam, near Whalen, Wyo. There is an immense loss of water by evaporation in this long carriage. Water users and prospective water users east of North Platte want to avoid this.

This can be done only by constructing a vast storage reservoir closer to the project. It is this and other features the practicability of which could be determined by a survey.—Pioneer.

Shortage of Hogs.

The assessor's schedules returned to the county assessor show a rather alarming decrease in the number of hogs in Lincoln county as well as a decrease in the number of cattle. It is probable that the same percentage of decrease will be found in practically every county in Nebraska.

The price of cattle and hogs, and especially the latter, when compared with the price of corn, has discouraged farmers and they have reduced their herds and will not increase until prices go higher.

NOTICE OF THE FORMATION OF PAVING DISTRICT NUMBER 6 IN THE CITY OF NORTH PLATTE, NEBB.

To the owners of the record title of all property adjacent to or abutting upon the streets hereinafter described and all persons interested therein:

You and each of you are hereby notified that the Mayor and City Council of the City of North Platte, did under date of June 1, 1920 pass and approve a certain ordinance forming and creating paving district Number 6 of the City of North Platte, Lincoln County, Nebraska, and that the following streets, including the intersections thereof, within the limits of the City are comprised within said paving district to-wit:

All that portion of 5th street of said City, commencing on the West line of Bryan Avenue, in said City, at the intersection of 5th street with said Bryan Avenue; thence West along said 5th street to the East line of Pine street; where the same intersects said 5th street.

Unless objections are filed as required by Statute, within twenty days from the first publication of this notice the Mayor and City Council shall proceed to construct such paving.

Dated this 16th day of June, 1920.

A. F. STRETT, Mayor.

THE TABERNACLE MEETINGS.

The union tabernacle meetings are growing with increasing interest and Tuesday evening saw the largest crowd of the campaign. A feature of this service was the visit of the auto caravan of thirty-five people enroute to Scotts Bluff for the Sunday School Association.

Another feature of the campaign is the singing of Mr. Wickland whose solo work is splendid. The chorus singing alone is worth coming to the tabernacle to hear.

Mr. Rayburn has in his broad experience, become an expert diagnostician of the many ills that retard and kill the progress of Christianity. He does not have to be told your faults and sins to hit them. After all in one's need of God we are all so much alike and yet so different. These likenesses and the differences are both familiar to the evangelist. His earnestness, simplicity and fearlessness are winning and gripping the community.

The cottage prayer meetings are held in over twenty homes at ten every morning except Saturday. A number of them are reporting 100% prayer meetings which means that every one present offers prayer.

Wednesday evening Mr. Rayburn spoke on the subject of the "Paralytic." This unfortunate, malignantly diseased and helpless fellow was restored by a miracle. His case of physical healing through the assistance of his friends and the power of Jesus compared in three particular ways with Christ's present day miracles in healing paralytic souls.

In the first place this poor man felt his utter helplessness requiring from the Lord a miracle that has lived repeatedly in such miraculous healing of character as Harry Monroe and Mr. Hadley. But this man could not help himself at all. Sinners are the same way. They would never in a thousand years ask for a tabernacle meeting or some form of campaign for the healing of their souls upon their own initiative. Their friends, Christian friends, must do this for them. That is always the case. It is the prayer meeting crowd upon which God must depend for his work.

In the next place there were certain forbidding circumstances from without that made it impossible for the paralytic to help himself. So in the case of sinners. Some will combine against these meetings. It was the crowd around Christ that kept so many from following him. So the crowd today has the same influence. The knockers, and the sneerers, and the fault finders are with us. Much of this comes from church members too.

This is an age of fads. Fads are in everything. But of many kinds of fads journalism has had its share in the last few years. One of these journalistic fads has been the writing of constant editorials on the question of what is the matter with the church. Their conclusions are generally to the effect that preachers and folks within the church are all wrong and old-fashioned and out-of-date. They put 95% of the blame on the preachers. But the fault is with themselves. They would rather have a good time and spend their Sundays being entertained.

Another fad of today places a gulf between the church and the laboring man. There never was a greater untruth. There is no more gulf between the laboring man and the church than between the church and doctors, or clerks or any other class of people. The fact of the difference is between human nature and God, between inclination and a quickened christian conscience. This so called fad is a piece of moonshine. The Presbyterians thought they would solve the labor question and built a labor temple in Philadelphia. They failed. It was a fad. We are tired of so many swivel-chair experts and drives and experiments and need to get down to preaching the old-fashioned gospel.

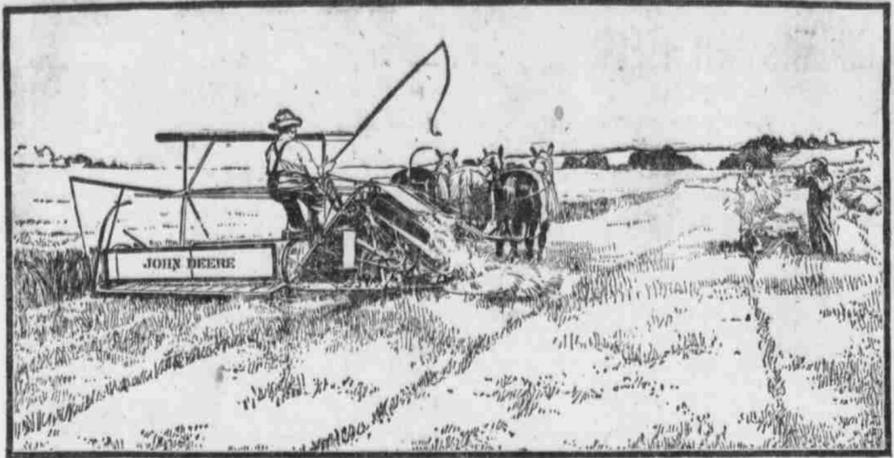

Lots of churches and preachers are ecclesiastical refrigerators where they leak the people to keep them all week. If he were going back into the pastorate he would choose a church made up of working and salaried people and not a church of wealth. The Ladies' Home Journal made an investigation some years ago regarding the welcome given people in churches. This was a fad. But many people in churches do wear a "keep off the grass" attitude and keep people from making their acquaintance. This is often indifference rather than coldness.

Again this unfortunate paralytic was carried by four friends who let him down thru a roof. They realized his utter helplessness. Lots of people don't care what becomes of others. A poor unfortunate child prostitute was sent to York the other day. Many don't care. What a fact to know that in Jesus only can people be saved. Not by mud baths and massages but by Jesus alone can soul paralysis be healed. A man dies. He had never gone to church in all his life and would not go if living. His friends grab the six handles of his coffin and take him into the church and tell a lot of lies about him and sing "Asleep in Jesus." What lies are told at funerals as they preach them into heaven! At such a funeral some one will say, and in the presence of children too, "Well I guess if you live as well as he you will be all right." Such lies! Only in Jesus can one find the lifeboat of safety as seen in Acts 4:12, "for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved."

Dependable Through Thick and Thin

Above everything else you want dependability built into the grain binder you buy. You want your binder to go into your grain fields, no matter what the conditions may be, and cut the grain with the least possible loss of time and grain.

We are selling the John Deere Grain Binder because we know it will give you that dependable binder service which makes it a profitable investment.

From the bottom up it's a better-built grain binder. Bigger and stronger roller-bearing wheels; heavier one-piece main frame widely lapped and hot-riveted together; strong, rigid platform; three packers instead of two, assuring better bundles in all kinds of grain—these are just a few of the features that make it the better binder.

Another feature you will appreciate on this binder is the easily-operated bundle carrier.

No effort to hold it in receiving position or to dump it. Because the teeth rise out of the stubble the instant you start to return the carrier, it's exceptionally easy to bring it back to receiving position. And it's no trick to keep this carrier always in easy-working order—simple adjustments are provided to accomplish this. Because the teeth drop the instant the carrier is dumped, the bundles are not scattered.

The Quick Turn Tongue Truck adds much to the effective work of the John Deere. The wheels turn faster than the pole, making clean, square corners possible. Because the truck axle is flexibly mounted, both wheels hold to the ground no matter how rough the fields may be. This keeps the binder running straight, and takes off the side draft from the horses.

Throughout the John Deere, you will find just the kind of construction that you expect in a good grain binder. We believe it will cut more acres of grain at less cost per acre than any other machine on the market—that's what you are interested in.

Come in and see this binder. It won't take long to show it to you. When you get it in the field you will be just as enthusiastic about it as we are. You can't make a better binder investment.

New Party is Now Launched.

New York, June 15.—The executive committee of the committee of forty-eight announced tonight that formation of a new party on a platform of government ownership of transportation and national resources is overwhelmingly favored in replies received to its questionnaires from every state.

Taxation of idle land, labor's effort to share in the management of industry and the complete restoration of free speech, press and assembly were other planks endorsed, it was stated.

"Among those favored for the presidential and vice presidential candidates for the new party, a statement said 'are Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Governor Lynn Frazier, Governor Frank P. Walsh and Chief Justice Walter Clark of North Carolina.'"

Progressives "of all shades of opinions from both the old parties," will attend the convention in Chicago, July 10, according to reports received from forty-eight state organizations of the committee.
