NORTH AND SOUTH ROAD THROUGH LINCOLN COUNTY WAS SUBJECT OF MEETING

About forty delegates were present at the meeting held at Maywood Tuesday for the purpose of discussing a federal and state aid road running from North Platte to Oberlin, Kans., a distance of somewhat over one hundred miles, and which through time might be part of a high way extending from North Dakota to the Gulf of Mexico. These delegates came from Oberlin, McCook, Maywood, Curtis, Wellfleet, North Platte and other points between this city and McCook.

Every delegate and speaker was enthusiastic over the proposed road, and it was the sense of the meeting that an association be formed. This was done by the election of V. Barbizette of McCook president, A. F. Stone of Oberlin, vice-president and Fred L. Burke of Maywood, secretary and treasurer. An executive committee consisting of ten members was also elected. The Lincoln county members are J. V. Romigh, Fred McClymont and A. L. Larson. It was voted to offer a prize of $25 for the best name for the highway the name to be sent to Fred L. Burke at Maywood. As soon as the name is decided upon the road will be marked.

While in two of the counties funds for construction will not be available until 1923, it is the intention to at once proceed with the preliminary work necessary to secure federal and state aid.

Lincoln county was represented at the meeting by Commissioners Coker and Cohagen, Asst. State Engineer Cochran, and Messrs. Edwards, Romigh, Crawford, Healey Souder, Reynolds, McClymont and Bare.

CAPTAIN BENJAMIN FRANKLIN BAKER

Captain Benjamin Franklin Baker was born in the State of Maine, October 9, 1835, died at North Platte, Nebraska, October 28, 1921, age 86 years and 19 days.

His boyhood days were passed in Maine. When about seventeen he came to Illinois to reside. In April 1856 he was united in marriage with Mary Elizabeth Warnock. To this union four children were born Ilda Elizabeth and Clarence passing in infancy and Nettie May, now Mrs. Frank R. Baker of Maxwell, Neb., and Charles Orville of Philadelphia Pa.

When the civil war broke out he was one of the first to enlist as a private then was made a first lieutenant and when discharged after nearly four years of service was a captain.

For nearly twenty years he was Superintendent of the National Cemeteries, including seven years as Superintendent of Fort McPherson National Cemetery near Maxwell.

Captain Baker had always been a great man for home and his family, and ever ready to help anyone in need. While not a member of any church, his views were with the Presbyterians of which his wife had been a member.

He was always a great friend of the young people and was never happier than when some of them were around, particularly his grandson, Charles Benjamin Baker, to whom home he was going when the accident occurred which cost him his life.

Of the near relatives are the daughter, Mrs. Frank R. Baker, son Charles O. Baker, grandson Charles Benjamin Baker, a great grandson, Rodney Baker, son of Charles Benjamin Baker, a half sister, half brother, nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, October 30, 1921. The service was conducted by the Rev. G. W. Stansbury. From the church the body was escorted to the beautiful Fort McPherson National Cemetery where the deceased had been superintendent for a number of years and the mortal remains borne by loving hands of the younger comrades, who knew him as a comrade and a service friend, to its final resting place. A comrade? Yes, a comrade, although of a war many years past. A comrade with whom the veterans of the world war at numerous times had exchanged stories of experiences and told of the civil and world wars.

On every occasion of the military burial of a veteran of the world war when his services were possible, Captain Baker marched in column with the younger veterans of the late war as the sole representative of the Grand Army of the Republic.

And now when fate demanded, his younger associates gathered to render the last tribute of respect to his memory. The service was in charge of the American Legion and the body was buried with full military honors. The Grand Army of the Republic ritual was substituted for the American Legion ritual.
