EDITORIAL.

It is as much of a feat for a high school boy to kick a goal in a football game as it is for a college man in a college game. The distance is the same, the ball weighs the same, the goal posts are arranged the same. We count it a remarkable record when Darrel Henley in Friday's game with Gothenburg was given nine chances to kick goal and accomplished all of them successfully.

Since election day, we are for Harding. The big majority of the American voters have said they are for Harding and we respect the opinion of the majority in matters of government. It may not make any difference to Harding but we are going to stand by him in the work of his administration as long as he shows that he is worthy of being trusted with the charge of affairs. No President ever had a better chance than Warren G. Harding will have on the fourth of next March when he takes his office. He will have a large majority in both houses of Congress and will be able to organize the government to suit himself. He is no longer the candidate of the Republican party but OUR President-Elect.

A Democratic newspaper is one on which the Democratic Party can rely to spread its beliefs and support its candidates. This is true of a Democratic newspaper and the same is true of a Republican newspaper or one of any other party. An independent newspaper is one which sizes up the platforms and candidates of the various parties and selects the party which at that particular time most nearly meets its approval. We claim to be an independent newspaper and as such are bound to no party. We reserve the right to choose our candidates unhampered by party loyalty. The time may come when we will see that one party or the other is always right and then our support will be given to that party. In the recent campaign we said we would support Cox and we gave our reasons. All advertising appearing in the Tribune was paid for at the regular rates. We are sure our support of Cox was not given in an offensive manner. It is time for a larger number of the American people to use their heads in the matter of politics and give others the right to use theirs.

Mr. Davis, who is connected with the North Platte Aircraft Co., writes that he has signed a contract with the Foran Film Company. He has done work with this company before and the work will probably be done here.

Mrs. Vern Brewer left Monday for her home in Hershoy.

SCRAPPLE.

A Column of Nonsense.

The other day when we were going over to Fink's Harness Shop to buy shoe strings for our wife, we met a man who asked us why they call the Goozee Building in which our print shop is located, the Bee Hive. We told him we didn't know and so went over to see Ed Davis about it and ask him. Ed was measuring up some corn flour for a lady who learned to use it during the war and can't get along with out it now. Ed's East End friend was sitting in the chair and being a friendly fellow he began talking to us. We told him what we came over for and he asked us who else had shops in the Goozee building and we said Lee and Carl Simon have their tin shop there and Smith & Sage have their Bowling Alley there and Mrs. Lemon has a Cafe. He said he didn't see any reason for calling it the Bee Hive unless there was so much work done there like is done in a bee hive of real bees. We thought that was pretty good and then he said that it might also be because of the noise. "A beehive has the humming of the bees" said he, "and you have the whirr of the linotype and the presses and the pounding of Simon's tinners and the rolling of Smith & Sage's Bowling Alley and the sipping of soap in Mrs. Lemon's Owl Cafe." We thought that was a good reason and we were ready to go when Ed bowed his lady customer out of the store and came over to where we were. Ed's East End friend told him what we were talking about and we told him how his East End friend had answered our question. Ed smiled a little and then said he thought we were wrong. We asked him to tell us what he thought is the reason people call our building the Bee Hive and he said he wouldn't be surprised if they referred to the number of drones in it. Ed's East End friend looked up at us real quick and then he got up and stepped over between us and when we got up we couldn't get near to Ed for the East End friend was all the time in the way so we came out and slammed the door. And now we know.

IRMA M. HARDIN.

Irma Martha Hardin was born in North Platte, July 19, 1916 and died Sept. 4, 1920 at the age of 14 years, 2 months, 14 days. Irma contracted the flu about two years ago and since that time she has been almost an invalid. About the first of January she was taken to Boulder, Colo., hoping to help her by giving her the mountain air and the care of specialists. She did not improve and when June came she asked to be taken home. She slowly sank until on the night of Sept. 24th her spirit took its flight.

Irma was a faithful member of the Episcopal Sunday School and was loved by all who knew her. She leaves her father and mother, a brother and sister, her grandparents and a special and favorite aunt to mourn her untimely death. She was buried in the North Platte Cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. R. O. Mackintosh, Rector of the Episcopal church here.

Mrs. George Frater returned Saturday from a trip to Keystone.
