ABOUT PEOPLE AND THINGS

CURRENT COMMENT ABOUT PEOPLE AND THE THINGS THEY ARE DOING HERE.

The State Potato Growers' conference will be held at Scotts Bluff on Dec. 7-8-9. This is the largest meeting of its kind in the west. There are a number of Lincoln county potato raisers who could profit very much from the discussions which are promised on the program.

The members of the Lincoln county boys and girls clubs are gathering pictures of the live stock which was used in the club work this year. These pictures will be used in the annual report of the work in this county. Where good pictures are secured, they make a fine showing as the results in this county were very flattering.

Five hundred fifty-seven season tickets were turned in at the Lincoln-North Platte foot ball game Thanksgiving day at the gate. Thirty-seven complimentary tickets were turned in from people out of town that had advertised the game. Eight hundred thirty-five student tickets and 1,329 tickets were sold at the gate making a total of 2,748 paid admissions to the game.

"Fatty Arbuckle is just another illustration of the fact that it is not enough in this world to be able to make money. The difference always between the rich fool and the rich wise man is that the latter knows how to spend his surplus well. The man who tries to spend all his money on himself is headed for destruction. It can't be done in safety. To be wisely rich one must be modest, kindly, cheerful, helpful and thoughtful to others. We seldom read of a rich wise man going to prison because he gave to hospitals, the church, endowed colleges or sent boys to school or made orphan asylums more comfortable. The fault isn't with money, it's with the hoobs who sometimes get hold of it—Arthur Enterprise.

With the track the first of the present week within two miles of Yoder, the announcement is made that rails will be in that young city by the end of the week. And following closely on the heels of that announcement is a statement that the first train will run into Yoder on Christmas eve and that the occasion will be made one for a big celebration there.

General Manager Jeffers, Engineer Huntley and other officials visited the front this week, being driven from Yoder by J. S. Peckham of this city, who has been the official U. P. chauffeur all along. The latter reports station building at No. 6 on the Cherry Creek Spur is well under way. No name has yet been assigned to that station, publicly at least—Gering Courier.

The Aero Mail station reports exceptionally good weather for wireless work. The station is located in the City Park and is making good in the transcontinental string of stations. The mail planes are making regular trips, one plane a day each way. The amount of mail to be carried is much greater than the capacity of the planes and a number of new machines have been ordered which will have a much larger capacity. One of these planes recently made a trial trip over the division carrying almost a thousand pounds of letters. The Omaha-Cheyenne division has made a record as the cheapest of all the divisions in actual operating expense. The cost was 79c a mile for each plane. Adequate appropriations were made by congress to carry the present service through the fiscal year.

The next Lincoln County teachers' examination will be held in the usual places, Saturday, December 3rd. Alleen G. Cochran, County Superintendent

Out of town visitors to the Thanksgiving football game are loud in their praise of the high school band. The N. P. H. S. formed by the band members between halves of the game shows training and much credit is due the leader Chas. Killian.

AN OPEN LETTER.

To G. Urban: You have gone. A few days before you left we heard you were going. There was no farewell reception or party for you. You did not take time to say good-bye. Your affairs were in disorder but your left without taking time to put them to rights. All over the city men and women are marking your name off their books and putting the accounts you contracted, in the loss column. You came to our office and asked us to help you get started in the amusement line. You were a young man and looked like you only needed a chance in order to make good. We trusted you. You got all you could from us and then left without paying us what you owed. We paid the men who sold us the paper. We paid the printers. We spent our own time in talking over the jobs and seeing that they were well and fairly done. You took the fruits of all of our labor and skinned out. You spent all you could get hold of. We needed our pay for this work. The carpenters who remodeled the hall needed their money. The landlady where you stayed needed her money. But you have done worse than beat us out of money. Each of us have a little less faith in our fellowmen. We will be a little less willing to help a young man get a start. We will suspicion the stranger. You have taken away something which you cannot give back and which will react on your fellowmen. Men like you tend to cause humanity to sour. You will hasten the day when brotherhood will be strangled and mankind will revert to the barbaric. Credit and faith in one another are the bulwarks of our present civilization and when these are gone all is gone. But you have not done that. Your act is despised by all upstanding men and women and while the thoughtless will smile and comment on your act as one of cleverness, the thinking will see in it the outcropping of your baser nature. We have scratched your name from our books. We will cease to remember your crime and only hope that you will catch yourself before it is too late for you to make a man of yourself. The Editor.

The Christmas gift with the personal touch. Your photograph. You are not as busy—we are not as busy as we will be in December. Brook's Studio.

Letters to the Editor

November 28, 1921.

Mr. Editor: Will you kindly allow me to call the attention of the public to the eleventh annual convention of the Nebraska State Irrigation convention, which will be held at Bridgeport on the 7th, 8th and 9th of December? Lincoln County is entitled to five delegates; the agriculture society two and each village, city and commercial body one and each canal company one delegate for each one thousand acres under irrigation. Each delegate should have his credential with him.

These conventions in the past have been very interesting and instructive. This is the place to get first hand information on the subject of irrigation. In addition to the papers and discussions you will meet many delegates who have had years of experience in the application of the water and the expense of the same. You will learn what the expense has been per acre under the government projects in western Nebraska and also what the yearly maintenance tax has been.

While in that part of the country visit the county treasurer's office in Scotts Bluff county and learn the amount of delinquent taxes in that county on irrigated land and learn how near your land must be located to the railroad station in order to profitably raise potatoes and sugar beets. W. T. WILCOX.
