EDITORIAL

Thank you Mr. Dunphy. We appreciate your work for us.

In this issue we are printing an advertisement for the Coates Lumber & Coal Co. which has an interest in addition to the merits of the advertiser. Mr. Coates offered a prize of $2.50 to the member of the class in Journalism in the local High School, who would write the best advertisement for his business. The papers submitted were without recognition marks and the judges selected first, second and third place. The advertisement run this week is the first prize and was written by Jack Raue. Others will appear later.

The moneyed men of this community who have consistently refused to take an active part in the promotion of the air service will not feel any thrill when they receive their New York mail 36 hours quicker than formerly and when they learn that radiograms are being received daily from all parts of the country by the North Platte Station. Other moneyed men with the co-operation of some poor men have put the thing across to the credit of North Platte.

FREE WANT ADS FOR BAND AND ORCHESTRA INSTRUMENTS.

In the issues of December 3 and 7 The Tribune will print free of charge Wants and For Sales of all kinds of band and orchestra instruments. There are many of these instruments in the homes of North Platte and vicinity which are not being used. At the same time there are a number of people who would like to have these instruments rather than order new ones. Dealers are included in this offer. We will print these announcements in order to promote the cause of instrumental music in North Platte. Send the Wants in at any time and we will look after them.

Why not a Cordova bag for her Xmas? It is what she has always wished for. Dixon, the Jeweler.

CAREY AND LITTEL TO URGE SELECTION OF NORTH PLATTE

The Executive Committee of the Nebraska State Teachers' Association will be urged to name North Platte as one of the places in which the Association will hold its District Sectional Meetings in 1921. Geo. Carey, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Supt. C. L. Littell of the City Schools will appear before the Committee Saturday morning. If the decision should be favorable to North Platte, it is expected that the attendance will be five hundred or more. Harry Dixon will join Messrs Carey and Littell at Lincoln tomorrow.

See our beautiful display of hollow silver ware, a wonderful line for you to select that Xmas gift for mother from Dixon, the Jeweler.

Mrs. R. C. Langford and her mother Mrs. M. E. Watts will leave next week for California. Mrs. Langford has rented a house at Palo Alto and will keep house this winter for Russell and Lester who are attending Leland Stanford University.

Gifts that last, Dixon, the Jeweler. The Royal Neighbors will have a special business meeting tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. Every member is requested to be present. There will be business of importance. Mrs. J. P. Roberts and daughters Beth and Florence left this morning for Lewellyn to visit relatives over the week end.
