WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

INTERESTING ITEMS FROM EXCHANGES WHICH REACH OUR DESK.

GOOD
The Paxton Times editor thinks he is real smart with his new electric motor on his Linograph. He also says he is going to put one on the press one of these times. "Nothing like electricity," he says. P. S.—The editor didn't write this item, but electricity sure is fine.—Paxton Times.

A PARTY
Mrs. Raph Coates gave a party Saturday afternoon for the members of her music club. Each member brought a friend and a lovely time was spent at games and music. A delicious lunch of sandwiches, cocoa, ice cream and wafers was served. Out of town guests were Dorothy and Buster Bacon and Amy and Peggy Votaw, all of North Platte.—Maxwell Telegraph.

OTHER MITTEN
Uncle Charley Kilmer dropped into our sanctum Tuesday afternoon and handed us a mitten, saying, "I had two of these, but dropped one in the postoffice the other day and have been unable to find it. If you will make note of it in your valuable sheet, and ask the party to call at this office he can get this one and he will have a good pair of knit mittens." Bring on your mitten.—Arnold Sentinel.

NO BRIDGE
Before leaving for North Platte on the train today, Commissioner Springer informed this writer that the contract for graveling the Lincoln Highway from the east county line to North Platte would be let the last of this month by the state engineer Mr. Springer has recommended local labor to do the work. He also informed us that the Brady bridge across the Platte would not be built until next year, the state not having sufficient funds in that department.—Brady Vindicator.

BROKEN ARM
Mrs. Anna Robinson and son from Keystone started Tuesday by auto for Kansas in response to word that Mrs. Robinson's mother was seriously ill. About ten miles south of Ogalalla on the Grant road, something went wrong with the steering device and the car turned over throwing them out. Mrs. Robinson sustained a broken arm and perhaps internal injuries, while her son was unconscious all day from a slight concussion of the brain. At present writing he appears to have almost recovered.—Keith County News.

WELL WHY NOT
The lack of a Community club was felt in Sutherland again Tuesday evening at the irrigation meeting held in the opera house. A big project is on foot for putting water on the south side and it is going to take the cooperation of the farmers and business men of all the towns along the line to put it over. Mr. Bare, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in North Platte, urged those present at the meeting to organize a Community club at once and cooperate for this and other projects that are sure to follow.
Well, why not?—Sutherland Courier.

Harold Coates spent the week end in Sutherland visiting friends.
A new line of Ladies fancy Combs Clinton & Son.
