SOUTH LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

Wellfleet now has an oil station, put in by the Standard Oil Co.

We have fine corn this year, on the sandy land in South Lincoln County.

From present indications, one might think Grover Cleveland was president again.

The Farmers' Equity Grain Co. is building a new residence for its manager at Wellfleet.

Mr. Larson, a merchant of Wellfleet is out west looking up a carload of potatoes.

South Lincoln County farmers will pay 4c per bushel and board for corn huskers this fall.

The weather is fine here. Small grain is making a fine start and hay and feed are being taken care of.

We had heard that John Barleycorn was dead but it seems that he came in in time to attend the Maywood Fair last week.

Here is a question which we would like to ask—Which is the cheaper, corn at 20c per bushel which is $6 a ton or coal at $12.50 per ton?

Corn husking will begin early this season as corn is well matured. With good cribs, one could commence cribbing by October 15th and be safe.

A. C. Burton, owner of the Lakeview ranch, two miles northwest of Wellfleet on the Medicine Creek, threshed 175 bushels of fine alfalfa feed last week.

Farmers in this part of the country are only getting 88c for wheat. This should insure cheap pancakes and with sugar around $7 per cwt. we can afford to smear them well with syrup but what about the butter.

On Thursday of last week a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bollish, living near Wellfleet and on the same date an auto turned over on the road four miles north of Wellfleet, causing the death of a man traveling for Arbuckle Coffee Co. Undertaker Carstenson of Curtis took the body in charge, preparing it for shipment.

Mrs. Samuel Bergman left yesterday for her home in Salt Lake City after visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pizer.
