

OUCH! SUCH PAIN!

It Takes You Right in the Back!

SOMETIMES IN THE ARM, HIP OR FOOT

It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking Anuric. This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form.

MORDAMIN, IOWA.—For over one year and a half I was afflicted with what the doctors called neuritis in both arms, shoulders, back of neck and head. I took treatments from most all kinds of doctors also at the Springs, but I found no relief until I commenced taking Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets.

I had not taken them over thirty days until I got relief. I continued taking them for several weeks and am now feeling fine and can do my work without any pain or trouble, although I am 75 years old.—J. A. Yost, Route 2.

Stomach on Strike 20 Years

"Etonic is wonderful," says C. W. Burton. "I had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for 20 years and now I am well." Etonic gets right after the cause of stomach troubles by taking up and carrying out the acidity and gases and of course, when the cause is removed, the sufferer gets well. If you have sourness, belching, indigestion, food repeating or any other stomach trouble, take Etonic tablets after each meal and find relief. Big box costs only a trifle with our druggist's guarantee.

POLAND SAVED BY THE FRENCH

Prompt Aid Said to Have Prevented Triumph of the Bolshevik Armies.

POLES SHORT OF OFFICERS

Russian Army Superior as an Effective Fighting Machine—Polish Officers Admit That the French Saved the Day.

Posen, Poland.—An official of the French military mission in Poland has told the Associated Press correspondent that the Polish army would have been conquered by the Bolshevik armies of Russia if the French had not supported the Poles. This, notwithstanding the fact that the Poles beat back the Russian drive on Warsaw.

The French official based his statement upon his belief that the Russian army was superior to the Polish army as an effective fighting machine, with the exception of the German-trained troops of Posen.

The Frenchman said he believed the Russian organization has been, and still is, underestimated and because of this tendency to belittle the Russian armies the menace to Poland's existence, if not to all western Europe, remains imminent and real.

Russ Army Not Rabble
The official said some Russian units were poorly equipped, but it was not true the army was "a barefoot rabble." He was convinced the majority of the Russian divisions were "well-organized units of good fighting men, much better officered than the Poles."

The Poles had 25,000 officers, but only 5,000 of them ever went to the front, although they were sorely needed there, he said. There was evidence that certain Polish companies had fought without officers, he asserted, and that during the retreat these were without commanders.

An American artillery officer who had spent a year in Russia and had been under fire at the Polish front, told the correspondent he had seen the Poles "plant their artillery in the most ridiculous places, on the exposed sides of hills and right in the open, when they could have readily concealed it and made it effective."

A neutral aviator who had flown over the front several times when "battles" were said to be in progress, said what he saw of the fighting was "two armies keeping about three hours apart, the Poles retreating when the Russians advanced, and the Russians running when the Poles turned and advanced."

He said this "schedule sometimes got disarranged, and that there was a collision between opposing detachments," but he had not witnessed any of these clashes.

A number of Polish officers with whom the correspondent talked said they were forced to admit the French saved the day, but the weakness of their officers was explained by the fact that in former years Poles had not been permitted to hold commissions in the army, either in Russian, German or Austrian Poland, and that the time had been too short to develop a staff of highly trained officers.

Nipponese Is Mental Marvel

Jap Writes With Both Hands, Talks, and Does Other Things at Same Time.

ONLY TWO OTHERS LIKE HIM

He Can Think and Do a Number of Diverse Things Simultaneously—Was Anything but Phenomenon as a Boy.

London.—An amazing person is Tameo Kajiyama, the Japanese mental marvel, who has been appearing at the London Coliseum. Most of us have been taught that no one can do more than one thing at a time. Kajiyama is a striking instance to the contrary, a writer in the continental edition of the London Mail says. He defies all copybook maxims about concentration on the one matter in hand and no more. He can think and do a number of totally diverse things simultaneously. While under a fire of questions he reads a paper and writes backward on a screen with enormous rapidity of the news of the evening. And all the time part of his mind is busy solving arithmetical problems set him by the audience involving the extraction of cube roots of various numbers. He writes with equal facility with either hand or with both hands backward, forward or upside down, different sentences at the same moment that he is talking about something else.

He asks his audience for five names of seven letters. They shout them at him: Ramboda, Portsea, Roberts, Elmore, Maurice. In a flash he writes backward a jumbled mass of characters containing all the 35 letters. These resolve themselves in precise progression into the five names chosen.

I have only known of two cases in any way parallel to it.

Only Two Others Like Him.
One was a Babu station master in India who would send off telegraph messages with his foot while he was taking down another message with his typewriter and at the same time talking about other matters.

The other case was that of the late Rev. Stainton Moses, founder and first president of the London Spiritualist Alliance. I have seen him writing different messages with both hands while he was talking to me. In his case he ascribed the faculty to supernatural agency and believed his hands to be controlled by spirits.

If Kajiyama, whose powers are far in advance of these two, claimed supernatural assistance many people would believe him. He might have been burned at the stake in another age, but now assuredly he would be feted by spiritualists.

But he makes no claims of the kind nor does he think that he possesses any faculties that might not be acquired by anyone else who takes the trouble to cultivate them.

Thirty-six years old, with a quiet, unassuming, almost deprecatory manner, pleasant, dreamy voice and weird eyes, all the mystery of the East is concentrated in his subtle countenance. He speaks slowly, melodiously and softly. You might imagine him a lotus eater and never guess that beneath the calm exterior a quick and agile brain is working at a speed and in a manner that to the ordinary man seems little short of miraculous.

Was No Boy Prodigy.
He is a foot-taller and nonsmoker and is married to an Englishwoman. As a boy, he will tell you, he was anything but a phenomenon. At ten he could not do the simplest sums in arithmetic. He had a stern father, who used to mete out punishment justly and unmercifully.

They have a pretty little method in Japan. It consists of putting little bits of burning flax down the neck. Kajiyama had frequent experiences of this torture and bears the marks on his body. But the strict discipline of his early youth brought out his qualities. Ambition awoke and with it a passion for knowledge and longing to do something a little better than his fellows.

Mental concentration is an exercise much prized in the East, and Kajiyama learned to concentrate. It was a slow process. A little more every day, something fresh every day. Now he can command at will the capacities of his brain, switch off or on the various currents of thought and make each cell of the gray matter perform its desired functions. He is master of his mind.

Kajiyama has a theory that there are all sorts of unexplored possibilities lying dormant in the brain. He does not think he has come to anything like the limit of his capacities. He is always experimenting. He is willing, without charge, to explain his views on mental efficiency and concentration to schools or to educational authorities.

Baby's Clothes Made by Armless Mother

Denver, Colo.—Dainty baby garments, made by a mother who is armless, awaited the daughter who was born to Mrs. J. C. Teagarden here. "Where there's a will there's a way," Mrs. Teagarden said at the hospital. She made all the clothes for the expected baby during the last few weeks. She guided the cloth under the sewing machine needle with her chin, stitched, cut out patterns and threaded the needle with her feet. Mrs. Teagarden was born in 1894 without arms.

IMPROVED ROADS

ENTRANCE ROADS FOR FARMS

Engineers of Bureau of Public Roads Recommend Use of Bituminous Material.

Owners of large farms and rural estates seeking a more satisfactory type of entrance roads have applied to the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture for advice regarding the application of bituminous material on main entrance and much-traveled farm lanes.

The bureau's engineers point out that such applications may be made successfully on any farm road which has already been constructed of stone, gravel, or other similar material and is in a thoroughly compacted and reasonably smooth condition. A coal-tar preparation applied cold, or an asphaltic oil, can be used, and if applied by the farm employees, the cost should not exceed 7 or 8 cents a square yard for materials. The compacted gravel or stone road should be thoroughly cleaned of dust and the bitumen applied with ordinary sprinkling pots from which the perforated nozzle has been removed and the spout carefully flattened into a symmetrical rectangular opening about one-quarter of an inch wide, so that the material may be poured in a broad, flat stream.

If a large amount of work is to be done, a specially designed pouring can may be purchased of dealers in road equipment. Care should be taken to have an even distribution, and the quantity applied should be approximately one-half gallon to a square yard of road surface. After applying the bituminous material, clean gravel or stone chips should be spread evenly over the surface, and, if possible, rolled with a lawn or field roller. Where gravel or chips are not available, clean, coarse sand will serve as covering material. It should be spread in sufficient quantity to prevent the bituminous material from adhering to tires of passing vehicles. Attention is called to the fact that this treatment should not be made where drainage from the stables or barns will flow over it. Where mudholes are likely to form around hitching posts or at stable entrances, if a more durable pavement is desired, a section of concrete slab should be laid.

ROAD DRAG MOST BENEFICIAL

Implement Is Used Wherever Roads Are Built—Ruts Are Removed Quickly by Its Use.

If there is a call for a piece of machinery to economize the growing or handling of crops it seems to be forthcoming sooner or later. But it remained for a farmer to invent one of the simplest as well as the most beneficial of implements from the standpoint of universal comfort brought about by its use. It is used wherever men build roads, and ruts disappear after it has taken a trip over them. Measured in dollars and cents it costs only a trifle, but measured by the service it gives, it is worth millions. We refer to the road drag. Before it was invented the roads were worn down only by travel and it often took weeks to do it. The drag does it in a day.—Successful Farming.

HOW TO MANIPULATE GRADER

Remove Grass or Weeds From Shoulders or Ditches by Cutting Away With Sharp Knife.

If grass or weeds cover the shoulders or ditches remove them by cutting them away from the edge of the road with a good sharp grader blade, cutting just deep enough to remove the crown of the grass and weeds and, if possible, use them at some point on the road to prevent the side banks of fills from washing.

PROFITABLE TO CULL FLOCK

One Farmer Sold 200 Hens Out of 700 and Did Not Decrease Production of Eggs.

Too much of the feed and the time that go to a flock in which even a fourth of the hens are naturally poor layers is wasted. One farmer culled his flock of 700 hens and sold 200 hens to the butcher without decreasing the egg production. He says that the culling saved him $2 a day on feed alone and made the work much easier.
