DAMAGES

A claim agent of the Union Pacific railroad was in town this week making inquiries about Joe Sullivan bumping into their fine train with his auto a few weeks ago. Mr. Sullivan asked for damages, but as he did not get killed or crippled and has no witnesses, they may now ask Joe to pay for scratching up their varnished cars, that is if they can locate them on the line between Chicago and San Francisco.—Brady Vindicator.

WINTER IS HERE

Friday night the second snow of the season visited this section and while it did not cover the ground to the extent of an inch or so, afforded some moisture, and this is what the farmer is in search of. During the forenoon there were attempts at rain, and there was mist, then some snow as it turned cold. The coal bin is being rested but most everyone would rather see more snow as it is really needed. The very changeable weather has given cause for a number of sick cases in and around town. Throat ailments seem to prevail.—Wallace Winner.

CHEAPER

The board of supervisors of drainage district No. 1, met in executive session at North Platte last Monday. Engineer Kelly's revised report on the cost of constructing the ditch was read and with a few changes was accepted. Definite progressive steps were taken by the board and next week we will have a full detailed report to give our readers. One of the main issues was the estimated amount per acre that was to be assessed against land in the district. While definite figures are not now at hand it will approximate about $20.80 per acre. This is over $10.00 below his original figures, and this lessening is due to reduced costs of material and labor. This figure is close to pre-war estimates.—Hershey Times.

WINTER CONCERTS

The Ogallala band has secured the Princess theater for the first concert of the winter.

The program for this concert will be varied so that there will be interesting numbers for all. The main feature of course will be "music by the band" but there will be a number of noted monologists and a solo by a very popular soprano.

Taken all together it will be a most enjoyable evening.

The director advises those wishing to join the band to make arrangements to start at once. The new class just starting will be closed for entry January 1, and there will be no other chance before next fall. The meeting night for the new class is for Thursday evenings.—Keith County News.

RIGHT-OF-WAY

The question of right-of-way for the new transmission line was the topic at a meeting of the village board Wednesday evening. W. H. Rose, representing the Hennington Engineering company of Omaha, and Bruce Brown, the local telephone man, got together on the cost of moving Mr. Brown's telephone line, and it was finally decided that Mr. Brown be paid $600.00 for moving his line from the Lincoln Highway to the next road north, which Mr. Brown agreed to do. As we understand it, the towns of Brady and Maxwell each pay Mr. Brown $200, and Hennington company pay him the other $200, $600 in all. The Hennington company agreeing to secure the balance of the right-of-way. Building of the transmission line west of North Platte is going on now with three crews. That part of the new line is expected to be finished before January 1.—Brady Vindicator.

SAVES IN SHAVES

The present day tendency is toward low prices. Just how far this should be carried in many kinds of business at the present time is a matter of question. There has been a demand on the part of a few at least we have learned from a conversation with E. C. Knoles of the Paxton barber shop that prices be cut here. The demand has come largely from the once-a-week patrons of the shop. Now let us get down to brass tacks and compute the saves in shaves to the average customer in the course of a year. The once-a-week fellow would save 5 cents a week on his shaves by the nickle cut in the price or the sum of $2.60 per year. The average fellow gets a hair cut about once a month. The cut of 10 cents in price shows a saving of $1.20 per year. Thus it will be seen that the total saving to the average patron of the barber shop would be $3.80 per year—a small item to the individual but a big item to the barber in the course of a year's business.—Paxton Times.

ROBBERY

Wednesday evening at the social headquarters of the Epworth League was held the trial of Glen Pinkston, self-confessed burglar of the Security Sand Bank of Devil's Den. In some manner John Mills was implicated and the two guilty culprits stood trial last night, there being two prosecuting attorneys and the defendants also had two lawyers. Of course you know by this time that this robbery was a fake and the trial was a mock one, but nevertheless it had all the earmarks of a real one. Jurors, lawyers and judge were all on hand, and Rev. Johnson, as lawyer for the defense put the jurors through a regular catechism when challenging their right to act as jurors. L. P. Rose was president of the institution which had been burglarized, and stated when he came down in the morning all the funds had disappeared except a draft which the safe crackers couldn't handle, this was left on the furnace. The defendants were dismissed because the jury couldn't agree. Reports do not tell whether they will be retried, but if they do the chances are strong that standing room will be at a premium in the court room.—Arnold Sentinel.
