Realism of the Movies.

Dorothy was at a moving picture theater with her nurse. There was portrayed on the screen a train rapidly approaching a spot in the foreground where a man sat on the track unaware of the oncoming danger. To the child the situation was a real one, and in excited whispers she entreated her nurse:

"Please have him get off the track! Please have him get off!"

As the train drew nearer the spot where the man sat, the child, unable to restrain the warning which she felt was necessary, rose in her seat and shouted at the top of her voice:

"Man, get off!"

Important to all Women
Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

The Senate Snuffbox.

When Mr. Coolidge, the newly elected vice president, takes his place as presiding officer of the senate, he will find himself confronted with a reminder of a very old custom; for set into the desk that he will occupy is the senate snuff box, so placed that members can conveniently reach it. The snuff that fills it is provided, and always has been, as a part of the legitimate supplies of the senate, like stationery and drinking water; but there are few now who use it—Youth's Companion.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. SWINGING CHURN IS FAVORED Durability of Homemade Device Is Measured in Terms of Half a Lifetime.—Cost Is Small.

Consult your tinsmith, follow the specifications as outlined by Miss L. Dorman, a farmerette of Mississippi, and the results will be a swing churn—a product that is at once new, sanitary, and a labor-saver. It is a homemade device, its durability is measured in terms of half a lifetime, and the cost is negligible.

For a churn of two and one-half gallons capacity, obtain a heavy quality of block tin and shape it in an 18-by-20-inch square. Place it on 2-inch legs, arrange a handle for each end as propellers, and carve a 6-inch opening through the top for pouring the cream.

The covering to the opening fits snugly on the inside, like an old-fashioned bucket lid. A substantial wire handle is soldered at each end of the churn, with a ring in the center. One end of a cord is passed through the ring and the other fastened to another ring, or hook, in a beam overhead.

Ready for operation, the swinging device can be adjusted to any height. A small child can operate the churn, which is shoved back and forth. The sudden impact of the cream against the churn affords the friction for making the butter.—S. R. Winters in Popular Science Monthly.

SUCCESSFUL MILK CAMPAIGN

Dairy Division Co-operating With State Organizations to Promote Consumption of Milk.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture is co-operating in campaigns to promote a greater consumption of milk, and the results so far have been remarkable. Experts of the division co-operate with the extension departments of the state agricultural colleges in organizing the work and securing the aid of local boards of health, boards of education, chambers of commerce, welfare societies, and similar bodies. The work consists of child-feeding demonstrations, lectures, published material, etc. Special work is done in schools, homes and factories.

About 85 campaigns thus far have been conducted in this manner, covering the country from Boston to Seattle. Cities having an aggregate population of over 5,000,000 have had milk campaigns lasting from one to two weeks. Careful reports show that these cities have increased their milk consumption about 10 per cent since the beginning of the campaigns.

FALL FRESHENING IS URGED

Calves Are More Easily Raised and Cows Will Give More Milk—Farmer Has More Time.

The man who had his dairy cows freshen this fall is thanking his lucky stars that most of his work is coming when he has most time to do it and when dairy products bring a higher price. Men who have had experience with both spring and fall fresheners will argue that fall freshening is better because of the two advantages given here and because the calves are more easily raised and the cows in the course of a year will give more milk. Spring freshening has but few advantages despite the fact that it is the rule. The main part of the work comes during the summer, when one is busy in the field and flies annoy both cows and milker. Fall fresheners go dry in July and August, the time of year when milking cows is anything but pleasant.

NATION IN DANGER

Farm Abandonment Has Created Most Serious Situation.

Food Supply Threatened Through the Drift of the Population to the Cities—Now Is Great Opportunity to Take Up Land.

The question, "How is the country to be fed if the population continues to drift to the cities?" is one that should create an agitation that will bring about a remedy that will mean a solution. The census, recently completed, reveals a situation truly alarming, one that has never been known in the United States before. The urban population is now greater than that of the rural districts by about 4,000,000. Cities and towns, each with more than 2,500 inhabitants, contain 54,318,032 persons, or 51.4 per cent of the total population, while the farms and smaller towns together claim only 51,399,739 persons, or 48.6 per cent of the total.

As is pointed out by an influential Chicago daily, "the drift to the cities is thus proved and, reduced to figures, showing a top-heavy condition of the industrial life."

Farming is and must remain the basic industry of the world, and certainly should remain the basic industry of a nation with a continental area like ours. It is small profit to gain the markets of the world with manufactured goods if agriculture has decayed so badly as to furnish an uncertain subsistence for our people, and fluctuating crops are reflected in price changes that upset the economic life of the country. Yet we are within measurable distance of that condition, if the present or recent drift toward the cities continues.

Most writers on this topic take it for granted that young folks go from farms to cities merely to make more money. Doubtless that is something of a motive at all times and was a very strong one in the period immediately after the war, when city industries paid wages totally impossible for farmers to rival.

It is hoped that this drifting has reached its apex. Unless it has, and there still remains a possibility of its continuance, the effect cannot be foretold. The great wave of manufactures for war purposes has ceased, and with it the number of those employed in factories is diminishing by thousands daily. It is therefore hoped that there will again be heard the slogan, "Forward to the Land." If prices to which farm land has reached are prices prohibitive to many, the opportunity is still open elsewhere. There are states possessing large areas of good land that may still be had at prices within the reach of many, and it is doubtless true that in self-preservation it will be necessary to bring these lands under cultivation. The prices are not high, considering their value. Then, too, there are the lands of Western Canada, that hold out an inviting prospect. Reports from there show that the prosperity of the farmers there is not mythical. Farming there is conducted on scientific principles, and the climate is such as appeals. The production amply repays all the expenditure that may be made. The social conditions are of a character that make farm life a pleasure, and tends to keep the young man and young woman from pining for urban life with so many drawbacks. If conditions as above mentioned, showing such a large percentage of population in the cities and towns, continues, they will require food. The opportunity to supply it is by the means suggested. Go forward to the farm, become independent, and become a factor in supplying the world's needs in cattle, sheep, grain and such other commodities as the farm will produce and the resident of the city requires.—Advertisement.

With eyes full of indignation the little boy replied: "Well, papa, you got as much sleep as the pup did."

DO YOU KNOW Colorado Lands

Produce from 12 to 20 tons of Sugar-beets per acre. The price for these beets is fixed and guaranteed by the factories at the beginning of the season, thereby eliminating the control of the speculator, who is largely responsible for the present low price of wheat and corn.
