The records of the Better Babies contest at the County Fair were copied for publication in the office of Secretary Souder but between there and our office were misplaced and are being compiled again. We regret that we have not been able to date to give the winners in this class. They will be printed as soon as we can get them.

In our last issue we began the publication of the complete list of prize winners in the 1921 County Fair. We will print this list as we can get the time to prepare them and the space to place them. All will be printed before we stop. The Tribune feels that it is due the exhibitors of Lincoln County that we give as wide publicity to those who cared enough about making the Fair a success to collect, prepare and bring to the Fair, the wonderful exhibit of farm and garden products which we saw there.

Miss Loretta Murphy, our popular librarian at the City Library has been asked to read a paper before the Nebraska Library Association at its annual meeting in Grand Island, October 13-15. EDWARD CONNOR.

Edward Connor was born Nov. 27 1886 at North Platte, Nebr., and died at the same place Sept. 26, 1921 at the age of 32 years, 9 months, and 29 days. He attended Lincoln county schools and at the age of 19 took a place with the Union Pacific as call boy. He was married Oct. 6, 1915 to Miss Minnie Welch of this city. About four years ago he moved to Laramie, Wyoming and later to Prescott, Arizona, in each case hoping the move would benefit his health. But he grew worse and only four days before his death he was brought back to his parents' home where he died. He will be remembered especially by those who grew up in the farming community where he was raised. Edward Connor leaves to mourn him, his wife and five year old son, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Connor, two brothers, John and William and a sister Mrs. Will Powers. All live here in North Platte. The Tribune extends its sympathy to those near ones who will miss him so much.

VIOLET GILFOYL KENNISON

Violet Gilfoyl Kennison was born April 8, 1896 at North Platte, Nebr. and died Sept. 29, 1921 at Long Beach, Calif. She was the only daughter of M. Henry Gilfoyl of this city and spent her girlhood here attending the local schools. She will be remembered as a loving character by her schoolmates and as staunch and true to her friends and associates. She spent several years of her young womanhood in California, attending Carlson Business College at Long Beach part of the time. May 14, 1917 she was married to John M. Kennison, going directly to their ranch near Cheyenne, Oklahoma. During the flu epidemic she contracted the disease twice and her health became so undermined that she could not recover although the best medical care and attention was given her. For some time she and her husband have lived in Long Beach and it was in their home there that she passed away. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, John M. Kennison, her father, M. H. Gilfoyl, her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Arundale and many friends here and in her California home. The editor remembers her as a tall, slender girl with delicate health which kept her from attending school all the time. She was attractive and winsome and we extend our sympathy to those who were closest to her.
