EDITORIAL

The Tribune man had the pleasure yesterday of visiting the warehouse and office of the Stacy Mercantile Co., in the Lamb building on North Locust street. We were surprised at the large stock of grocery supplies which we saw there. The stock is placed in departments according to the best means of caring for the goods. Apples and other fruits are placed in a room where there is facilities for heating if the weather becomes severe but no fire is maintained under ordinary circumstances. Another room is maintained at a high temperature which is required for ripening some kinds of fruit. Another room has no fire and here the goods are stored which may freeze without harm. We saw a refrigeration plant for maintaining low temperatures during the summer and a humidor for protecting cigars from the drying effects of this climate. There were immense quantities of apples in boxes and baskets. Everything was clean and neat and showed care on the part of the employees. T. N. Arnold, the general manager of the local plant was emphatic in his commendation of the local merchants, stating that almost all of them were regular customers of the Stacy Co. He said the Stacy Co. does nothing but a wholesale business and is supported by the retailers of the city and the territory which his house covers. It seems to us that the Stacy Co. offers the merchants of this community a great convenience in having a store of fresh goods on hand from which to order for immediate delivery. The other day we went into a local grocery store and asked the price of a case of canned goods of a standard quality. The merchant stepped to the phone and called the wholesale house and we had the price given to us and could have had the goods delivered that day if we had wanted them. That is service and that is the opportunity of the Stacy Co. We enjoyed the visit to the Stacy Co.

Flexible Arch--Like the Foot

Do you know that the arch of your foot is flexible? It is composed of small bones which flex every step you take. Muscles and ligaments hold the bones in place.

Do you realize that the ordinary shoe has a piece of steel concealed in the arch, making the shoe stiff right at the point where your foot must flex? Weak, or fallen arches come when the muscles and ligaments fail to hold the arch bones in their normal position.

You can have strong, healthy feet by wearing Cantilever Shoes. They have a flexible arch like your foot. There is no metal in the shank to stiffen the shoe where it ought to flex.

This flexibility permits your muscles to exercise and the blood to circulate properly. Your feet strengthen. You enjoy walking—and you don't mind standing, for the Cantilever Shank supports the foot restfully.

The toes are not crowded. Your posture is good, for the heels are of proper height to be healthful—and stylish! The comfort of Cantilever Shoes is doubly enjoyable because because they are good looking and fashionable for daytime of semi-dress occasions

We are the exclusive agents for Cantilever Shoes in North Platte.
