A PICTURE THAT IS DIFFERENT.

GET EGGS NOW!

There is only one reliable way to secure eggs from your hens in winter and in summer, and that is to feed for them. A hen cannot lay a single egg more than the nourishment she receives will permit. Therefore, to get eggs now, give your hens Blatchford's Egg Mash, which is composed to the last ounce of wholesome, egg-making materials.

Blatchford's
"Fill-the-Basket" Egg Mash
Contains a greater VARIETY of ingredients than any other mash on the market

When hens are fed Blatchford's Egg Mash they receive in proper form all the materials they require from which to manufacture eggs. It includes meat scrap, fish scrap, milk albumen, blood alfalfa, and over twenty other ingredients. It does make hens lay. You will receive more eggs from it than from any other laying mash on the market. It is therefore the best and least expensive for you to buy. Use it and get eggs—now!

NORTH PLATTE CAMPING GROUND MENTIONED IN TOLEDO BLADE.

Fred Elliott, who is visiting in Toledo, Ohio, sends us the following which appeared in the Editorial Columns of the Toledo Blade of the Oct. 23d issue. The Toledo Blade is one of the great newspapers of this country.

WHERE FRIENDLINESS PAYS.

North Platte, Nebraska, which is on the Lincoln Highway, that heavily traveled transcontinental roadway for motorists which is increasing in popularity each year, has discovered a way to make hospitality pay. For the convenience of automobile tourists the town has established a free camp ground where automobile parties are welcome and where water, baths, fire and cooking facilities can be had for the taking. Motorists find that the rigors of traveling are greatly lightened as a result of this thoughtfulness and are not slow to take advantage of the conveniences offered them. North Platte has become a stopping point for most motor parties and merchants have found the tourist to be profitable customers. The arrangement combines hospitality and business in very agreeable proportions and other communities, too many of which look upon the coming of tourists as a nuisance, would do well to follow North Platte's example.

From the land of LaFayette we have the great story—"If I were King"—and with the leading role taken by William Farnum it gives an evening of entertainment and also insight into one of the greatest historical novels ever written. Don't miss it at the Crystal—Tonight and Tomorrow.

Dr. Morrill, Dentist, office over Wilcox Department Store.

There is no disputing the claim that William Farnum is the greatest romantic actor of stage or screen. No one has ever been able to approach him in acting romance. Discriminating critics give "If I were King" the name of being the greatest historical romance ever written. When Farnum is given the interpretation of the role of Villon in this great romance it is one of the most fitting selections that could have been made. Justin Huntly McCarthy, who wrote the novel, said after witnessing the picture that the interpretation was so well done that he could almost seem to hear the voice of Farnum speaking his lines. It is a picture that no one should miss! Showing at the Crystal Tonight and tomorrow. First Show at 7:15.

HEALTH DRIVES PROVE SUCCESS

Red Cross Centers Are Teaching Public How to Keep in Condition.

Realizing the importance of combating and preventing diseases this winter, the American Red Cross Health centers are centering their efforts on health campaigns in the various states of the central division.

The health center is of even greater service to the well than the sick, for by means of health education it prevents diseases and conducts its health campaigns to meet local needs. A Red Cross health center may be only a room with a volunteer or paid lay worker in charge, yet it can be a most important factor in the prevention of diseases and the promotion of health in the community. The health center work has advanced so rapidly during the last year it now is a part of the civic welfare organization in the majority of towns.

For the coming health campaigns in the states, particular attention is being paid to the small community and to the outlying districts. The influence of the chapter's headquarters is being considerably increased or extended throughout the county by the establishment of small branch health centers in the more remote sections.

Volunteers Aid Work.
In most cases these branch centers are being placed entirely under volunteer management and the exhibits, demonstrations, lectures and the like of the main health service are being repeated at each of the branches.

In reports from many chapters it is found that the health center director is resourceful to the extent that she does not wait until people call individually at the health center for information. She will stimulate constant demand for health information and provoke inquiry. In this way she reaches many who otherwise would be neglected. In still other counties where trained workers are not available at this time, some women have stepped in and organized the work and carried it on until they have received assistance.

The Red Cross health center is governed by business principles, applies business methods, and, in its more simple form, can be established and conducted by lay people.

Uses Business Methods.
It proceeds upon the demonstrated fact that health is a commodity that can be bought and sold like brooms and soap. Therefore, it establishes itself in a store room in the principal business section of the community. It displays its goods in the form of attractive health exhibits in its show windows. It advertises constantly and extensively. And it uses every business and social device to attract customers.

The Red Cross health center is of service to the sick in that it obtains reliable and complete information about existing clinics, hospitals, sanatoria and other institutions for the sick and the defective; about available nurses, both trained and practical; about when to consult a physician and why to shun the quack and his nostrums.

The central division has thirty-three health centers in operation. Many of them also conduct medical clinics, but the one chief, outstanding feature of the American Red Cross health center is its health education service which teaches well people to keep well.

RED CROSS ALWAYS READY IN DISASTER

The Red Cross is always prepared. When disaster hits a community this organization can be depended upon to follow right at its heels with help for the stricken people.

Red Cross relief is always forthcoming—food, clothing, shelter and funds; doctors, nurses and special workers with long experience in handling similar. No matter what the disaster may be—fire, flood, earthquake, explosion, bad wreck or tornado—the Red Cross is always able to cope with the situation.

During the last year there was an average of four disasters a month in the United States. One hundred and fifty communities in twenty-seven states suffered. The largest and most destructive of these were the tidal wave at Corpus Christi, Tex., and tornadoes in Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

In these events of horror, 850 persons were killed, 1,500 were injured, 13,000 were made homeless, about 30,000 families needed help, the property loss was nearly $100,000,000 and almost $1,000,000 in relief funds, not including emergency supplies, was expended.

To the sufferers from all disasters during the year the American Red Cross sent $129,000 worth of supplies, 110 Red Cross nurses and seven special relief trains. To meet the needs of the stricken, the organization set up ten relief stations, operated thirty food canteens and as many emergency hospitals. One hundred and twenty-five Red Cross chapters gave disaster relief service.

If disaster ever strikes this town or county, the citizens can be absolutely sure the Red Cross will be on hand to help them in every way.
