EDITORIAL

One thing the farmers of this country did during the past year was to gather and send to the starving peoples of Europe almost a million bushels of gift corn. This saved the lives of thousands of starving people and incidentally extended the market for corn and corn products in the European countries where corn has not been well known before. The American Farm Bureau and other organizations of a kindred nature lead in this matter.

Advices from Lincoln say that one judge of the State Supreme court is to be elected next fall from the Sixth district. This is a new arrangement which was adopted last year. The Tribune would suggest that we have men in Lincoln County who have shown themselves to have the qualifications of a supreme justice and it would suggest that one of these men be selected and put in nomination. We might not be able to elect one of our men in opposition to someone from the eastern part of the state but since all candidates who do not live in the sixth are barred we should have a good chance to elect a man from Lincoln County and we should do it. The candidates file on a non-partisan ballot so that politics is not expected to enter into the election.

Today is the birthday anniversary of Charles Dickens. To the earlier generation the mention of the name is enough to cause pleasant memories. We laughed and cried with Nicholas Nickleby and Pickwick and we sympathized with the heroes in Dombey and Son and Oliver Twist. Bleak House, Old Curiosity Shop and Edwin Drood will be recalled with pleasure. Dickens had a message and he "put it over" with his stories. Dickens is not so popular today as he was twenty or thirty years ago but his fiction is still read by countless multitudes of people who can and

While at the Bignell meeting last night, the editor was reminded of a little schoolhouse down in York county where he taught his first term of school. It was just such a room as the one at Bignell. The equipment was practically the same and in about the same state of repair. But we could not conceive of such a meeting having been held there as we enjoyed Friday night. In our early experience there was no neighborhood harmony, there were factions that were fighting all the time both in court and out, there was slandering of one another and seemed that many families in that district cared for nothing but to stay at home and nurse their baser natures. Things may be changed in that old school, we hope they are but the contrast was strong as we remembered the past and saw the present. How much richer country life is with neighborliness and cooperation.

The editor had the pleasure of attending a meeting of the Bignell Community Club last Friday evening in company with S. M. Souder. We were cordially received and enjoyed every minute of the evening. The Bignell people have always shown a fine spirit and they appear to enjoy having visitors. The program was entirely by local talent and consisted of songs, readings, tableau, violin and piano selections, a debate and a monologue. One part of the program was given by the pupils of the school and another part was given entirely by the men and women who had been married twelve years or more. Two of the ladies led in some songs in which all joined with a will and they made good music. The club is to be congratulated on the community spirit it has developed and the leadership it is training. We hope we get an invitation to attend again and if possible we will be there.

In introducing Miss Bertha Brown to the Rotarians yesterday, Mrs. Edward Dickey said that Miss Brown is here directing a play for the North Platte E. Y. P. A. The play is entitled "Miss Bob White," and is a professional play although given by amateurs. She said the play is being given to help finance the work of the E. Y. P. A. which stands for the Episcopal Young Peoples' Association. This association was the first of its kind organized in the United States although they have been common in Canada. It stands for religious, intellectual and social advancement of young people. Miss Brown in her response said that however worthy the E. Y. P. A. is, it is not asking support of the play for any other reason than that it is a good play, will be well given and worth the money paid for tickets.

A man known as Jack Ellis or "Tennessee Red," a fireman by the name of Campbell and a youth named Glen Weeks, were arrested yesterday and two of them later confessed to taking a part in the robbery of Eldorado and Johnson last Thursday night. All of the booty was recovered but a stick pin which cannot be accounted for. According to the story told police, the hold-up was planned in Campbell's room and he equipped them with disguises. Later he helped dispose of the valuables. All are being held in jail until their hearing. General approval of the local authorities is expressed on account of the prompt apprehension and confession. Later, Ellis and Weeks were taken into court last evening at 5 o'clock and were bound over to the next term of the district court and placed under $2,000 bonds each.

A large crowd attended the production of "The Hoodoo" at the Franklin auditorium last night. The play was given by the Nicafigee Camp Fire with the help of some of the High school boys. The proceeds were divided between the Camp Fire girls and the Junior class. Between the acts, a selected group of players from the High school orchestra rendered several selections. While the auditorium is not fitted for the production of a play, the students made the best of the arrangements and pleased the audience. The play was a comedy and the parts were well taken. Miss Sara Kelly was the director and deserves the credit for its success. Following is the cast of characters: Brighton Early, Russell McMichael; Amy Lee, Florine Stebbins; Billy Jackson, Phillip Temple; Doris Ruffles, Gladys Hinkle; Gwendolyn Perrington Shine, Mary Ellsworth; Mrs. Ima Clinger, Alice Smith; Mrs. Perrington Shine, Helen Schwaiger; Aunt Paradyne, Marie Schwaiger; Solomon Spigott, Harley Bunnell; Hemachus Spigott, Donald Russell; Malachie Meek, Wilbur Swanson; Dodo, Marion Richards; Miss Longnecker, Evelyn Boldt; Dunn, Theodore Payne; Mrs. Spigott, Lucille Goldsmith; Eupesia Spigott, Gertrude Doty; Angelina Clinger, Helena Hoga; Lulu, Clara Orton; Four Little Spigotts, Evelyn, Muriel Schwaiger, John Henry Platt and Harvey Stebbins.

In making out his income tax return for 1921 the average taxpayer will find a considerable saving in comparison with the amount of tax paid on the same income for 1920.

The exemptions provided by the revenue act of 1921 are $1,000 for single persons (the term including widows, widowers, divorcees, and persons separated from husband and wife by mutual agreement), $2,500 for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or more. Under the revenue act of 1918 the personal exemption allowed a married person was $2,000 regardless of the amount of net income. The personal exemption allowed a married person applies also to the head of a family, man or woman who supports in one household one or more relatives by blood, marriage, or adoption.

The exemptions for dependents—a person who receives his chief support from the taxpayer and who is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective—is increased from $200 to $400.

The act requires that a return be filed by every single person whose net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more, and by every person, single or married, whose gross income was $5,000 or more.

The requirement to file a return of gross income of $5,000 or more regardless of net income is a new provision. Net incomes is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, etc., which are fully explained on the forms.

Returns must be filed by married couples whose combined net income for 1921, including that of dependent minor children, equaled or exceeded $2,000, or if the combined gross income equaled or exceeded $5,000.

The period for filing returns is from January 1 to March 15, 1922. Heavy penalties are provided for failure or "willful refusal" to file a return on time.

Forms 1040A for incomes of $5,000 and less and 1040 for incomes in excess of $5,000 may be obtained from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and branch offices. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.
