

SURVEY FOR IRRIGATION

LINCOLN COUNTY BEING LEFT OUT OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SURVEY.

United States government engineers are at work east of here making a survey of the Platte valley. They are attempting to map out a feasible plan for irrigating the valley from just east of Lincoln County to Hall County. It is proposed to build reservoirs at favorable places, run irrigation ditches both north and south of the main channel and bring every foot of valley land under such condition that it may be cultivated intensively and become a great garden. The plan has been worked out in other places and its value and practicability has been established. The policy of the government is to lend its experts to local communities for the preliminary survey at the expense of the local communities. When the report has been made and the details are known, the reclamation service and other branches of the government use this information as a basis for deciding what government assistance can be given to the project. The surveyors are making headquarters at Gothenburg and will begin at a point about four miles east of this city. Later on the headquarters will probably be located at other points further east. Engineers Smith and Weiss are in charge of the project. At a meeting held in Lexington a short time ago, it was announced that all cities and towns along the proposed ditch had met their obligations in connection with the preliminary survey and the work has been started. It is now proposed to include Lincoln County in the survey, allowing it to pay the additional cost of the work. No action has been taken yet but it is probable that a meeting will be called in the near future and that the proposition will be endorsed or turned down.

Kenneth Whelan will return to Wyoming tomorrow where he is employed after spending a few days with his parents.

OLD SETTLER FOUND DEAD ON TOP OF BURNING HAYSTACK NEAR CITY.

Edward Rebhausen, for many years a resident of this city, was found dead on the top of a haystack about three miles south of the city, early Sunday morning. The exact cause of his death has not been determined. He has been suffering from a bad knee for some time and has been somewhat irregular in his habits so it was not considered especially unusual by the members of his family when early Sunday morning he arose and later left the house. He went south, across the bridge, and over into the Edis hay meadow. Sunday morning when the workmen went to work at the bridge they discovered the body but it was so badly burned that it could not be identified and was brought to the city. Later the family reported Mr. Rebhausen as missing and a ring on the hand of the body was at once identified as belonging to him. At first it was thought it was murder and such a report spread but this has not been proven.

Edward Rebhausen was well known here having at one time been Chief of Police. He was liked by everyone who knew him and had many friends who will remember him for some good turn he has rendered. Plans for the funeral were not announced before the closing of our forms for the press.

BAYARD AGGREGATION PROVE EASY VICTIMS FOR LOCAL GRIDIRON ELEVEN.

Although Friday was a bad day a large crowd greeted the Bayard football team as they came on the field. The North Platte team won the toss and forced Bayard to kick to them. Locke carried the balance on return about thirty-five yards. The second play after that the ball was given to Locke again and in the down his shoulder was wrenched, compelling him to leave the game. Thus the game was played nearly the full time without Simon, Wilson, McWilliams and Locke in the lineup. The score at the end of the first half was 28 to 0 in favor of North Platte. The final score was 42 to 0. North Platte excelled distinctly. In the work of the line and in the punting of Overman which was wonderful considering the wind. By defeating Bayard, North Platte does away with any contest from western teams and scores another victory in the race for championship.

ABOUT PEOPLE AND THINGS

CURRENT COMMENT ABOUT PEOPLE AND THE THINGS THEY ARE DOING HERE.

Letha Marie Marovich, daughter of E. Ray and Marie Marovich died at the family home near Stapleton on Friday Oct. 21, 1921. She was four months old. The funeral services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Frazier, 521 E. 37th street and burial was in the South Cemetery. The Tribune extends its sympathy to the grieved parents.

Rev. Alfred Gilman sent a message to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Gilman of this city that he and his family arrived in Vancouver, B. C. yesterday and that after visiting in Portland for a day or two they would come to North Platte. They are expected to arrive here about Saturday of this week.

One of the commonest causes of destructive fires is the burning of trash, rubbish and brush near wooden buildings, fences or other property. These fires may be easily controlled but they are often left to burn themselves out and they proceed to burn the owner out. Bonfires should be set only in the open and then they should be watched while burning and extinguished when they are over.

District Court opened yesterday with Judge J. L. Tewell of Sidney on the bench. Some pleadings were entered but last night it was not known just what the program for the week would be. The jurors have been ordered to report this morning and it is expected that jury cases will be called during the next three weeks. Thursday will be Naturalization day. A number of out-of-town lawyers are in the city attending to court affairs.

Last Friday afternoon the people down town were treated to an interesting sight. The authorities had said that all of the pupils in the upper grades and in the two high schools, who would march to the game would be admitted free. The pupils from the ward schools went in a body to the Central school campus where they formed in line behind the High School Cadet band and the football teams and marched down Dewey Street. Those who saw the parade will not soon forget the line which extended blocks and was composed of pupils and teachers. Many of the onlookers were heard to express surprise that there are so many boys and girls in North Platte.

Here is a piece of common sense which was handed to us a few days ago. It is addressed to the public school teachers—"Mother, I do not mind wearing those low-heeled shoes now because teacher said I was sensible", said a little girl to her mother after running all the way home to tell it. If teacher thought it was right it was. If teachers generally realized how much the children think of their opinions, even when they conflict with the parents opinion, they would be more careful of the kind of seed they scatter. Children like to do as other children do and wear the things that other children wear. It is well to have them understand that styles should come primarily from the effects of the people to be comfortable and healthy. If the queen had an unsightly neck she covered it and as her retinue covered their necks too. If the leader has common sense, then all the rest will be sensible too, but if she be a freak, how foolish for everyone to follow that leadership. Then suit the style to the use and teach the children to be sensible first.

Cornelius Crowley left last evening for his home in Province, R. I. He had received $200 by wire from his wife and said he was going back to her. He claimed that he and some other friends had been drinking some corn whiskey and that he did not remember what happened after that but knew that he had some more drink at Chicago. He does not know when he got off the train nor where. He was found over south of Hershey on a sand bar in the South Platte. At the time of his discovery by A. E. Bell and some other hunters, he was strewing dry sand about the sand bar and talking to himself. He was induced to get in the car and brought to town where he was taken to the jail and turned over to Sheriff Salisbury. That was on Friday. By Sunday he could tell about himself and yesterday seemed all right again. He says he had about $720 on him when he started but when found he did not have a cent.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice of Maxwell sang a duet while talks were given by W. R. Maloney, George H. Kellogg, S. M. Souder, Mrs. Abercrombie and others. BUILD THE COURT HOUSE

COMMISSIONERS ARE SAID TO HAVE SIGNED CONTRACTS FOR BUILDING

At its regular meeting yesterday the Board of County Commissioners signed contracts with McMichael Bros., of this city for the erection of the new Lincoln County Court house. The amount of the contract is said to have been about $148,000. Local attorneys agreed with Lincoln attorneys that the contract is legal and binding and that the money is on hand or will be according to the five year tax plan which has been approved by the people of Lincoln County. The building will not be complete under the present contract but will be finished so that it can be used and then if the people want to make additions or changes later on they can provide the funds by whatever legal means they prefer. Commissioner Coker when seen last night said "We have done the best we knew how and we have gone carefully, at all times safeguarding the interests of Lincoln County. The building will be a large structure and will be beautiful inside and out. We will have to ask the people for more money if it is finished and equipped as we would like to see it but that will not be for some time, probably a year."

A FORMER NORTH PLATTE BOY MAKES GOOD IN CLOVIS, CALIFORNIA

We are in receipt of a late copy of the Clovis (Cal.) Tribune in which is an article entitled "Easy Winne." Gordon Laing will be remembered by many North Platte people, he having graduated from the North Platte High School with the class of 1905. Here is the article:

When Gordon Laing goes out for game he stays right on the trail until he brings it down. Recently and examination for deputy horticultural commissioner was held at Sacramento. Gordon decided he was horticultural commissioner timber and cast his hat into the ring. After a three day examination, written and oral, defining and dissecting everything from a blastophaga to a blow fly and from a phylloxera to a tomato worm, with excursions into the realms of all the side lines of modern exterminators of all forms of insect and rodent pests, Gordon emerged with a high percentage, 85 plus. Horticultural commissioners are indigenous to Clovis soil. Fred Rouillard, present H. C. grew up from here from the mud pie making stage to the full blown product, still eagerly on the chase for enemies of the tree and vine.

WE CAN PROVE IT

With a dozen NEW EDISONS

We did prove it—absolutely and conclusively—with a single New Edison. You know we did—from the results of the test made Monday, October 10th at the Lutheran Church, when Harvey Hindermeyer and The Dann Trio compared their art with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

We can prove it again—with any other Official Laboratory Model in our store.

That marvelous exhibition was not the achievement of a special New Edison. It was simply a regular performance for any Official Laboratory Model.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Dodge Brothers have always insisted on giving more value and more service to their car owners.

All Dodge cars have been good, they are known world-wide for their dependability and long life, and these old cars have made this good reputation.

Today with many improvements now added to the car, they will give better and even longer service. Heavier frames, axles and drive shafts, longer springs, larger and deeper upholstered bodies, stronger wheels and big over size tires. Think what these things mean in the service of the newer Dodge Models.

No material is too good or costly to use in this quality medium sized and priced car. For example, all leather used in the Dodge is outside hand buffed leather, used only in cars like Cadillac and Pierce, and in our closed cars, Chase Mohair velvet plush is used, identical with upholstery used in all closed Cadillacs.

For real quality and economy, let your next car be a Dodge.
