TOOK FINE

John Lee, living in the west end of Arthur county, near Braden, was up before County Judge Dorris Monday on the charge of unlawfully making and handling liquor, pleaded guilty and was fined $500 and trappings which he paid. This is the first victim in the locality to fall into the new stringent prohib law that became effective July 1st.—Arthur Enterprise.

STARTING EARLY

We are not an authority on raising chickens, nor do we pretend to know how old a cockerel should be before he begins to crow, but when Howard Blowers stopped us on the street last Saturday afternoon and asked us the above question and went on to say that they had a young chancier out to their ranch that began crowing at the tender age of six weeks we haz-arded the guess that that bird was starting in some early, and that if he wasn't very careful he was liable to ruin his voice. If there is anyone around our part of the state that has got this record beat we would like to hear from them so we might make note of the fact.—Arnold Independent.

IRRIGANDS

Sunday evening two tourists in a heavily padded Lizzie came into town and drove up to the lake; not being impressed with the luxuries of the East Side they proceeded into LaFayette Park, Lizzie, bed springs, bag and baggage, tore down the fence, smashed the padlock on the cabin door and moved in. Finding a well stocked larder, the gift of the Cozad party to the Camp Fire Girls—fresh eggs, canned fruit, bread and canned dried beef, they put over a Robin Hood stunt that was a headliner for nerve. It required the combined force of a Cozad party of three women and two local women, a new $1 lock and a quart of creosote dip to obliterate the trail left on Monday morning.—Gothenburg Independent.

HOOCHE

Sheriff Klinck of Grant arrested Vernon Johnson and Curtis Smith south of Wallace, at Elsie Monday night on a bootlegging charge and they were lodged in the Perkins county jail. The Winner received a dispatch from Grant today to the effect that the men were given thirty days in the county jail and costs. Johnson was released until after their harvest is over and then goes back to serve the sentence. Johnson's father is on one of the Mrs. O'Brien places, we understand, and Heath is employed or staying at the place. It is stated that a number of folks have been getting "hooch" from them and some have been used pretty rough from the effects. Anyway this is the outcome of the arrest and sentence. Sheriff Klinck phoned to W. S. Wood, deputy here Monday night to make a search for a still and mash but nothing was located.—Wallace Winner.

ROMANTIC

Thus far history has failed to record a more romantic cannibal event in this valley nor has one ever been recorded upon the highest spot in Nebraska, until this wedding which was consummated last Sunday afternoon at precisely 3:30 o'clock on the summit of the majestic mountain just west of Gering known as Scotts Bluff. The young people who chose this unusual setting for their inception of married life were Vernon H. Brown and Miss Lael E. Burkhead, and the minister who officiated was Pastor Youtsy of the local Christian Church. The witnesses, such being necessary to the legality of such events were Mrs. Mable Brown, mother of the groom, Mrs. D. A. Youtsy, wife of the parson, and James E. May, who was there for good measure and because he is always an obliging citizen. The young man has been a draftsman employed in the architectural offices of Pedersen & Baker for some time, and is regarded highly by them and others who know him. The fair bride, whose home has been at Sioux City, Iowa, is not well known here, but is the recipient of equally sincere good wishes. They will reside in Gering.—Gering Courier.

PLATTE RIVER ROUND-UP.

On August 22, 23 and 24 will be staged one of the most spectacular reproductions of pioneer life of fifty years ago. This event will take place in the open country on the old range and Indian country north of Sutherland where nature provided a natural show ground and where the ear marks of the old range days still exist.

A few of the old cowboys, Nate Trengo, John Shick, Ed McGlothlin, Ed Coates, Tag Wilson, Jack Veach, Will Coker, Frank Coker, Jack Palmer Bert Snyder, John Harshfield, Chas. Chessmore, Lee Case, Jas. Guffey, Fred Pierson and others will take part and stand back of the enterprise. This is a guarantee that the Pioneer Days Exhibition will be a place for you to enjoy three days of sports and have an outing in the open country free from dust and where the best water in the country is found.

Chiefs Two Sticks, Running Dog and Two Thunder are expected. There will also be a bevy of Western Cow Girls who will do their part to make the three days exhibition a success.

The first day will consist of sports peculiar to the west in those days such as riding bad horses and steers, roping and branding, wild horse races and a ball game between the Cowboys and a city team.

The second day will see a real reproduction of the old roundup, the trail herd of a thousand cattle, the horse cavy, the bed wagon, cow camp, branding of calves, etc.

The program of the last day will show an emigrant train which will be attacked by Indians who will capture and massacre the men and children and hold the women as captives, they will pillage and burn the wagons and attempt to escape with the women and horses. Rangers and soldiers save the women and put the Indians to route.—Sutherland Courier.

NEW ENGLAND MALE QUARTETTE

QUARTETTE OF BOSTON FAME TO APPEAR ON CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM FIFTH DAY

We all enjoy hearing a fine ensemble of male voices. We have as the fifth day musical company, not only a real singing quartette, but an instrumental quartette as well. The work of this organization lies on a plane of high artistic endeavor. Their singing ranks with the best, while the instrumental and character specialties make a well balanced program. Stirring songs; catchy costumes; worth-while instrumental selections; clever character delineations and comedy talking sketches combined with real quartette music are the prominent features in their two big programs fifth day of chautauqua.

At North Platte Aug. 21 to 25.
