We are informed that bass fishing will be legal the whole twelve months of the year according to a new law which has been passed by the present legislature but the law does not go into effect until July. So it is unlawful to catch bass before May 1st, but as that is only two days away, we do not think the fishermen will suffer much. Some have been catching bass this week we are informed, they being under the impression that the new law went into effect at once, but they were in error.
