There are just three ways and only three, by which you may have eye troubles—accident, disease, defect. Optometry corrects eye troubles that call for glasses and by so doing remedies seventy-five per cent of all eye troubles. Clinton & Son, Opticians.

The middle-aged man of from 35 to 50, without glasses will be the old man without good eyes. Optometry is battering down the old erroneous impression that one should postpone the day of glass wearing just as long as possible. Clinton & Son—Opticians

EQUITY STORE SECURES NEW LOCATION ON SIXTH STREET.

The Equity Store which moved from its original location on North Locust to the room formerly occupied by the Huffman Cigar Store, has signed a lease for the room on East Sixth Street just vacated by the Davis Auto Co. This is known as the Harrington building and was used by John Herrod as a grocery store before he erected his new building. The Equity will move this week and hopes to be ready for business in the new location by the first of next week. It will carry the same lines in the new location that it has carried heretofore but later on if conditions are favorable it may enlarge by adding certain related lines of merchandise. The Equity will certainly have a better opportunity in the larger room and we think OUR Street is a pretty good place to work.

SUPT. SNYDER URGES BETTER BLOODED STOCK.

To The Tribune:
The Experimental Substation has recently sold to Senator J. M. Hackney, Arden Farms, St. Paul, Minn., four young Holstein-Friesian bulls. Two of these sold at $600.00 each. The Arden Farms has one of the finest herds in America. We gladly would have sold these bulls to local dairy men at one-half the price received, but the local men do not seem to appreciate the value of good sires.

At the sale of a dairy farm and herd recently their was given an excellent example of what might have been. This herd had been established for twelve or fifteen years. The cows sold were no better than those which comprised the herd when it was first established. A fine herd of pure bred cows could have been developed with but little more initial cost. They would have returned more profit during the years the dairy was operated and there would have been a sale of real dairy cattle when the business was closed.

There are other dairy herds in the valley where common cows have been milked for years with no plan for improving the quality of the herd. In fact there are only a very few dairy farms where there is an effort being made to develop a herd of good dairy cows. Probably twenty to thirty families in and about North Platte milk from two to twenty cows and sell milk. It would be easy for these people to co-operate in the use of a good sire and develop good milk cows instead of continuing year after year to milk a cow that is no higher a producer than the cows milked in North Platte forty years ago. There should be pure bred herds established over the valley farms where milk is an important source of income. This would mean more profit to the milk producer and would make our locality more attractive to the newcomer. There is nothing to prevent North Platte's becoming a center for dairy cows but lack of enterprise and co-operation on the part of the dairymen.

This is not written as an invitation for some one to dump a load of no-account cows in North Platte. Too many of that kind have been sold here. Good cows can be grown here by the use of good milking bred sires on the present cows or good cows can be brought in. It is folly to stay in the milking business and not develop a good milking herd.
