IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN—IT'S YOU

If you want to live in the kind of a town Like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip And start on a long, long hike; You'll only find what you left behind For there's nothing that's really new, It's a knock at yourself when you knock your own town, It isn't the town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid Lest somebody else gets ahead, When everyone works and nobody shirks You can raise a town from the dead; And if, while you make your personal stake, Your neighbor can make one, too, Your town will be, what you want to see; It isn't the town—it's you.

—Charles S. Hubbard.

W. T. Wilcox left Wednesday for Omaha to transact business.

Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino in a Scene from the Paramount Picture, "The Sheik," a George Melford Production.

Who Are You? She gasped. "I am The Sheik-Ahmed-Ben-Hassan". She was trapped, powerless, defenseless. It was inevitable. There was no help to be expected, no mercy to be hoped for. "The Sheik" reaches the top notch of motion picture entertainment. To miss it is to miss one of the greatest pictures of all time.
