FARMERS ARE GIVEN ADVICE BY SPECIALISTS IN AGRICULTURE.

Specialists at the Nebraska College of Agriculture believe the wise farmer will stay by stock raising. There now a surplus of low priced grain and hay and a material decrease in the amount of stock in the country. It is estimated that there were on January 1, 1921, nearly ten million fewer head of stock in the United States than on January 1, 1920. Barring widespread crop failures this year will add materially to the surplus of corn, wheat and other cereals and feeds. Farmers who have livestock to feed may find this a good way to market their grain and hay. By increasing his livestock operations the farmer is able to get along with less expense for hired help and at the same time escape some of the hard work connected with grain farming. Many farmers are planning to increase their meadow and pasture acreages, especially those of alfalfa and sweet clover. Many of them have taken advantage of the low price of pure bred stock and have laid the foundation for fine herds of cattle hogs and sheep. Dairy farming is growing in favor in several Nebraska counties and good cows are being shipped in from other states. Maintaining soil fertility is another reason why some are leaning toward more live stock.

SCOUTS SHOW METTLE IN FACING THE COLD NORTH WIND SATURDAY.

Despite unfavorable weather the North Platte Scouts carried into execution a splendidly planned hike and field day Saturday. The wind and cold severely tried the Scouts, and they came through with the true Yankee spirit.

The hike started with one hundred lusty boys at 7:45 from the Court House grounds. The line of march led to the fair grounds where the field events were held. The results gave Troop One the Efficiency Flag. The score was Troop One 35 points, Troop Three 12 points, Troop Four 8 points, Troop Two 6 points and Troop Five 3 points.

After finishing the field events the Scouts hiked to the State Experimental Farm where exciting games were played until time to return home.
