

Backache Slowing You Up?

Are you dragging along with a dull, throbbing backache? Feel lame mornings, tired all day; suffer torturing twinges at every move? Often the kidneys are to blame. A cold, strain or overwork congests the kidneys; poisons accumulate and mysterious aches and pains result. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with perhaps bladder irregularity. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands. Ask your neighbor!

A Nebraska Case
Chas. Vanberg, stationary engineer, 1115 Sixth St., Aurora, Neb., says: "I met with an accident about a year ago and when I recovered I noticed that my kidneys were disordered. I suffered from pain across my back both day and night and the kidney secretions were highly colored. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, and they removed the soreness and aching in my back and regulated my kidneys."

Its Identity.
"Rip Rumble is a—hee! hee! hee!—wag!" chuckled old Riley Reeziew of Petunia. "He told me he was going to Kay See for a surgical operation—anyhow, he guessed likely he'd have his pocket book removed."
"We do not see anything especially waggish to that statement," returned the editor of the Weekly Palladium. "Knowing Ripley as we do and having been in Kansas City several times, ourselves, we consider it a plain and plausible presentation of a perfectly probable possibility."—Kansas City Star.

PERFECTION IN BATHING SUIT

WE ARE not apt to think of beach or bathing suits as becoming garments—in fact, they are considered the acid test for good looks. But they have been progressing for several years in the direction of becomingness. The suits intended only for beach wear, having graduated from the bizarre and showy types, have arrived at the place where they are really attractive. But "attractive" is too mild a term to apply to some of this year's beach or bathing suits—they deserve to be called beautiful and they possess that quality in style which women describe as stunning. After a world of experimenting, along comes a genius and shows just how superb and glorified a bathing suit may be. As a witness to its possibilities for beauty, there is an example shown in the illustration.

This suit appears to be made of taffeta, although satin might be used for it. Blue or gray piped with a contrasting color, or a brighter color lined with black, make combinations with sufficient life in them. It consists of a pair of full knickerbockers, built out at the sides to simulate a short skirt and shaped into bands that fit closely over the knees and buttocks at the sides, where the round buttons are shown, covered with satin like the pipings in color.

A kimono bodice with a surplice front, is extended below the waistline and prettily decorated with sprays of daisies, one near the bottom and a single blossom at the bust line. At each side of the front, pieces are set on to form the girde which fastens at the back. Another pretty touch appears in the sleeves which are split up a little way on the under side and laced with narrow ribbons that tie in a bow. A hat of rubberized silk, cloth sandals and silk hose are as faultless as the suit they complete. So arrayed a pretty woman might make comparisons with any other dress, odious—to the other dress.

Ginghams for Little Girls

WHEN designers of children's clothes began making up little dresses of checked gingham, in cheerful colors, and using organdy for collars, cuffs and sashes, and in other decorative features, they hit upon the most successful idea of the present season. These little models have proved so universally pleasing and so pretty that new designs come out in the shops with each new display of children's clothes. The combination has been borrowed for older people, with the best results and now there's no age limit for organdy-trimmed checked gingham. It has a rival in plain chambray, or other plain dress cottons, in dainty colors, with which organdy is used in the same way. Both organdy and plain chambray help to make dresses of plaid gingham interesting.

An example of both the checked and plaid gingham, made up with accessories of white organdy, appears in the illustration above. They are simple and easy to make and suited to little maids from six or seven to twelve or thirteen years. The checked gingham is cut in one piece and plaid in at the waistline. A frill of organdy, with narrow, hemstitched hem, finishes the neck and three-quarter length sleeves and both are bound with a narrow, bias fold of the gingham. There are patch pockets of organdy with frill across the top and a binding of gingham. An organdy sash is placed under the panel of gingham at the front of the waist. The panel is cut on the bias of the material and pointed at the bottom and there are small, flat pearl buttons at each side of it.

In the plaid gingham dress a plaid skirt is joined to an underbodice. The waist has bias fronts extended below the waistline and bound with organdy, and it fastens with three large pearl buttons. Long sleeves are unusual in this year's dresses, but they appear in this little model, with organdy cuffs. The neck is finished with a collar that is plain like the cuffs.

NOBLE RELICS OF THE PAST

Triumphal Arch of Titus, at Rome, and the Colosseum, Are Splendid in Their Ruin.

The Triumphal Arch of Titus to Rome, was built in 70 A. D. to commemorate the defeat of the Jews, and was dedicated to the Emperor Titus after his death. It is adorned with fine sculptures in relief. On the frieze outside is a sacrificial procession and on the inner side Titus is seen crowned by Victory in a quadriga driven by Roma. On another part of the arch is a triumphal procession of Jews, the Table of Show Bread, and the seven-branched candlestick. In the center of the vaulting the consecrated emperor is seen being carried to heaven by an eagle.

In 1882 the arch was a set of ruins, and some of the medieval additions were removed and it was partly reconstructed. The colosseum, with seats for 50,000 spectators, originally called the Flavian amphitheater, was completed by Titus in the year 80 A. D., and derives its later name, probably, from a colossal statue of Nero. The colosseum is now all in ruins.

Safe as a Bank.

In examination in bankruptcy proceedings Mrs. Helen Hunt, widow, of Lee Bankroad, Birmingham, England, said she did not keep a banking account.
"Where did you keep your money?"
"In a safe place outside the house, with a faithful friend."
"The dog," said Mrs. Hunt. "I used to put the money in a cash-box under the kennel, and nobody dared go near the kennel."
"Nearly £3,000 ($15,000) under a dog's kennel?"
"Yes," said Mrs. Hunt. She did not think a bank was safer.

Gently Sarcastic.

At half past eleven Mr. Stone retired. In a few minutes the telephone rang, and he hurried downstairs to find that there was no one on the line. He had just snuggled into his warm bed when the telephone rang again, and he answered it a second time.
It proved to be a man who wished to interest him in a new automobile. When the conversation was ended, the caller said, "I hope I have not inconvenienced you?"
"Not at all," said Mr. Stone. "I was sitting right in front of the telephone thinking that some one might call me up."—Youth's Companion.

Few Bricks Came From England.

The late George Alfred Townsend established beyond controversy that, while there may have been a few isolated instances of cargoes of bricks from England, not one colonial house in fifty, for which such claim is made, included English bricks in its composition.—From a letter in the Baltimore Sun.

Prayed for Cure Finds it After 10 Years
Food Would Sour and Boil —Teeth Like Chalk

Mr. Herbert M. Gessner writes from his home in Berlin, N. H.:
I had stomach trouble over ten years; kept getting worse. I tried everything for relief but it came back worse than ever. Last fall I got awfully bad; could only eat light loaf bread and tea. In January I got so bad that what I would eat would sour and boil; my teeth would be like chalk. I suffered terribly. I prayed every day for something to cure me. One day I read about EATONIC and told my wife to get me a box at the drug store as I was going to work at 4 p. m. I took one-third of it and began to feel relief; when it was three-fourths gone, I felt fine and when it was used up I had no pains. Wife got me another box but I have felt the pain but twice. I used five tablets out of the new box and I have no more stomach trouble. Now I write to tell you how thankful I am that I heard of EATONIC. I feel like a new man; I eat what I like, drink plenty of water, and it never hurts me at all.

Publicity and Practice.
"How did you lay the foundation for your colossal fortune?" asked the young man.
"I worked all day and studied all night," replied Mr. Dustin Stax. "I attended church regularly and avoided all bad habits."
"Is this the way you would advise me to proceed?"
"Why—er—I didn't know you wanted the information for your personal use. That's different, of course. I thought it was an interview for a magazine article."

Mount McKinley Sinking.
Mount McKinley, the Oregon mountain, is sinking with the weight of ages. Within the last several years, when the peak shrugged its rocky shoulders in earthquakes, the loftiest mountain in North America has subsided at least 500 feet from its original altitude of 20,400 feet. Such was the assertion of Herschel C. Parker, geologist and mining engineer, who first scaled Mount McKinley in 1912.

Still Useful.
Mrs. A. had just finished cutting her five-year-old daughter's hair and was preparing to throw away the clippings when the youngster asked, "Mother, what are you going to do with the hair you cut off my head?"
"Why, throw it away, of course," answered Mrs. A., a trifle impatiently.
"Why, what made you ask?"
"Oh, I thought maybe you would save it to patch father's with," returned the youngster. "It needs it bad enough."
