

LAST CALL-FAIR WARNING!

Our 20 Per Cent Off Sale

Ends Wednesday, June 30th, at 6 p. m.

Let everyone know that our Great Store Wide 20 per Cent Off Sale will come to an End Wed., June 30th

It was on Wednesday, May 27th, that an announcement was made that stirred this entire section of the state. It was the notice to our friends and customers that 20 per cent would be deducted from all our goods.

It inaugurated a sale so unusual, so broad, so far reaching in its effects as to be almost unbelievable.

It has enabled the people of this section of Nebraska to buy thousand of dollars worth of goods they needed at a saving of thousands of dollars to the people.

It was held for the sole and single purpose of raising money to take care of our financial obligations and to lessen the money burden resting on us. Now that the situation has been met and controlled we are about to go back to our normal business and to our normal profits, always fair and moderate, but which we surrendered in this movement to secure Ready Cash.

The Final Closing of this Sale Ends Wednesday, June 30th, at 6 p. m.

We had intended to close sale today, but on account of bad weather last week it prevented so many from coming, so we are giving them a chance.

You have until the night of the 30th the opportunity of saving 20 per cent to 35 per cent on all our purchases.

It certainly would be a pity if everyone cannot supply their needs at this saving.

Nickajgee Campfire Girls Attend Inter- state Camp at 'Crete

Over 500 girls from Kansas, Iowa, Colorado and Nebraska enjoyed a week's outing at the largest Camp Fire Girls' camp in the United States, located on the Blue river at Crete, Neb., June 12 to 19th. The programs included boating, swimming, classes in nature lore, basketry, dramatics, decoration, first aid and a guardian's training class under the direction of Miss Edith Kempthorne, National Field Secretary.

Much emphasis was placed on teaching the girls to swim and to properly use a row boat. Three competent life guards were on duty all the time to completely safeguard the lives of the girls.

A surprise council meeting was held Wednesday morning. This is an annual event and is one of the big events of the week's outing. At this time the highest rank, that of torch bearer, is awarded. Thursday a track meet was held. An exciting time was had, the competition between the various towns being very keen.

Many mothers visited the camp—a special cabin being provided for their use. Every morning a half hour for community singing was held. Campfire songs, popular songs and patriotic songs were sung.

The annual stunt night was held Friday night. Each cabin prepares a stunt, either musical or dramatic. Many clever and original productions appeared.

Every evening stories were told by Mrs. Bruce, of Lincoln. At the same time, the girls danced in the new pavilion. The dancing was under the supervision of the council which was composed of one girl from each cabin. The council also had charge of the maintenance of order and supervision of sanitary conditions.

Each girl was asked to make the following pledge: "Solemnly in the presence of God, I promise that I will never by look, word or act, dim the eye, weaken the hand or confuse the brain of the boys of today who must be the strength of the nation and of the world tomorrow."

The cabin occupied by the Nickajgee campfire group from North Platte ranked fifth in neatness, orderliness and general appearance among the fifty or more cabins used. Three of our girls won blue ribbon honors in rowing. They were Mary Ellsworth, Florine Stebbins and Fern Swedell. Miss Fern Swedell also won the honor for being the best all around camper in her group. Francis Edwards was elected a member of the general council.

The girls from the Nickajgee group who attended were Florence Gough, Helen Schwaiger, Adelinde Shilling, Lottie Larue, Francis Edwards, Ruth Hogsett, Florine Stebbins, Fern Swedell and Mary Ellsworth. They were accompanied by their guardian, Mrs. M. E. Crosby.

WOMEN AND THEIR WORK ON FARMS OF NEBRASKA.

Lincoln, Neb.—The farm women of Nebraska are not striking for shorter hours. Their summer work day is averaging more than thirteen hours, according to a United States department of agriculture survey of 350 farms in this state. In other words their work day is 61 per cent longer than that of the average city man, to say nothing of the city women.

The department of agriculture made an extensive survey of 350 farms in Nebraska. Women on 350 of these farms reported on the number of hours they average a day. Questions were asked about the number of hours women work, their help, home conveniences, sanitary conditions, labor saving devices, house equipment, etc.

Only 30 per cent of the farm homes have running water, and only 17 per cent are lighted by gas or electricity. Sixty-five per cent of the farm women carry the water used in the house an average of fifty-five feet. Thirty-six per cent have power machinery in some form, yet 28 per cent are still doing the family washing with a board and tub and only 21 per cent have vacuum cleaners.

Mrs. Emma McDonald Saunders, county home demonstration agent, was correct when she declared at a poultry meeting at the university farm recently that women do the most of the raising of poultry. The survey showed that women do 95 per cent of this work. Kerosene stoves are in 77 per cent of the homes surveyed, while the kitchen cabinet is even more popular. Ninety-eight per cent of the farm women still bake their own bread and 97 per cent do the family sewing, and 99 per cent the family washing and ironing, with 28 per cent of them still washing with a board and tub and only 20 per cent ironing with gas or electric irons.

While less than three and a half per cent of Nebraska women work in the fields, 23 per cent of them take care of livestock, and 42 per cent help with the milking, with 97 per cent washing the milk pails and 91 per cent washing the cream separator. Seventy-seven per cent make butter.

The survey shows more automobiles than telephones on Nebraska farms. Eighty-seven per cent own automobiles while only 83 per cent have telephones.

Under the heading "distance" the survey shows the following average miles which Nebraska farm homes are nearest: District school, 1.51; high school, 4.82; church, 3.62; doctor, 6.09; hospital, 13.03; nurse, 12.67; market, 5.95.

Fifteen per cent of the homes have bath tubs.
