HENRY J. DIENER

Henry J. Diener was born at St. Clair, Pa. July 12, 1863 and died at Lincoln, Nebr. Oct. 18, 1921. The family moved to Otoe Co. Nebr. in 1877 and in 1884 Henry came to Lincoln county where he resided continuously until his death. He was united in marriage to Miss Edith Crow on Sept. 22, 1897 and to this union two children were born: Mrs. F. E. Palmer of Sutherland and Gladys of this city. Mr. Diener farmed south of this city until 13 years ago when they moved to North Platte and since then Mr. Diener has conducted a small dairy at the east end of 12th street. His chief interest outside his work and his family was the Odd Fellow lodge of which he was past grand Chief and chairman of the board of trustees. He also was a member of the Woodman of the World. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Caroline Diener, who is 93 years of age, his wife and two daughters, two sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Lloyd of North Platte and Mrs. Laura Johnson of Pennsylvania and five brothers, L. J. Diener of Mount Grove, Mo., E. A. Diener, G. W. Diener and Fred Diener of this County and W. H. Diener of Lewellen.

Henry Diener, in company with Harry York, George Anderson and E. W. Wright, was making an auto trip to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows which met in Lincoln last week. As they were making the Union Pacific crossing near Raymond, Nebr. the car skidded and according to eye witnesses it turned completely over. Mr. Diener was rushed to Lincoln but died before regaining consciousness. The funeral was held Saturday from the Episcopal church, being conducted by the Odd Fellows, and interment was in North Platte cemetery. The Tribune joins the many friends in extending their heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing relatives over the sudden taking of this good man and citizen.

Science Plans Model Homestead

Nebraska's College of Agriculture has constructed a model farmstead for that state. In the picture model, which is herewith printed by special arrangements with Popular Science Monthly, the various buildings have been laid out, so that the farmer walks around the circle in doing his chores. Many farmers, it is said, think of wasted motion only in relation to their machinery, never in relation to their own movements.

In this plan, the barns and yards are located so that the prevailing wind will carry offensive odors away from the house. All the buildings also are placed so as to act as windbreaks to garden and yards. Nearly all fences serve two purposes. The barn has a central alley to allow the winds to blow through it from south to north. Generally, the plan lightens drudgery and aims to make for pleasant appearance and good views.
