THE CHURCH MEMBER.

All church members may be divided into two classes—the good and the bad, or the faithful and the unfaithful, or the workers and the shirkers. The first class attend the services of the church with commendable regularity. If you belong to this class, the church needs you. The second class seldom attend, and when they do are hard to please. If you belong to this class, YOU need the church. You may think you can live without the church, but, are you really living? Remember, there is a difference between living and existing.

When you were received into the church whether by confirmation or otherwise, you promised to be faithful in your attendance upon her services. If you are not, you are slack in your duty. Pause a moment and think, "What would my church be if every member were just like me?" Are you satisfied with the picture? If not, get back to your place in the church; renew your vow to your God and Savior.

The Church of the Open Door will welcome all indifferent members who are awake to their indifference. She believes she can help you. That is her mission.

Be sure to come to the Church of the Open Door next Sunday at either eleven or eight o'clock.

The robed choir will sing. There is room for all. You will be benefited thereby. COME.
