DAIRY HINTS

FACTORS IN PRODUCING MILK

Series of Studies Conducted by Department of Agriculture in Western State.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
What does it cost to produce milk? This is the question that has brought increasing concern to each dairyman. In answer to it, the United States Department of Agriculture, through the dairy division, conducted a series of studies to give dairymen reliable information on this subject. These studies were begun in 1915, but the most recent upon which any data have been published was begun in 1917, in Skagit county, Washington, about 70 miles north of Seattle. The report of this study is contained in Department Bulletin 919, "Unit Requirements for Producing Milk in Western Washington."

A study of the results given in the bulletin shows that at the time of the study 56.4 per cent of the total cost of producing milk at the dairies investigated was for feed and bedding; 23.5 per cent for labor; 17.6 per cent for other costs, and 2.5 per cent for depreciation. The requirements for producing 100 pounds of milk during the winter were: Concentrates, 29.4 pounds; dry roughage, 92.9 pounds; succulent roughage, 143.3 pounds; bedding, nine pounds; human labor, 1.9 hours; horse labor, .01 of an hour; other costs, $0.576. During the summer, milk could be produced at much less cost, there being required a comparatively small amount of concentrates.

During the two years covered by the study, 44.5 per cent of each year's income from milk was obtained during the winter. During the first year records were obtained on 17 herds having an average size of 31.3 cows, with an average annual production of 7,369 pounds of 3.74 per cent milk per cow. During the second year 18 herds, 15 of which had been in the first year's work, had an average of 28.6 cows and produced an average of 8,323 pounds of 3.59 per cent milk per cow. From each 100 cows in the herds during the two years, 55 freshened during the winter six-months period, and 42 during the summer season, while three cows did not calve during the year. Nearly one-half of the cows freshening dropped their calves during the months from February to May, inclusive.

Most of the milk in this section is sold for condensing purposes, and is delivered by motor truck to large condenseries. All the herds selected for study were representative of dairy conditions found in that section.

In western Washington the pasture plays a very important part in milk production, according to the bulletin. With cool weather throughout most of the summer, plenty of moisture, and a rich soil, there is abundant pasture until late in the fall. During the pasture season almost 60 per cent of the milk for the year was produced, and at one-third of the yearly feed, bedding, and pasture cost. The annual pasture charge per cow amounted to 1.1 acres or $23.04. Such items as veterinary fees, medicine, disinfectants, and other items, amounted to $1.45 per cow per year. It was found that the number of hours required to care for a cow did not differ materially between the summer and winter seasons. However, due to the increased flow of milk in summer, the time required to produce 100 pounds of milk in that season was materially less in summer than in winter.

South Carolina Breeder Gives Methods of Raising Calves That Will Develop Well.

Methods of raising good calves that will develop well and show no signs of rindiness are given by a South Carolina live-stock owner in a statement to the United States Department of Agriculture. The farmer advises:
1. Use purebred sires which have behind them an established record—no guesswork.
2. Use purebred milk cows which are bred for production and which have proper points, such as deep udder, well-spaced teats, broad flanks, deep abdomen, etc.
3. Feed only warm milk while calves are young. Gradually begin feeding proper grain after the second month. Do not allow them too much grass. Give plenty of pure water, and never allow exposure to rain or extreme cold wind.

Children Cry For

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

Keep It Pure

You grow by good blood as a tree grows by sap. Rich blood, robust man. Good sap, sturdy tree. Keep the blood healthy and wholesome; poor, impoverished blood cannot nourish the body or remove the waste as nature intended.

When your blood is impure, itching, flaming skin eruptions often break out, and your body gets run down and weak—easy prey for disease. To be safe, keep the circulation wholesome.

For this S.S.S., the famous vegetable blood remedy your druggist keeps, is excellent. Start enriching your blood with S.S.S. today, and write about your condition to Chief Medical Advisor, 838 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

"Roar" of an Ostrich.

CATS CONFINED TO "RANGE"

Chicago Man Reports Success in Novel Plan for Keeping Pets From Straying Far Afield.

Another western idea was adapted to city uses the other day when a south-sider, who once rode the range on the Colorado plateaus, staked out his cats to keep them at home. The plan worked fine and now the feline animals get the air every day at the ends of tether ropes.

The cat owner found that every time he opened the cellar door the pets made a break for the open, frequently staying away for days and returning with blackened eyes and scratched hides. He thought of the tether plan, but the first trial was not a success, as the cats slipped the nooses from their necks. He then evolved a semi-hobble plan and tied the heavy string to one of the cat's hind legs, attaching the other end of the string to a stake driven in the back yard.

This system proved effective and now every day three of the cats take their exercise around their tether stakes.—Chicago Journal.

NOT A PROPER COMPARISON

Ten-Year-Old Quickly Seized on Weak Point in Argument Put Forth by His Daddy.

Writers have long vied in their efforts to describe properly the tooth-someness, as well as the downright stupidity, of the ordinary domestic hen.

Lawrence, age ten, for a number of years has been able to provide the most ample concrete evidence of his due appreciation of the former, but it was only recently that the latter was brought forcibly home to him.

After vainly trying for some time to drive an obstreperous hen from the garden, he called to his father, "I can't get this old hen out!" His father remarked that if General Pershing had given up that easily he never would have driven the Germans out of France.

Lawrence promptly replied: "That was different. The Germans knew what General Pershing was trying to do!"

His death in Boston, at the age of eighty-two, rescued from comparative obscurity the name of Dr. Thomas Benjamin Doolittle, who originated the telephone switchboard and was among the earliest telephone engineers.

Doctor Doolittle possessed a medal from the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia for having originated the process of producing hand-drawn copper wire, and he is credited with having originated the first car fare registering device.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.
Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

Left Him Thinking. In a barber's shop in Landport a man was having his hair cut while a friend waited.

The Friend—You're losing your wool, lad.

The Victim—Yes, I am getting a bit thin on top.

The Friend—Well, they say wool won't grow on wood.

The Victim—That's so; and they also say that wheat won't grow in a busy street.

Whereat the friend was reduced to silence and was seen to be thinking hard.—London Tit-Bits.
