SUPERINTENDENT W. P. SNYDER WRITES OF VISIT TO KEITH COUNTY RANCHMEN.

On a recent trip through Keith County, Superintendent Snyder visited some large ranches. He writes of them as follows:

"At the Falscher & Kepler ranch were seen some of the finest Hereford cattle in America. One bull was shown for a half interest in which the owners were offered $51,000.00, but refused the offer. At the Sillasen ranch there were seen probably the best equipped cattle feeding yards in the state. The yards are located on a south slope at the foot of the sand hills. Springs furnish streams of water that flow through all the corrals throughout the year, never failing and never freezing. High concrete walls furnish wind breaks and large sheds furnish more complete protection during severe storms. There was said to be more than two acres of corrals paved with concrete. More than 400 glossy coated fat cattle stood at attention when the fifty cars were driven into the outer yard. Jene Sillasen owns all the country there about, has a fine home, and commands a position of respect and influence in the community. Some years ago he worked as a ranch hand, 18 hours a day for $17 a month. Strange that opportunity ceased to knock, about the time "I" was ready to do big things."

FARMERS' ORGANIZATIONS MOVE FORWARD IN GRAIN MARKETING PROGRAM

The Farm Review says:—

The first definite step towards the establishment of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., in Nebraska was taken last Friday at Omaha, when approximately twenty-five men, representing farm organizations and co-operative elevators in Nebraska met with President C. H. Gustafson of the U. S. Grain Growers, and other officials. The meeting was held at the Castle Hotel.

At the first meeting of the several state delegates at Chicago at which the committee of seventeen plan was adopted, and organization work planned throughout the country President Gustafson was also made director in charge of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., in Nebraska. At the Omaha meeting Gustafson outlined plan of the parent organization, also the plan and purpose of the organization in instituting a campaign soon to be undertaken in the state.

It was practically concluded that the first step in the organization work in Nebraska will be the making of contract with the various co-operative elevators throughout the state. This work will be done by approximately twenty men prominent in farm organization work in the state. These men will soon be called into Lincoln where they will go over the proposition thoroughly and familiarize themselves with the general plan so far as co-operative elevators are concerned.

It was not decided how soon the signing up of memberships among the growers will commence. However, growers will not be asked to sign with the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc. until the co-operative elevator in their particular community has first signed, so that the parent organization will be in position to handle the individual growers' grain.

J. N. Norton of the Farm Bureau, W. F. Dale, H. G. Keeney and J. W. Shorthill were selected as an advisory committee for the Nebraska campaign of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc. These men were delegates from Nebraska to the national meeting at Chicago at which the plan of the U. S. Grain Growers, was adopted.

It was decided that the twenty men who will be chosen to call upon the various co-operative elevators throughout the state be selected from the four farmers' organizations in Nebraska, each to select five.

Mrs. Thomas Muchlinski underwent an operation for tonsillitis Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike McFadden are expected Sunday from Paxton to visit at the home of the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Herrod.
