FIRE AT BRADY

Just about the time people were finishing their supper Wednesday evening, a terrific bolt of lightning bashed with thunderous report, and in a few moments the news spread that the post office was on fire. The lightning struck the flag pole of the building, and started a fair sized blaze which looked threatening for a time, but with prompt work and the chemical engine, was soon extinguished with only a small loss.

Miss Virginia Haynes who was in the second story of the building at the time of the flash, received a considerable shock, but soon recovered from the effects.

Following the fire, there was a heavy hail storm, some of the hail being as large as hen's eggs. The hail storm lasted for several minutes and no doubt done considerable damage. A good rain followed.—Brady Vindicator.

WANTON DESTRUCTION

In justice to the home boys and girls we want to make it plain that the hacking and defacement of the support boards of the sleeping porch at LaFayette Park was the work of jack knife artists of the Brady high school seniors who visited the park Friday, May 20th, without supervision. The H. A. S.—E. N. T. and other deep cut character sketches sure made deep scars in the hearts of the girls who have labored and sacrificed that some one thing might stand out as proof that we have learned the law of camp and trail, which is only the law of brotherhood, and the very bulwark of our defense has been the protection given by the manly boys of our own city, especially the boys of the high school.

Out of the grief of this outlawry one big lesson has impressed itself: If we have any "rough necks," don't let them go visiting under the banner of our Educational institution. We will hide our degradation, not advertise it.—Correspondent in Gothenburg Independent.

RAIN AND HAIL

About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a hail storm hit this section of the country and for about twenty minutes hail varying in size from marbles to about the size of hens eggs fell. As a result several of the flat roofs are in bad shape and the business men had some trouble in taking care of the water which came through the ceilings.

Henry Wilkins was hit on the head by a large hail and for a short time he did not know where he was at. He was trying to stop George Shoup's team which started to run away with a load of shelled corn and while floing this is when the hail knocked him out. About thirty or forty of the window lights in the school house were broken and a number of lights in the residences around the city were broken.

It is thought that the crops will not be damaged very much as there was scarcely any wind with the hail.—Sutherland Courier.

SOME HAIL STORM

One of the most severe hail storms in years visited this valley and the northwest country Wednesday afternoon about four o'clock.

On the Birdwood table Wm. Heil thinks the moisture that fell will about offset the damage done by the hail.

In the D. E. Martin neighborhood the hail was larger than hens eggs and injured crops quite badly.

On the "Island" hogs and chickens were reported killed, and severe damage done. It is supposed the storm was about the worst here.

In the O'Fallons neighborhood the beet crop is not reported as being hurt badly, although injured. Small grain, especially oats, will suffer a 75 per cent loss. Wheat did not fare quite so badly except in a few instances, but there will be a 25 to 50 per cent loss.

Wm. Matthewson, who was listing corn near the North river bridge, reports numerous hail stones falling the size of a 5-lb. basket. He had several head of horses under a shed for shelter during the storm and had his hands full. Bill says he never saw anything like it in all his life.

We understand the storm was very bad at Sutherland, where it broke several large windows and the hail

KREMLIN KOLO IMPERIAL ORDER OF MUSCOVITES NORTH PLATTE, NEBRASKA.

W. V. HOAGLAND, Czar.

C. M. YORK, Minister of Records

E. S. DAVIS, Minister of Finance.

Friday, June 17th, will hereafter in red ink its figures in the North Platte calendar. It will mark the institution of the Kremlin Kolo, Imperial Order of Muscovites, Province of Nebraska.

The Imperial Order of Muscovites is to Odd Fellows what the Nobles of Mystic Shrine is to Masonry. It is that branch of the fraternal organization whereon diversion and relaxation from the seriousness and solemnity of the regular Order is permitted. Each state has but one Kremlin organization of the Order. The central organization is known as the Imperial Kremlin. As the Imperial Inspector of the Imperial Kremlin I will institute Kremlin Kolo for the Province of Nebraska at North Platte on June 17th. Nearly two hundred applications have already been received from members of the Odd Fellows throughout the western part of Nebraska. Past Grand Sire Frank C. Goudy, Grand Representative Norman, of Colorado, Grand Marshal Varnum of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, Grand Secretary Jackson of the Grand Lodge of Colorado and Czar Bert Martin of Kremlin Riga, all of Denver, Colorado, with their official sife and drum corps and their live bear will all travel to North Platte on June 17th. We are going to have the biggest time in North Platte for the Odd Fellows that was ever had in the State of Nebraska.

At the stroke of midnight those who have journeyed from the distant Siberia, the Ural Passes above the Timber Line, the ice lock above the shores of Nova Zembla and the Valmal Peninsula to the number of more than two hundred will call it the end of a perfect day and will adjourn to the privacy and comforts of some other place to apply salves and healing ointments to chilblains and other marks testifying to the hardships and rigors of Zeno travel to reach the Kremlin Kolo for festivities.

Through tradition, which is accepted as authentic and since recorded, it is learned that the Order is of Mongolian origin. It is said that after the earth had cooled sufficiently for the crust to bear a man's weight and people began to move about, it was discovered that the cooling process advanced from the poles to the equator, and the northern and southern portions of the globe proved to be more delightful climates.

At the time of which I speak the vicinity of the Gulf of Riga, at the present Soviet of Russia, was a most attractive all-year around climate. To this point came the Mongolians, Mandarins, the Maharajahs of India, the Caliphs of Bagdad and the Pharaohs of Egypt, all to spend the heated term away from their local environment and where cracked ice was less expensive.

Here upon the shores of the Gulf of Riga was the order founded by those worthies from that uttermost parts of then known world. The titles of the officers and dignitaries and the adoption of the bear as mascot indicate the origin. The history of the order dated from Czar Ivan the First, shows that the Czar of all the Russians became the hereditary Chief of the Order, and he was required to furnish bear for all the local Kremloins throughout the world. This arrangement came to an end with the fall of Nicholas Romanoff. With the advent of Bolshevism in Russia the headquarters were removed to America and the entire system has undergone great changes.

While the ancient titles remain, the principles of democracy and good fellowship reign supreme and the whole workings have been Americanized. The charter fees will be $15.00, which will include the fee for each candidate. All Odd Fellows are invited to send their applications to C. M. York, Minister of Records, 900 East Second Street, North Platte, Nebraska, together with the fee of $15.00 and size of your hat.

Imperial Inspector of the Imperial Kremlin, Imperial Order of Muscovites

COUNTY AGENT KELLOGG SAYS TO SELL, COOK OR PEN THE OLD ROOSTERS

In an interview Mr. Geo. H. Kellogg, County Agent said that as the breeding season is at an end on most Lincoln County farms the male birds should be isolated or disposed of. Continuing he said: "Possible for us to estimate the savings in dollars cents to the producers of eggs in Nebraska in the past four or five years. Possibly a million pieces of publicity matter has been distributed setting forth the facts that the egg farmers of the United States can save at least $15,000,000 a year if they will cook, sell or pen their roosters after the hatching season. We are distributing possibly 200,000 pieces of this constructive literature this season.

Mr. Kellogg said that if a copy of this literature does not reach the Tribune readers, he or she should call on any produce dealer or store keeper for one.

HUMAN NATURE STORY.

A North Platte young lady lost her watch and advertised for it. A North Platte woman found the watch, phoned that she had it and would give it up if the reward was large enough. The young lady offered her five dollars but she said the watch was worth more than that to her. She finally said that she would give it up for ten. The matter is now in the hands of the lawyers. Who is in the right?

FOR SALE.
