Doing Sums

Somewhere in your home—if you are enjoying Electric Service—there is an adding machine. Its function is to sum up the total amount of current which you use.

Electrically and mechanically—accurately—it totals the number of watt-hours of Electricity which are consumed to provide you with light, heat and power.

You know this adding machine as the Electric Meter. It is a measuring instrument of precision, yet quite simple and easy to understand.

It will tell you exactly how much current you are using. Read it yourself.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

A very enjoyable birthday surprise was given on January 15 at the home of Carl Broeder, the occasion being the fifty-first birthday of Mrs. Broeder. She was given a great surprise when seventy-one of her neighbors and old friends rushed into her home that Sunday afternoon. She is honored with being called the mother of the neighborhood and was honored by many toasts and good wishes. Mrs. Broeder was entertained in her usual good manner by songs and games which lasted until a later hour. Mrs. Broeder left on a 11:30 train for Alexandria where she will help celebrate the birthday of her father. She will be gone several days. All joined in wishing Mrs. Broeder many happy returns of the day. Those present were Mrs. Watkins and family of five; Mr. Cyphers and family of four; Peter Larson and family of five; R. S. L. Voss and family of five; L. Broeder and family of three; Robert Kunkle and family of four; Mr. Nummacher and family of five; Mr. Porter and family of three; Mr. Zimmermann family of two; Mr. Elliott and family of four; Mr. Broeder and family of seven; Mr. Mooney and family of six; Mr. White and family of three; Mr. McDonald and family of three; Mr. Knotts, Mr. Trackworth, Mr. Hanson and family of five; Mr. Scott and family of four; Mr. Austin and family of two.

ONE WHO WAS THERE

To the Editor:

One question which has been shot at me a number of times is: "Is there any money in rabbits?" A more important question is to ask one's self if he has the qualities which will make him a success at raising rabbits. If the rabbit business was so easy that anyone could succeed, some wise guy would have beaten us to it long ago. Like other things, it takes brains, work, courage, application and resourcefulness. The present demand exhausts all visible means of supply.

If you want to go into the rabbit business select a few of the best foundation stock money can buy. Also purchase a few of the best books on the subject and read them with understanding and judgment. Then subscribe for a couple of magazines and learn as you go. Affiliate with a good selling organization if you can, and the market question is settled.

Before the end of 1922 we want every man and woman in Lincoln county to know what rabbit meat is and that it is the best meat that can be purchased. Let's get together here in Lincoln county and put rabbit raising where it belongs. We will be glad to tell anyone where to get good breeding stock and so get an early start for the 1922 market. We can also line you up with some good books and magazines.

William Woodings, Secretary,
Platte Valley Pet Stock Assn.

The Music, Literature and Art department of the Twentieth Century club met with Mrs. Julius Pizer last Tuesday afternoon. After the business session a very interesting program consisting of music, papers and readings was rendered. At the close of the program, refreshments were served. The meeting was reported to have been very enjoyable to all present.

People are always complaining about the length of time that they work. It is a big item in a lifetime—but not so big as most of us imagine. If "the days of our age are three score years and ten," here is an approximation of the way a man of 70 has spent his life:

Sleep	23 years
Work	19 years
Amusement	9 years
Religious devotion	1 year
Eating	6 years
Traveling	6 years
Illness	4 years
Dressing	2 years

That's where the time goes to. Of course the reader must allow for his or her own situation; a travelling man, for instance, combines a good part of his sleeping, eating and dressing with his traveling.

But we can mention two great economies, open to all. Everyone is better off when the work item is not carried home, in the form of worry, to cheat the sleep item and the amusement item. And nobody denies that regular, light exercise enough work and not too much food will curtail the four years most of us spend sick in bed. That's the place to economize in time!

PERRELL IN SHOW LAND

The Silhouette productions of animals, their antics and characteristics is perfect and amusing, and the laugh is never lacking to the artistic display—he twisted his fingers and on the screen appeared a rabbit.
