EDITORIAL

On Nov. 1st, Treasurer Souder had issued 4,634 auto licenses which is considerably below the number which should have been issued.

Our announcement of the Yeoman meeting at Sutherland last Thursday evening was short of the facts. There were 40 candidates with over 400 Yeomen present. About 150 went from North Platte and all neighboring towns were represented.

Sunday was a beautiful fall day here in Lincoln County. In the afternoon we took a walk and saw dandelions and shepherd's purse in bloom. The rose bushes in Fred Marti's yard were in bloom and we saw a butterfly and heard of a man who saw a grasshopper. Boxelder bugs, wasps, bees flies and ants were reported to be about. It was warm and bright for November. Californians please notice.

One of the causes of fires is poor electric wiring. This is commoner in Iowa than in the country although with the increase in farm lighting plants and transmission lines, the wiring of the farm buildings becomes an increasing problem. The safe way is to call an electrician when the wiring needs attention. Some people attempt to make minor repairs and changes for themselves but there is an increased hazard when this is done. The best way is to call the expert who understands electric wiring and usually he will make it safe.

Only about $10,000 was available this year with which to purchase delinquent tax certificates. We understand the total of delinquent taxes for 1920 was over $140,000. This would leave $130,000 in taxes for 1920 still due the County and unpaid. That explains why the North Platte Board of Education is $68,000 behind in its cash payments. In other words, North Platte schools have spent nearly $70,000 more than they have taken in. The full amount will be paid in in time and meanwhile the warrants of the District are being registered and will draw interest but the delinquent taxes are also drawing interest so it will come out all right in the end for everyone but the unfortunate taxpayer who cannot or does not settle up pretty soon.

Some people have remarked why the Commissioners did not build a jail in the new building and then sell the present jail and lot for residence purposes. This was the idea at first but when the Board made its trip of inspection of the new court houses elsewhere through the state it found that the jail and the heating plant were usually placed apart from the court house. So the architect was consulted and he advised the same plan here. The new building does not include a jail nor does it include a heating plant. It is the plan of the Commissioners now to build an addition to the present jail building and in it put a garage and heating plant. The material in the present Court House will be used as far as possible and the expense thus will be reduced. The plan is a good one. The heating plant will thus be just across the street from the court house and steam can readily be delivered there. The jail will also be heated by the same plant that heats the court house.

FARMERS ARE TO STAND BY THE RAILROAD MEN IN WAGE QUESTION.

The following clipping was handed to us by one of our subscribers, who asked us to print it. It is from the Columbus Telegram and we print it in full:

Editor Telegram:
I have read a lot about how it is that all the farmers are opposed to the railroad strike, and how the farmers want to whip the railroad workers into accepting lower wages, so that freight rates will be reduced. But I want to tell the railroad boys through The Telegram that every farmer who has not been deceived by the propaganda published by the big newspapers is heartily in sympathy with the railroad workmen. I am not much of a writer, but I have been reading the writing of a Buffalo county farmer who knows how to write, and I ask you to print in The Telegram his encouraging words to the railroad boys. He says to the railroad boys:

"Don't think for a moment, boys, the farmers are all against you in this railroad strike. We want lower freight rates, of course, but it is no sign we will get them, even if your wages are cut again, if one may judge by their past conduct."

"They cut your wages 12 per cent July 1, as most people are aware. Has anyone heard of even a 2 per cent cut in railroad freight rates? If four months isn't long enough time to adjust rates, how long do they want? My idea is, just as long as you railroad boys, we farmers and the consumer will stand for it. And you are the only ones organized sufficiently to bring them to time. So stay with it and you will win.—A Buffalo County Farmer."

That is just the way I feel about it just now there is a bond of sympathy between all farmers and all organized laborers, and particularly all railroad laborers. Heretofore the big interests have arrayed the farmers against organized labor, but they can't deceive us any more. Last week in The Telegram one of the Columbus railroad boys appealed to the public for sympathy and support in case the strike shall come. I want that boy, and all other railroad boys to know that they do have the sympathy of all farmers in the Columbus neighborhood who have not been deceived by the big newspapers. Our pocketbooks are pretty flat. We cannot give much money aid, but we have plenty of corn, and will divide our last sack of corn meal with the railroad boys if the railroad officials shall try to starve the men into accepting reduced wages before announcing a real reduction in freight rates.—Platte County Farmer.

That intangible and mysterious thing called OPPORTUNITY, about which so many essays have been written, so many sermons preached and so many poems inspired, is not a stranger that comes and knocks at our door in disguise, not a winged meteor that spreads its flaming stream of light across the heavens when least expected, not an archangel that suddenly awakens us from our sleep to bring good tidings.

OPPORTUNITY is just plain home folks. It's as constant as the shadow that walks with us and is always present in our affairs, regardless of vocation, position or circumstances. Opportunity is not what may come TOMORROW, but what we make out of TODAY.

You may be insurable today, but unable to pass the necessary medical examination tomorrow, do not delay until your opportunity has passed, but secure a Perfect Protection policy with the FIDELITY RESERVE COMPANY today. A HOME Company, writing Life, Health and Accident Insurances of all kinds. Home office, Fourth and Locust Streets, North Platte, Nebraska.
