STATE FARM HORTICULTURIST SAYS NOW IS THE TIME TO PLANT BULBS.

Walter Brose, horticulturist at the North Platte Experimental Substation issued a statement to Lincoln County people yesterday in which he tells of fall planting of bulbs for spring blooming. He says:

The planting time for all spring flowering bulbs is in the fall. They can be put in any time from October first till the ground freezes. Some gardeners plant later, but the early planting brings the best results.

The soil should be well loosened and the center of the bed should be higher so as to allow the water to run off. After planting give the bed a good soaking and if it is necessary later, water the bed again. Water again in the spring as soon as bulbs start to grow. For fertilizer give a top dressing of well rotted manure or bone meal. Mostly all of the bulbs like a sunny position, nevertheless if protected from the north they will bloom earlier. Cover the beds before the cold weather sets in with leaves or straw. The bulbs do good for a number of years.

Summer flowering annuals may be put in the Tulip beds. It is not necessary to lift the bulbs every year. The bulbs should be planted from four to six inches deep. The best tool used for this work is the trowel.

Johnnie Getz, the nut comedian with "Listen Irene" is one of the funniest comedians of the day. He appeared last year in "Cheer Up Mable" and became the rage. "Listen Irene" is the vehicle he has chosen for the display of his genius this year and North Platte theatre goers will have an opportunity of forming their own opinions of his ability. Listen Irene is at the Keith next Monday night.

MILO BURKE.

Milo Burke was born in North Platte Nebr., in 1866 and died at Cheyenne, Wyoming, Sept. 20, 1921. He received his education in the public schools of this city and here laid the foundation for his future success. His friends like to tell how, when he was so small that it was impossible for him to mount a horse, he devised a rope ladder with which to climb into the saddle. When he was seventeen years of age he moved to Wyoming where he had lived ever since. He was a brother of Mrs. John Bratt of this city. The remainder of this sketch is taken from the Cheyenne State Leader for Wednesday, Sept. 21:

In 1882 he moved to this state and at the age of 19 was made manager for the Bar X Cattle company. His youthful appearance caused him to be dubbed "The Kid" by which name he was known for many years in what is now Washakie county.

In 1887 he was married to Miss Bessie Tannehill of Kansas City, and the two then began life on their own hook. From the small beginning they made at Tensleep they developed a ranch of 1,300 acres, well improved, brought to a high state of cultivation, and known as one of the beauty spots of Wyoming.

When they started out they had to haul their goods overland from Rawlins and the nearest doctor was at Buffalo, 90 miles away. Isolated from civilization they reared a splendid family and sent each child away to school. Mr. Burke was once elected to the state legislature, but not being in sympathy with the political methods of that day refused to serve. He was a lifelong democrat.

Besides the widow he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Cecil Morris of Lincoln, Nebr., Mrs. Betty Hales of Thermopolis and Miss Mildred of Tensleep, and two sons, Milo, jr. and one, both living at the parental home. Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Morris and Lynn were with him at the end.

The body will be taken home and the funeral held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the church at Tensleep.

NEBRASKA STATE JOURNAL.

You can have the Evening Journal mailed to you anywhere in Nebraska or adjoining states until Jan. 1 for only 75 cents or including the big Sunday Journal for $1.00. It costs more to produce a morning paper, therefore the price for the morning Journal to Jan. 1 is $1, with the Sunday, $1.25. Take your choice. They are both complete twenty-four hour papers and the biggest bargains offered. The Evening is $4.00 a year or $5.00 with Sunday and the Morning is $5.00 a year or $6.00 with Sunday. The Journal is the only morning paper printed in Lincoln and on rural routes is a full day ahead of many other papers with the news.

COATS.

FOR THOSE OF CARE-FREE YEARS

Designed by lovers of children and made by those who instinctively tailor tenderly, our coats for little folk seem to us the last word in juvenile possibilities.

It is a remarkable gathering that we have here, ranging from the sturdily practical for the tomboy school girl to some frankly show-off styles for the idol of the family, and from coats that cost but little to those that cost much. Surely we can match your every need or wish.
