UNION TABERNACLE CAMPAIGN.

The attendance Sunday was the largest of the campaign. About fifteen hundred almost filled the big tabernacle Sunday evening, to hear Evangelist Rayburn speak on "Hell, What It Is, and What It Is Not."

Sunday evening a splendid feature of the service was a children's choir of 125 voices. They rendered several selections to the delight of the audience. Sunday morning Mr. Rayburn spoke to a large congregation on the subject "The Missing Disciple." This missing disciple was Thomas.

He said in this sermon that there are times when Jesus especially reveals himself. One of these times is when two or three are gathered together in his name. Another time is at the table of communion and a third time is that of a special revival campaign.

Thomas, by his absence from that upper room with the other disciples, missed the joy of Christ's presence and blessing, his peace that "passeth understanding," his divine emphasis on service and the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. But greatest of all he became for a period of ten days the worst skeptic on record. He would not believe the testimony of eye witnesses. This is a bad state of mind for folks to get into. But many never get out of such doubts.

In the afternoon Evangelist Rayburn spoke to three hundred men on the subject of "Big Business." He used the text "I will make you to become fishers of men." He deplored the fact that today boys have too much idle time on their hands to make them sturdy men. Jesus never called a loafer or a coward. He has no job at all for the coward. Mr. Rayburn brought out the influence of Jesus Christ on the lives of some prominent business men of national reputation. Henry Crowell of Quaker Oats fame is a Christian and President of the Board of Trustees of the Moody Bible Institute. He is all the time interested in evangelism and gives much time to it. H. J. Hines, the pickle man, was a great Sunday School worker and one time State President of Sunday Schools. He showed a real christian interest in the care and interest of his employees. A. A. Hyde who has made a great fortune with Mentholatum sold a few years ago 5,000,000 jars at a net profit to himself of $100,000. He told the evangelist that of this amount he lived on $10,000 and gave away $90,000. He is much interested in missions to which he gives large sums. John Huyler is especially mentioned. This great candy man has taken keen interest in a variety of Christian activities but to none with more interest than the old Water Street Mission of which he became President of its Board when its leaders were Jerry McCauley and Sam Hadley. He has paid for as high as 50,000 meals and 20,000 beds in a year to unfortunates. The fact is there is as much difference in the characters of rich men as in those of poor men.

Sunday evening was the greatest of Mr. Rayburn's services. Four responded to the invitation and hit the trail. His subject was on hell and he faced the unpleasant facts without flinching. During the sermon, even though the weather was cool, the evangelist pulled off his coat and put a vigor into his delivery not seen before. His earnest and passionate appeal at the close struck home to hundreds of church members whose interest has been the most passive. He says that Jesus in teaching of hell used the strongest imagery possible. That was the awful and repulsive Gehenna in the valley of Hinnom. This Gehenna which is Greek, was the place where the city's refuse burned with an unquenchable fire. In the carrion of the dead animals the worm "dieth not." It was a place more odious than any other to the Jew and particularly so as it had been the place where the heathen for over two thousand years burned their children to the God Moloch.

The Greek word translated "eternal" is used alike when describing death and punishment beyond the grave as well as heaven and God's everlasting rewards. Every argument used for heaven applies to Hell. One is as rational as the other. Both are facts taught distinctly in the Bible. The miseries of Hell are eternal. Some dispute this. Bob Ingersoll laughed at the idea of a "bottomless pit." He declared he was not afraid of anything that had no bottom. This idea of a bottomless pit means that we get worse and worse in hell until there is no end or bottom to this eternal growth of sin. We talk of God as a loving God. He is a god that hates as strong as he loves. There are people who don't believe in Hell but say that the wicked will be annihilated. The crooked adulterer Russel of Millennial Dawn fame was one of them. Then there are those that preach a final restoration, that after death all will have another chance. Mormons teach this lie. But the Bible says "There is a great gulf fixed." These were Jesus own words. We will be punished in hell according to our opportunities. The opportunities in North Platte to become a Christian have been of the very best. He would rather go to hell an ignorant Hottentot than from North Platte.

The women's meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church at 3:00 and was addressed by Mr. Wickland. Beginning Tuesday from 10:00-10:30 a. m. there will be held some business men's meetings. Tuesday's meeting was held in the store of Derryberry and Forbes. These are not prayer meetings but will have a song by Mr. Wickland and followed by a live address by Mr. Rayburn. Tuesday afternoon there will be no service owing to the Government films to be shown in the Crystal Theatre. Tuesday evening Mr. Rayburn will preach the second of his sermons on the life after the grave. The subject is "The Greatest Question and Its Answer."
